CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

C. 9100-94
May 12, 1994.

Employment Contract

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request Your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award an employment contract to Daniel S.J. Wilson, an individual located at 4625 Briarcliff Road, Baltimore, Maryland, 21229. Mr. Wilson will fill the position of Director of the City's Washington Office. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Mr. Wilson will report to the Director of Intergovernmental Relations, coordinate the City's Washington activities, including legislative monitoring, and federal agency outreach, and work with national organizations representing cities to advance city agenda. Mr. Wilson is uniquely qualified to do his work because of his expertise in dealing with major cities and their relationship with the federal government. Mr. Wilson has represented both the governor and the City of New York. He was also in private practice with DSJW Associates, where he worked as a private consultant focusing on transportation, infrastructure and economic development issues.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $15,000 which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be April 15, 1994, to June 20, 1994, at a rate of $39 per hour.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. Also, this contract is being processed late due to delay in the gathering of the necessary forms to complete the contract.

Very truly yours,
Robert J. Ciolek,
Chief Operating Officer.

Labor Relations

C. 1759-94.
February 1, 1994.

Legal Services

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with advertising and to award a contract to John P. Reilly, an attorney located at 8 Havana Street, Roslindale, MA 02131, for providing legal services.

This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B as is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

This contract was initiated by Thomas Snyder during late August, 1993. At that time there were important issues which needed to be addressed. Accordingly, it was necessary for Mr. Reilly's services to commence immediately. Unfortunately and regrettably the appropriate contract documents were not attended to.

Under the terms of the contract Attorney John Reilly will provide legal services for the City of Boston in various labor relations matters, as assigned by the Director of Administrative Services. More specifically, Mr. Reilly shall represent the City in negotiations with two public safety unions. Additionally, he will aid the City in its preparation for binding interest arbitration.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $30,000, at the hourly rate of $100, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be from September 1, 1993, through June 30, 1994.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, the reasonable cost thereof, and the contractor's experience and expertise in the area of labor relations, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Regrettably, this request was submitted late because of inadvertence. I have taken action to prevent this situation from reoccurring.

Very truly yours,
Susan C. Walsh,
Deputy Supervisor.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino addressed a group of Boston Public School teachers as students in grades K-9 returned to classrooms for the Fall semester.

Speaking at the Snowden High School on Newbury Street, the Mayor said, "I appeal to all of you and to every teacher in the Boston Public Schools to carry the excitement and hope that this day represents into your classrooms every day of the school year. I challenge you to set your sights high and challenge your students to set goals. With your help I know that this year can be known as the year we began to restore educational excellence to the

In all, more than 800 employers worked with the City of Boston this summer to place neighborhood youth in constructive positions. These include more than 700 companies which gave Boston teenagers their first 9 to 5 private sector experience in jobs through the Private Industry Council. In addition, more than 125 community-based organizations working with the Boston Youth Cleanup Corps and Action for Boston Community Development gave youth employment in public service agencies.

Numerous private companies and private non-profit organizations also worked hard with the City of Boston this summer to offer expanded recreational and youth development opportunities to City youngsters.

Mayor Menino released the "End of Summer Report 1994" to the media at a news conference at The Curley House in Jamaica Plain. The news conference followed a meeting of the Mayor's Youth Council. The Mayor spoke about the Council to reporters, "This Summer, while many of their peers were enjoying time off from classes, the Youth Council members spent their time researching youth programs and meeting with different public and private agencies in their own neighborhoods. This Fall, each member of the city-wide Youth Council will establish a neighborhood Youth Council in their own areas, and include young people from all over Boston to develop ideas and opportunities for youth oriented programs."

BOSTON MEANS BUSINESS

INTERVIEW WITH BOB SHORTSLEEVE

President of The Jamaica Plain Business And Professional Association

*by Doug Houseman,
Director of the Office of Business Services*

Doug: How long and in what capacity have you been associated with the J.P. Business & Professional Association?

Bob: I have been President of this association for three years and my company, Pleasant Realty has been an active member in the association for about 12 years.

Doug: What is the mission of the organization?

Bob: Our mission is to promote commerce in our business district and to help the individual member businesses prosper.

Doug: What are some of the major concerns that businesses in your area are facing?

Bob: Although we have a unique business area with some great strengths, we also suffer from most of the same problems as every other commercial district in Boston: cleanliness, graffiti, public safety, parking, and especially the area's image.

Doug: In what ways is your organization addressing these issues?

Bob: We recently conducted a survey over 6,000 residents and shoppers here in J.P. to determine who our customers are and what we as individual businesses and as a business area need to do to better market ourselves. Additionally, we are extremely excited to have received the go-ahead on a major streetscape project in the business district to the tune of about $650,000. We have been working with various city agencies to pull together a unique pool of resources to give the area a major facelift. It has been encouraging to work with an administration that supports business — in very real terms.

Doug: What has the City been doing and what would you like to see them do to strengthen the neighborhood business districts?

Bob: The Mayor's Office of Business Services has been a real resource for us. The concept of "Mainstreets" is one we'd like to see really take off — businesses working in partnership with government to improve the local business districts, both in terms of physical appearance and economic growth.

Doug: You are also President of the Boston Chamber of Neighborhood Commerce. What is the role of this organization?

Bob: The BCNC was created to better promote commerce in the neighborhoods and also offer support to neighborhood business groups. The BCNC has the unique role of linking each of Boston's business districts in a collective to address issues common to all urban commercial areas.

Business Highlight: Callahan's Men's Shop

This retail store, located at 730 Centre Street, has been a fixture in Jamaica Plain for the past 75 years. Paul Callahan owns and operates this second generation business, which has been a longtime member of the J.P. Business and Professional Association, and is proud of the contribution he has made to the community of Jamaica Plain. He strongly believes that businesses in Jamaica Plain should become more involved with the youth and the community schools. For his part, Paul has helped to organize youth athletic teams and assisted in raising funds for the mock trial club at English High School when he discovered they had made it to the nationals in Chicago.

PLANS FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN BOSTON

Mayor Forms

Blue Ribbon Commission

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced the formation of the Community Learning Centers Blue Ribbon Commission which will develop a ten-year master plan for building a new educational foundation for the Boston Public Schools in the 21st century. The Mayoral appointed Commission consists of 23 members and includes business leaders, educational specialists, community activists, and parents.

Mayor Menino said, "Too many of our school buildings are in need of renovation, too many of our neighborhoods are without enough schools, and soon, we will be in a situation where we will need more room to accommodate the growing number of students. Therefore, we must begin to plan immediately to build new schools, to phase out several of our existing schools, and to redesign and reconstruct most of our current schools."

The Blue Ribbon Commission is asked to develop a ten-year master plan by April 1995, which will include recommendations on the number and location of new schools to be built, the existing schools to be phased out, the current schools which need redesigning or expansion, a proposal for installing appropriate telecommunications and computer equipment, and the estimated capital cost for all these projects.

Boston Public Schools Superintendent Lois Harrison-Jones stated, "Schools are social institutions as well as academic institutions. In the design of physical facilities, space provisions should be made for the array of programs and services in the modern curriculum. Schools are a vital link to the wider community and should, therefore, be accessible to parents and others. Schools must, therefore, be designed in such a way as to limit access to only the portion of the building required for a particular facility." (Continued on next page)

The Community Learning Centers Blue Ribbon Commission is co-chaired by Joan Wallace-Benjamin, President and Chief Executive Officer of The Urban League, and Joseph Mullaney, Vice-Chairman of the Board of the Gillette Corporation. The Commission consists of 21 other members:

At the news conference, School Committee Chairman Felix Arroyo told reporters, "I am really thrilled that together we are looking at the construction not only of physical buildings, but of the future of Boston. I am pleased that the Menino Administration recognizes school buildings as community learning centers."

STATE REVIEWS MWRA MANAGEMENT PRACTICES; REPORT CONCLUDES "EFFECTIVE OVERALL MANAGEMENT"

KMPG Peat Marwick has completed its management review of the Boston Harbor Project and Deer Island Related Facilities, as well as other areas of MWRA management. The consulting team, comprised of nationally recognized experts, determined that the Authority "has demonstrated effective overall management" and that project management reporting is "thorough and exhaustive."

"Continued public scrutiny of the MWRA is the best way to ensure that the Authority is spending ratepayers' money properly and wisely," said Executive Director Douglas E. MacDonald. "We appreciate the state having commissioned this study to determine how MWRA is performing in terms of cost-effective management, and we hope that Peat Marwick's positive findings will assure ratepayers that their concerns are our concerns."

The report states that, "despite the complexity of wastewater facility construction, the challenge of constructing this [DI] facility on a very small and isolated peninsula, sometimes extreme winter weather conditions, continual reviews of the MWRA by other parties, and the aggressive Court imposed time schedule (milestones), the project is under budget and generally close to schedule." Furthermore, the report states that, "it is the opinion of the team that the project management structure is functioning to achieve cost effective results."

MWRA's budget office recently revised overall cost savings on the project upward from $600 million to $711 million, but the current estimate of KMPG Peat Marwick states that, "actual cost savings due to lower inflation, optimized design and construction efficiencies may s high as $750 million on the project." Peat Marwick compared project costs in construction, engineering and management with those of Seattle and San Diego and found that the Boston Harbor Project "competed favorably with these projects," that "design costs as a percentage of construction costs are favorable and in line with industry standards," and that construction change orders to date are "also well within the industry standards for efficient municipal projects."

The state's report recommends opportunities for up to $300 million in further savings, based on the possible elimination of portions of the planned secondary treatment plant batteries C and D; the elimination of costs associated with a "dechlorination" requirement now placed on the project by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection; a possible reduction in the number ofudge centrifuges (after the completion of studies); and other specific management suggestions.

Regarding the project's schedule, the report states that, "as set by the court ordered Milestones [the schedule] is a very aggressive one. The close proximity of construction contractors on the site, limited staging areas and limited space are true challenges to construction logistics planning."

Regarding other management items, the Peat Marwick team found that in October 1993, the "MWRA Executive Director [Doug Macdonald] reported to the Board of Director steps that were taken to achieve more effective cost control/management." These included, reassessment of vehicles assigned for MWRA employee domicile travel and a reassessment of cellular telephone assignments." Domicile vehicles were reduced by 40 percent over one-year period, and cellular telephones were reduced by 50 percent. Macdonald credited the MWRA Board of Director for setting the tone of the cost-effective management and sound policy development.

He also credited Authority staff for rising to the challenges outlined in the Peat Marwick report, and the MWRA Advisory Board for thorough and aggressive oversight.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

EMERGENCY SHELTER COMMISSION

C. 1717-94

May 1, 1994.

City Farmstands

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to the Greater Boston Food Bank, a non-profit organization which is located at 99 Atkinson Street, Boston, MA 02118. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract the Greater Boston Food Bank will provide services to Boston's neighborhoods by establishing City Farmstands. These farmstands will enable low-income Boston residents to have access to farm-fresh produce.

This summer is a transition where City Farmstands will be converted to Farmers' Markets. The Emergency Shelter Commission is contracting with the Food Bank to help convert existing farmstands into farmers markets so that low-income Boston residents will be able to participate in the federal Farmers' Market Coupon Program after the anticipated federal regulatory changes.

The Emergency Shelter Commission is contracting with the Greater Boston Food Bank to provide the following services during the 1994 Transition Season:

Work to develop three additional urban Farmers' Markets in strategically-located neighborhoods currently served by City Farmstand sites. This will bring to thirteen the total number of urban Farmers' Markets providing access to farm-fresh produce in Boston.

Target locations: Franklin Park (Roxbury/Dorchester), Dudley Square (Roxbury), Charlestown.

Continue to operate a limited number of City Farmstand sites at high-volume locations, while working to develop alternative produce access for 1995 if Farmers' Markets do not prove viable in those areas.

Target Locations: Codman Square (Dorchester), Uphams Corner (Dorchester), South Boston.

Provide technical, assistance to independent, community-based alternatives (i.e., Youth Ventures, Inc. proposed community market) that are being developed for 1994.

Target Locations: Egleston Square (Roxbury).

Link customers from City Farmstands sites slated for closure — generally low-volume sites unlikely to sustain a full-fledged market — to nearby new or existing Farmers' Markets.

Target Locations: South End, Roxbury (Quincy Street).

Work to strengthen the entire network of urban Farmers' Markets in Boston, through better outreach and publicity, and farmer recruitment.

End the City Farmstands program after the 1994 season, leaving in its place an increased number of long-term, self-supporting, Farmers' Markets which will provide access to farm-fresh produce for many of the same people currently served by City Farmstands.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $20,000 which will be used to assist in providing necessary personnel support and equipment for this program. The terms of this contract shall be May 15, 1994, to November 1, 1994.

The Greater Boston Food Bank has the unique ability to provide these services because they have been operating and subsidizing city farmstands for years in Boston's neighborhoods. I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I, therefore, respectfully request that your permission be forthcoming to enter into this contract.

Sincerely,

Kelley A. Cronin,

Executive Director.

C. 1718-94

May 1, 1994.

Food Grants

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to the Greater Boston Food Bank, a non-profit organization which is located at 99 Atkinson Street, Boston, MA 02118. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract the Greater Boston Food Bank, will provide food to the 76 food pantries in Boston. The Greater Boston Food Bank will purchase, in bulk, at a reduced rate, high protein nutritional food which will be dispersed to food pantries in the City of Boston.

For frontline providers of the emergency hunger network, summer usually brings an increase in demand when children are out of school and not receiving school lunches, a decrease in food donations, and this year a severe cut in the federal food program (known as "TEFAP"). Community-based pantries — providing bags of groceries to needy families in their neighborhoods — are most vulnerable to this summertime pressure. The proposed grants will provide real assistance to them in one of their times of greatest need.

The Emergency Shelter Commission will contract with the Food Bank to disburse grants of food totalling no more than $105,000 to 76 Boston food pantries who are members of the GBFB. These food pantries are located throughout the neighborhoods of Boston including, Allston, Brighton, Charlestown, Dorchester, East Boston, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Mattapan, Roslindale, Roxbury, South Boston, and the South End. The grants will range in amount from $250-$2,000 based on the amount of meals the pantry serves to Boston residents. The following is a list of the food pantries and the amount allocated to each pantry:

The Greater Boston Food Bank will purchase the food in bulk and then credit each food pantry in Boston with an amount in proportion to their capacity. For example, a food pantry which provides 50 meals to Boston residents a month will be credited with no less than $250 worth of food but no more than $750 worth of food. A larger food pantry which provides 300 meals a month to Boston residents will be credited with no less than $1,000 worth of food but no more than $2,000 worth of food.

Payments by the City to the Greater Boston Food Bank under this contract shall not exceed $105,000 of which amount the Greater Boston Food Bank shall be entitled to retain in return for its services to the various pantries a certain percentage of the cost of the food, not to exceed 13 percent. The Greater Boston Food Bank shall submit documentation of grants disbursed in a form approved by the Auditor.

The term of this contract shall be May 15, 1994, to October 1, 1994.

The Greater Boston Food Bank has the unique ability to purchase mass quantities of food at a reduced rate and because the food pantries in Boston are members and purchase their food through the Food Bank, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I, therefore, respectfully request that your permission be forthcoming to enter into this contract.

Sincerely,

Kelley A. Cronin,
Executive Director.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

C. 1709-95

March 20, 1994.

Emergency Repairs

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request Your Honor's permission to award an emergency contract pursuant to G.L. c. 30B, s. 8 to Greenwood Fire Apparatus, Inc., 330 John Dietsch Boulevard, North Attleboro, MA 02760, for emergency repairs to Ladder Company Four.

On January 8, 1994, at 2253 hours at Incident No. 989, Ladder Company Four was at a building fire located at the rear of 23 Bradston Street. While raising aerial to the roof through heavy smoke, the tip of the aerial struck the penthouse causing the fly ladder to bend. The damage to the aerial fly ladder makes the ladder truck unsafe. Because the ladder is a vital in-service piece of apparatus, emergency repairs for Ladder Company Four were essential.

Greenwood Fire Apparatus, Inc., is the supplier for Emergency One parts and was certified to perform the repairs. We allowed Greenwood Fire Apparatus, Inc. to perform the work without solicitation bids from other vendors because if another vendor were to perform the work, that company would have had to purchase parts from Greenwood Fire Apparatus, Inc., thus increasing the cost of repairs to the ladder truck. Greenwood Fire Apparatus, Inc., supplied parts, repaired aerial fly section and performed the certified ladder test for Ladder Four. Greenwood's bid to perform the work was $13,525.24.

Whereas Greenwood Fire Apparatus, Inc. is the supplier in this area for the parts needed to perform this work, and the cost of $13,525.24 is a reasonable price in our opinion, I am requesting your Honor's approval to award this contract in the amount of $13,525.24. The term of this contract was from the period of January 8, 1994, through March 31, 1994. This contract is being submitted late due to administrative delay.

Respectfully,

Martin E. Pierce, Jr.,
Fire Commissioner.

“LIFE SAFETY WORKS” PROGRAM AT HYDE PARK HIGH

One of the goals of the Community Fire Safety Education Office is to educate members of each community in the Boston area on life safety.

An outreach program developed by the Community Fire Safety Education Office with help from the Boston Fire Department, Boston Health and Hospitals, and fire safety educators took place at Hyde Park High School from May second through May thirteenth, 1994.

The program “Life Safety Works” was used as a model through the ROTC program. It was a two-week program geared to educate and involve teenagers for their own safety and the safety of others.

Instructors Karen Miller, Dave Thompson, Paul Covington, Richard Ryan, Rosemarie Clinton and Elaine Mesiti presented the curriculum “Life Safety Works” which included an introduction to the background of fire fighting equipment, the “Plan To Get Out Alive” video, Smoke Detector and Fire Extinguisher Awareness, having an Escape Plan, using Emergency Pull Boxes, Stop, Drop and Roll, Match and Lighter Safety and Smoking and Kitchen Safety with a Kitchen demonstration.

Upon completion of the program, students received a certificate from the Commissioner of the Boston Fire Department Martin E. Pierce, Jr.

MAYOR MENINO BROKERS AGREEMENT BETWEEN ALLSTON-BRIGHTON COMMUNITY AND BOSTON COLLEGE

Mayor Thomas M. Menino met with Allston-Brighton community leaders and activists at the Veronica Smith Senior Center in Brighton to reveal the final details of a community benefits package which the Mayor has helped to broker between Boston College and the Allston-Brighton community in response to B.C.’s expansion of its Alumni Stadium. The resolution of this benefits package marks the culmination of months of meetings between Allston-Brighton activists, B.C. officials, the Mayor and City officials.

Mayor Menino said, “A lot of people worked long and hard to iron out this package. They should be commended for their efforts. Members of the Allston-Brighton community showed real dedication to their community and commitment to their neighbors. I think this package can serve as a guide for future dealings between institutions and our neighborhoods.”

The Community Benefit Package has a variety of components:

- B.C. will contribute $75,000 annually through 2001 (the final year of the Master Plan) to the Allston-Brighton Community Fund, for a total contribution of $600,000. The Fund will be used for community programs.
- B.C. will open and staff a Neighborhood Resource Center within the Allston-Brighton community by the end of 1994 to provide residents with educational programs and to assist them in addressing community needs.
- B.C. will establish scholarships for Allston-Brighton residents. They will maintain annually through 2001 five full tuition scholarships and ten evening school scholarships. Any unfilled scholarships will be rolled over to the following year.
- B.C. will establish a Transportation Mitigation Fund with the City’s Transportation Department and allot $250,000 to cover stadium transportation mitigation measures.
- B.C. this fall will provide a 10-ton air conditioning system to air condition the Veronica Smith Senior Center’s first floor. The Center is a popular gathering place for elderly residents of Allston-Brighton
- B.C. will “adopt” the McKinney Park Playground and will be responsible for maintaining the park through 2001.
- B.C. will “adopt” Cleveland Circle and take responsibility for landscaping improvements over the next four years.

MWRA REPORT DOCUMENTS SIGNS OF
NATURAL RESOURCES
INDICATE PROGRESS IN RESTORATION PROCESS

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority released its fourth annual State-of-the-Harbor report, which documents measurable changes in the environmental health of Boston Harbor and Massachusetts Bay and what future improvements in water quality can be expected as MWRA's Boston Harbor Project progresses. The report shows that in 1993 definite signs of recovery were observed in all three components of the harbor ecosystem: the water, the sediments, and the plants and animals. The monitoring focuses on the natural resources of the harbor which are key indicators of environmental change.

The improvements were most obvious where they affect the way in which the harbor is used: for recreation, for harvesting of food, and for its natural aesthetic values. In particular, the report shows that the harbor and the bay are allowing for greater recreational activities and larger herring runs to occur than five years ago. In the past five years sewer overflows into the harbor have been cut by two-thirds, the discharge of sludge and scum had ended, and the amount of sewage-borne litter found in the water has decreased.

The following are indicators of an improving harbor ecosystem:

- The number of beach closings has dropped from 60 in 1989 to 19 in 1993, due to reduced bacterial contamination.
- Commercial and recreational fishing occurs throughout the harbor, including a lobster fishery valued at over $10.6 million per year and accounting for more than a third of all lobster trapped in the state.
- Boston Harbor supports one of the state's largest herring runs, more than 200,000 fish annually and more than double the numbers estimated in 1970s.
- Each spring and fall, porpoises are now returning to the Mystic/Charles Rivers in the inner harbor.

- Toxic contamination of fish and shellfish has been greatly reduced compared to the late 1980s.
- Increased biological diversity of species point to the first stages of sediment recovery.
- The incidence of disease in winter flounder has continued to decline.

New facilities being built to effectively treat the region's wastewater are helping to bring an end to the daily discharge of untreated or poorly treated sewage into the harbor, thus giving the harbor an opportunity to begin to cleanse and restore itself.

In addition to low bacteria levels in the harbor, the amount of lead, copper and zinc dumped into the harbor from industrial and household sources has dropped by 61 percent from 1988 to 1993. Increased surveillance of industries that discharge toxic materials to the sewers, pre-treatment programs, and greater public awareness to the danger of dumping potentially hazardous materials, such as pesticides and used motor oil, down the drain have resulted in greatly decreased levels of toxins entering the regional sewer system and ultimately Boston Harbor, according to the report.

"The harbor is getting better," said MWRA Executive Director Douglas MacDonald. "It looks and smells cleaner, and in some areas, water clarity has improved by nearly two feet of visibility. It really is time to start capturing the benefits.

"Boston Harbor is moving farther and farther away from being the most polluted harbor in America. By any measure, the condition of the harbor is improving steadily and is as good or better than many other urban harbors," said MacDonald. "The mission of the MWRA project is simple, but its implications for the environment are enormous. By building a new wastewater treatment plant, we will ultimately allow the harbor and Mass. Bay to recover from the assault of badly treated sewage discharges. In doing so we allow the ecosystem to restore its natural balance."

Recent improvements reflect continuing efforts to upgrade the existing sewage system. However, the scale of treatment improvements to date is modest and can only provide limited environmental benefits. The new secondary treatment facilities will improve pollutant removal and must be completed. Also, the project must complete a new effluent outfall tunnel for greater dilution offshore in Massachusetts Bay.

Boston Mayor Thomas Menino has recently earmarked $500,000 to help spark a massive rehabilitation of the harbor beaches, and the state's new Capital Outlay budget includes $30 million to implement the recommendation of the Beaches Commission. But, there's no need to wait to enjoy the improvements already made.

More than 120 swimmers took to the waters of Boston Harbor during Saturday's, August 6th, one-mile harbor swim sponsored by Jantzen Inc., to benefit Save the Harbor/Save the Bay, a grassroots environmental group.

"However, it's not only the beaches that are making a comeback. The harbor's marine life are also showing definite signs of improvement," added MacDonald. "Winter flounder, long-troubled by sewage related pollution, are getting healthier. Other creatures only rarely seen in Boston Harbor, such as porpoises and harbor seals, are now frequently sighted and on the water, and

FIRST ANNUAL LOUIS D. BROWN AWARDS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced the award recipients for the First Annual Louis D. Brown Essay, Music and Poster Contest.

In the contests, teenagers were asked to help promote peace and safety through their work. Sponsored by the Boston Public Schools High School Level Office, the Boston Police Department, Tower Records/Video, Quest (Quincy Jones music label), and the Louis D. Brown Social Development Corporation, the contest was to integrate the theme "We Can Stop The Violence."

Mayor Menino said, "The contest was valuable in several ways, it not only encouraged young people to compose positive messages, which would inspire their peers, it showcased the work of the teenagers, showing the public that there are many young people who spend their time on constructive activities."

First prize bands in the rap competition, Joe Speed, Young Blood, Jackie Meadows, will have their music recorded on a cassette, courtesy of Tower Records/Video, and Quest, and the cassette will be sold in Tower Records, and Jordan Marsh Boston. The first prize winner of the poster contest, Ramsay Cadet, will have his work displayed on the cover on the anti-violence cassette and distributed citywide as a poster. Second and third prize winners in each of these contests will receive U.S. Savings Bonds. The winners of The Louis D. Brown Essay Contest are: Keri Bryant, Peni Doiley, and Ramses Smith. Each will receive U.S. Savings Bonds in amounts ranging from $100 to $500.

The contest is named in memory of Louis D. Brown, a tenth-grade student, who was shot and killed while on the way to a Teens Against Gang Violence meeting last year. The Louis D. Brown contest is one phase of the Boston Management Consortium's Street Smarts Initiative, a collaborative violence prevention campaign conducted by a partnership of city agencies, businesses, and community groups.

"CHANGE YOUR CLOCK, CHANGE YOUR BATTERY"

As the fall time change approaches, the Boston Fire Department wants to remind residents to make another change that could save their lives — changing the batteries in their smoke detectors.

Although smoke detectors are in 88 percent of American homes, non-working smoke detectors are so common that they are robbing residents of the protective benefits these critical home fire safety devices were designed to provide.

The most commonly cited cause of non-working smoke detectors are worn or missing batteries. Nationally, inoperable smoke detectors contribute to many of the estimated 3,000 deaths and 50,000 to 100,000 injuries caused each year by home fires.

Changing smoke detector batteries once a year is one of the simplest, most effective ways to reduce these tragic deaths and injuries. In fact, a working smoke detector cuts the risk of dying in a home fire by nearly half.

To save lives and prevent needless injuries in Boston, the Boston Fire Department urges all Americans to adopt a simple, lifesaving habit: changing smoke detector batteries when they change their clocks back from daylight saving time each fall.

"A working smoke detector provides an early warning and critical extra seconds to escape, which is especially important during nighttime fires," said Fire Commissioner Martin Pierce. "Many people mistakenly believe they will be awakened by the smell of smoke. In reality, smoke disorients people and contributes to more fire deaths than actual burns."

In addition to changing smoke detector batteries, Fire Commissioner Pierce recommends residents test the smoke detector itself by pushing the test button, and planning "two ways out" and practicing those escape routes with the entire family.

For more information about fire safety and prevention, contact the Boston Fire Department at 343-3397 or 343-2228.

BOSTON MEANS BUSINESS

HYDE SQUARE MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

by Jose Vincenty, President

The Hyde Square Merchants Association is currently hard at work addressing issues of public safety as they affect the whole community. This association was instrumental in preventing the opening of a liquor store near the Henigan Elementary School. The association is also working with its members to solve a variety of individual business needs. Jamaica Plain's Hyde Square area has seen great changes in the last two years with the opening of Bella Luna and El Cafetal, the expansion of the Black Crow Cafe, and the continued success of Tacos El Charro. These very unique restaurants add to the diversity of the business district. These small businesses have contributed to the improvement of the community and the strengthening of the Hyde Square Merchants Association.

Business Highlight: Restaurants

Bella Luna is located at 405 Centre Street and specializes in gourmet pizza; El Cafetal is located at 381 Centre Street and serves Latin American grilled foods; Black Crow Cafe is located at 2 Perkins Street — their menu changes daily, but generally includes selections of pasta, vegetables, fish, and salads; Tacos El Charro is located at 349 Centre Street and serves a variety of Mexican dishes.

BOSTON RECEIVES COMMUNITY POLICING MONEY

Mayor Thomas M. Menino stood with other mayors, police chiefs, Governor William Weld and Lt. Governor Cellucci at a statehouse news conference and accepted nearly two million dollars in community policing grant money for the City of Boston.

The Mayor said in a speech, "With this money, Boston can expand its neighborhood policing initiative, and continue to combine the efforts of our residents with those of the Boston Police Department. It is going to take innovative and creative ideas in problem-solving, crime prevention, and crime reduction for Boston to end the violence on our streets. We feel that neighborhood policing is a great start."

$11.6 million in community policing grant money is being given to 169 communities in Massachusetts. Boston is receiving $1.9 million.

The Mayor expressed his appreciation at the news conference, "I want to thank Governor Weld and the Legislature for allocating this money to the City of Boston. We are excited about all the possibilities that await the City as we develop strategies and new tactics to address crime head on."

Boston's community policing strategy includes: increasing training for police officers, creating "beats" in selected neighborhoods, setting up a special Boston Police Department unit to target public housing developments, and having a special Task Force concentrate on youth gangs.

AMERICORPS PROGRAM KICK-OFF IN BOSTON

Mayor Thomas M. Menino joined with U.S. Senator Ted Kennedy and U.S. Education Secretary Richard Riley, September 10, to kick off the AmeriCorps National Service Program in Boston.

The Mayor said, "The program not only provides needed resources for communities across this country, but also gives our young people positive and constructive alternatives to the streets. I am very pleased that the program is being implemented here because the program will give Boston teenagers the chance to learn valuable skills and make a major contribution to improving our city."

AmeriCorps is the signature program created by the passing of the National and Community Service Trust Act ten months ago. Boston is one of the host cities for the swearing-in ceremonies for young people involved in Ameri-

Corps. Those involved in the program have the opportunity to work on social issues, receive stipends, and receive educational vouchers of $5,000. Participants agree to one or two years of service.

Many sites in and around Boston have been chosen after rigorous competition to be AmeriCorps locations. Among them are City Year and YouthBuild. Teenagers in AmeriCorps began work at St. Francis House on Boylston Street last year, completely renovating a vacant floor. St. Francis House is a non-profit, non-sectarian, comprehensive Day Shelter and Program for homeless and poor men and women age 18 and over.

Introduction:

After a twenty-year hiatus, the adult Western has regained its popularity with America's film audiences. In the 1990s alone, Kevin Costner's Dances with Wolves and Clint Eastwood's The Unforgiven have received Academy Awards for Best Picture. Yet the success of these contemporary movies lies in the past when the Western grew up.

From the very beginning there was a love affair between Hollywood and the West. For the first few decades the Western film wasn't much more than a shoot 'em up affair with the emphasis on the action. Starting in the 1940s the Western began a maturing process. This film series focuses on that process and how it developed through the 1940s, 1950s, and 1960s. A stream of social consciousness flowed through these movies, whether it was the mob psychology of the The Ox-Bow Incident, the reformed gunfighter of Shane, or the shamed townspeople of High Noon. The Boston Public Library is pleased to present A Six Gun and a Conscience: The Western Grows Up, a series of classic and, in many instances, award-winning Westerns.

Technical Note: All of the films in this series will be shown in the 16mm film format. However, the Boston Public Library cannot guarantee the condition and the quality of the print being screened.

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

C. 67-95
May 2, 1994.

Maintenance Service

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request Your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Baxter Diagnostics, Inc., One Baxter Parkway, Deerfield, IL 60015, for maintenance service. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L., Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Baxter Diagnostics, Inc. will provide full service and maintenance from Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., to three (3) NE8000 analyzers located in the Central Hematology and Ambulatory Care Center Laboratories at Boston City Hospital.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $49,280.42, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1996.

Because Baxter Diagnostics, Inc. is the manufacturer with trained personnel and available parts, and as the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston code, St. 4, ss. 4 & 8.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

C. 192-94
March 8, 1994.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Atwork Corporation, located at 2150 Trade Zone Blvd., Suite 201, San Jose, CA 95131, for maintenance of the Anso's Staff Scheduling System. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Atwork Corporation will provide Telephone Software Support Services for the Interface of the Anso's Staff Scheduling System with the Medicus Patient Classification System twenty-four (24) hours seven (7) days a week including parts, labor, travel and software upgrades with warranty which is located in the Nursing Department.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $16,697, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be March 1, 1994, through February 28, 1995.

Because Atwork Corporation, is the manufacturer, and has trained personnel and availability of parts, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston code, St. 4, ss. 4 & 8.

This award is being processed late because the request for contract was not received from the department until March 8, 1994.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

C. 68-94

Physicians

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertisement and award a contract to Trustees of Boston University, acting by the Boston University School of Medicine, located at 80 East Concord Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02118, for provision of qualified physicians and other public health specialists. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract the Boston University School of Medicine will provide qualified physicians, clinicians, epidemiologists, researchers, psychiatrists, and other public health specialists to support the service delivery, training, supervision, research and administrative functions of the Division of Community Health Medicine and Public Health Services. The contract provides the cost of salaries and fringe benefits for physicians and public health specialists. This contract also provides for computer time, travel, and malpractice insurance as specified by Addendum A. The University is uniquely qualified to do this work because it maintains a high quality post-graduate training program for physicians, partakes in medical research and is capable of transmitting medical knowledge that will provide and maintain health care programs for the treatment of the sick and injured of the City of Boston.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $1,125,372.49.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1994.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This award is being processed late due to protracted discussions within the Public Health Department on the appropriate budgetary allocation for particular programs. As a result the original contract request was not received by the Contract Office until June 1, 1993. All subsequent activities required to complete the contracting process were therefore significantly delayed. I have instructed the Director of Public Health to take all necessary steps to see that contract requests for public health services during FY 1995 are received by the Contract Office no later than May 20, 1994. This should ensure that future contracts will be executed prior to the start of the contract term.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence Dwyer,
Commissioner.

C. 70-95

Pastoral Counseling

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to William V. McPherson, residing at 22 Blue Ledge Drive, Roslindale, Massachusetts 02131, for the provision of pastoral counseling and liturgical services related to the needs of Protestant patients at Boston Specialty & Rehabilitation Hospital. Under this contract Rev. Services are to be provided 32 hours per week at a cost of $15.50 per hour for a total cost of $496 per week.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $25,891.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995.

Because of the special fitness of Rev. McPherson to provide these services, because of the professional nature of the services to be rendered, and as the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

C. 73-95
April 14, 1994.

Radiation Monitoring

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to R. S. Landauer, Inc., located at 2 Science Road, Glenwood, Illinois 60425, for radiation monitoring services. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30 B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract R. S. Landauer, Inc. will provide monthly radiation monitoring services, including film badges and radiation exposure. State and Federal laws require exposure data on all individuals exposed to ionizing radiation.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $14,000.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1996.

Because R. S. Landauer, Inc., has a data base file with all the previous data on each of the employees maintained in accordance with Title 10 Code of Federal Regulations 19:12, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St. 4, ss. 4 & 8.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

Clinical Laboratory Directors

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Trustees of Boston University, located at 80 East Concord Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02118, for the provision of Directors for Clinical Laboratories. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract the Trustees of Boston University will provide Boston City Hospital with a Director and two (2) Associate Directors of Clinical Laboratories.

Dr. Catherine Cox, Director of Clinical Laboratories, will act as a consultant for all laboratory issues. She will provide medical expertise and guidance to the labs and interact with the Medical, Surgical and Ancillary staff throughout the hospital. Dr. Leonard Berman, Associate Director of Clinical Laboratories, will provide the following services: interaction with laboratory staff; reviewing performance; test result monitoring; troubleshooting problems; implementing new methods and procedures in association with the laboratory staff; evaluation of protocols and assisting in preparation for reviews by regulatory agencies. The cost for Dr. Berman's services will not exceed $10,000.

Dr. Daniel Shapiro, Associate Director of Hematology/Biochemistry Laboratory, will provide the following services; supervise and evaluate the technical program in the laboratory; serve as liaison between clinical staff and the laboratory; evaluate new equipment; participate in labor relations relevant to the laboratory and be responsible for the quality control program of this laboratory. The cost for the above services will not exceed $90,000.

The University is uniquely qualified to do this work because it maintains a high quality post-graduate training program for physicians, partakes in medical research and is capable of transmitting medical knowledge that will provide and maintain health care programs for the treatment of the sick and injured of the City of Boston.

Compensation under this contract, including fringe benefits and miscellaneous expenses, shall not exceed $267,700.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1994.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This award is being processed late due to protracted discussions within the Medical Affairs Department on the appropriate budgetary allocation for particular medical services. As a result the original contract request was not received by the Contract Office until October 12, 1994. All subsequent activities required to complete the contracting process were therefore significantly delayed. I have instructed the Medical Director to take all necessary steps to see that contract requests for medical services during FY 1995 are received by the Contract Office no later than May 20, 1994. This should ensure that future contracts will be executed prior to the start of the contract term.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence Dwyer,
Commissioner.

C. 846-94
March 22, 1994.

Lifeline Communicators

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract, without advertising, to Lifeline Systems, Inc., One Arsenal Marketplace, Watertown, MA 02172, for the period April 25, 1994, through October 24, 1994, at a cost not to exceed $18,145. This contract is exempt from G.L. c. 30B and being processed under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Lifeline Systems, Inc. will provide Boston City Hospital's (BCH) Emergency Floor with 25 Lifeline Communicators at $500 each; 61 Personal Help Buttons at $70 each; 5 Lifeline Wobble Switches at $105 each and 5 Lifeline Adaptable Transmitters at $110 each. The terms are net 30 days; FOB shipping. An additional $300 has been added for freight charges.

The new Lifeline Communicators will replace the oldest models and expand the System.

The Lifeline Program provides a critical link between the Department of Health and Hospitals' emergency response network and a growing number of homebound clients whose care would otherwise consume more costly and scarce responses in institutional settings. Lifeline enables certain BCH patients, notably the frail elderly, persons with AIDS and ARC, and high risk infants, to be discharged safely to home.

Because the Lifeline 4500 Communicators and its accessories are the only communicators compatible with the Lifeline Response Center (RC400) already located in the Emergency Department at BCH, and because the cost is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

The above contract amount is an approximate figure based on estimated volumes. In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions, the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed 25 percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request.

This contract is being processed late because the necessary legal documents were not received from the vendor until April 21, 1994.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St. 4, ss. 4 & 8.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

Under the terms of the contract, Deborah Valianti will provide vendor services for City Hall employees attempting to stop smoking and educate neighborhood youth in healthy lifestyles by not starting to smoke.

Deborah Valianti has been a member of Boston Against Drugs for a number of years.

Deborah Valianti is uniquely qualified to do this work because of:

Experience as a community activist with the BAD initiative for the past two years.

Commitment to a tobacco-free environment to help create a healthier community.

Because of the short time frame and Deborah Valianti's prior experience and expertise in administration services and her interest in furthering the goals of this program, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

This contract is late, because The Trustees of Health and Hospitals did not let us know we would be receiving funds until mid-April, and administrative delays in the preparation of this contract.

Sincerely,
Ann Maguire,
Chief.

Strategic/Action Plan

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Jonathan B. Peck, an individual, with an address of 131 Coolidge Avenue, Suite 523, Watertown, MA 02172. Mr. Peck will be employed by the Boston Police Department under an employment contract and assigned to the Office of the Commissioner to assist me in establishing a department-wide Strategic/Action Plan. The Plan will outline the department's priorities including the development of communication and presentation issues needed to be improved as well as the key issues necessary to deliver quality Neighborhood/Community Policing in Boston. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under my direct supervision, Mr. Peck will recommend and draft initial strategies for my review. After acceptance of such strategies, Mr. Peck will write the Strategic/Action Plan and provide support in the implementation of that plan throughout the department's ranks. The plan will focus on improving the communication skills of this department with respect to effectively communicating to both the neighborhoods and special interest groups a basic understanding of the objectives of Community Policing. The Plan will also incorporate private sector initiatives to mitigate the financial burdens of Community Policing placed on this municipality and to evoke a commitment of participation in Community Policing from the business/private sector.

Mr. Peck is uniquely qualified to perform this assignment due to his expertise and years of experience in Law Enforcement/Criminal Justice management and planning. He has provided his technical expertise to the United States Department of Justice, the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, and the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office, to name a few. Mr. Peck has a thorough understanding of the dynamics as well as the involvement needed from all levels of government and the private sector to ensure the success of Neighborhood/Community Policing in Boston.

Compensation under this contract shall be at the rate of $90 per hour for a total amount not to exceed $37,000 ($12,000 in FY94 and $25,000 in FY95). The term of this contract shall be February 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995, subject to an approved appropriation each fiscal year.

Because of the professional nature of this assignment and the vital experience Mr. Peck brings to it, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. This contract is being submitted late due to my prompt promotion to Commissioner and the immediate need to begin Mr. Peck's services given the responsibility that is placed on this office to chart a priority course for the department during a period of transition.

Respectfully,
Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

Hazardous Material Removal

Re: Contract with Refrigeration Emergency and Contracting Company, Inc. for Emergency Removal of Hazardous Material at the City Owned Building Located at 22 Beechwood Street, Dorchester. Project No. A0474A.

Dear Mayor Menino:

The above-referenced building is in the care and custody of the Real Property Department and is owned by the City of Boston. On September 14, 1993, the Public Facilities Department was ordered by the Boston Fire Department to conduct an assessment and remediation of hazardous waste at the site.

The site contained hundreds of barrels with toxic waste and gas cylinders. Two firms began environmental cleanup of the hazardous materials.

On October 1, 1993, an ammonia leak was detected at the premises. The building had, at one time, been an ice house, where ice was produced and sold. The premises were refrigerated by a system that used ammonia. Some of the ammonia was leaking and it was necessary to employ a firm that specialized in ammonia removal. On that date the following contractors, normally engaged in this type of service were called to view and bid on this work. The results are as follows:

Hallis Environmental Systems, No bid submitted.

Refrigeration Emergency and Contracting Co., Inc., $57,560.

Lenox Martell, No bid submitted.

Water Front Refrigeration, No bid submitted.

Minus Eleven, No bid submitted.

Millward Refrigeration, No bid submitted.

Refrigeration Engineering and Contracting Company, Inc. submitted the lowest eligible and responsible bid for the required work.

This contract is procured pursuant to and in accordance with M.G.L. c. 149 s. 44(A) and is, therefore, exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B.

The submission of this contract is late due to the emergency nature of this project. These types of projects require immediate attention, thereby making it necessary for the vendor to begin work prior to the execution of the contract.

Your Honor's written permission is requested to award this work to Refrigeration Engineering and Contracting Company, Inc., with offices at 39 Commercial Street, Medford, MA 02155. The amount of this contract shall not exceed $57,560, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed. The term of this contract shall be October 1, 1993, to January 15, 1994.

Re: Contract with Advanced Environmental Technology Corporation for Emergency Removal of Hazardous Material at the City Owned Building Located at 22 Beechwood Street, Dorchester. Project No. A0474A.

Dear Mayor Menino:

The above-referenced building is in the care and custody of the Real Property Department and is owned by the City of Boston and is adjacent to the Holland School. On September 14, 1993, the Public Facilities Department conducted an examination of the premises jointly with the Boston Fire Department. Upon investigation it was observed that the building was in a severe state of structural deterioration. In addition, there were hundreds of barrels, in 5-gallon and 55-gallon and other sizes, inside the building. The Public Facilities Department suspected the barrels may have contained hazardous material and immediately called a firm currently under contract to the Department to come to the site and offer advice. Upon arrival at the site, the firm and the Department noticed not only the barrels but the presence of gas cylinders.

Upon detection of the potentially explosive gas cylinders, the Boston Fire Department was summoned. As required by regulation, the Fire Department contacted the Commonwealth's Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") and the Federal Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"). A Fire Department chemist advised the Fire Department that because of the uncertain nature of the contents of the drums and cylinders and the potential harm, the adjacent Holland School, three abutting day care facilities and the abutting non-profit food distribution center be evacuated. All of these facilities were subsequently ordered evacuated by the Fire Department.

The DEP, EPA and Fire Department ordered the Public Facilities Department to immediately commence an analysis of the presence of any contamination and begin remediation thereof. In conjunction with the advice of the Fire Department, DEP and EPA, and after receiving a waiver of public bidding from the Commonwealth's Division of Capital Planning and Operations, the Public Facilities Department contracted with Clean Harbors, Inc. on an extreme emergency basis pursuant to the authority of M.G.L. c. 149 s.

44(A). Clean Harbors, Inc. was selected because of its proximity, reputation among the various entities directing the immediate analysis and cleanup, and its ability to provide a rapid response. Because the nature and extent of the contamination was uncertain, Clean Harbors, Inc. was engaged on a time and materials basis.

Clean Harbors, Inc. proceeded to remove all the drums from the facility. During the evaluation, it was discovered that there were 72 gas cylinders on the premises. It was necessary for Clean Harbors, Inc. to fly a toxic waste specialist in from Chicago to assess and remove the cylinders. During this process an underground vault was discovered in which four containers of highly toxic material, including ether, were found.

On or about September 29th, Clean Harbors, Inc. had removed 36 of the 72 gas cylinders. However, the remaining gas cylinders were partially buried and for the most part in a badly corroded and very fragile condition. Clean Harbors, Inc. did not possess the expertise to remove these cylinders without additional consultants. In addition, it became apparent that Clean Harbors, Inc. did not possess the expertise to remove the containers in the vault and to accomplish the ether removal. Because the City desired to re-open the Holland School, the three day care facilities and the food distribution center, and Clean Harbors, Inc. could not provide a time frame for removal of the remaining material or further pricing with accuracy, the Fire Department ordered that firm off premises and required the Public Facilities Department to engage another contractor to finish the remedial work.

Advanced Environmental Technology Corporation of New Jersey ("AETC") is one of four firms in the United States with specialized expertise in ether removal. AETC was also recommended by the Fire Department because it had expertise in dangerous cylinder removal and had recently removed escaping ether from Northeastern University.

The Public Facilities Department immediately sought a quotation from AETC, which supplied a price breakdown, based on a time and materials basis because the nature and extent of the contamination were uncertain, and a time schedule, and began to remediate the contamination immediately.

On September 29th, an ammonia leak was detected. The subject premises had, at one time, been an ice house, where ice was produced and sold. The premises were refrigerated by a system that used ammonia. Some of the ammonia refrigerant was leaking and it was necessary to employ a firm that specialized in ammonia removal. AETC supervised the removal by the ammonia removal firm.

It will be necessary to demolish this building in the future and that work shall be procured through the provisions of M.G.L. c. 149 s. 44(A)-(J).

The 32 remaining cylinders have been removed as well as the four containers of toxic waste.

Advanced Environmental Technology Corp., $277,100.

This contract is procured pursuant to and in accordance with M.G.L. c. 149, s. 44(A) and is, therefore, exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30(B).

The submission of this request is late due to the emergency nature of this project. These types of projects require immediate attention, thereby, making it necessary for the vendor to begin work prior to the execution of the contract.

Your Honor's written permission is requested to award this work to Advanced Environmental Technology Corporation, with offices at 3 Gold Mine Road, Flanders, New Jersey 07836. The amount of this contract shall not exceed $277,100, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed. The term of this contract shall be from September 29, 1993, to May 15, 1994.

Demolition

Re: Emergency demolition of 22 Beechwood Street, Dorchester, MA, Project No. A0474A.
Dear Mayor Menino:

The above-referenced building is owned by the Real Property Department of the City of Boston. On April 15, 1994, the Public Facilities Department of the City of Boston was notified by the Inspectional Services Department and the Boston Fire Department that additional structural damage to the building was observed and the building was at risk of imminent collapse. This emergency presented an immediate danger to the public and to the users of the area.

On April 15, 1994, an emergency waiver of public bidding laws was granted by the Division of Capital Planning & Operations. On April 15, 1994, the following contractors, normally engaged in this type of service, were called to view and bid on this work. The result is as follows:

Wayne & Company, $23,111.

Jay-Mor Enterprises, $36,400.

Mystic Building Wrecking, $43,750.

Apparent low bidder, Wayne & Company, withdrew its bid due to a bona fide clerical error. The bid of Mystic Building Wrecking was rejected due to the failure to submit a DCPO Certificate of Eligibility along with an update statement. Jay-Mor Enterprises is the lowest eligible and responsible bid.

This contract is procured pursuant to and in accordance with M.G.L. c. 149, s. 44(A-J) and is, therefore, exempt from the process of M.G.L. c. 30B.

Your Honor's written permission is requested to award this work to Jay-Mor Enterprises with offices at 215 Gage Hill Road, Pelham, NH 03076, in an amount not to exceed $36,400, which I have determined to be reasonable for this work to be performed.

The submission of this contract is late due to the nature of emergency projects. These types of projects require immediate attention, thereby, making it necessary for the vendor to begin work prior to the execution of the contract. The term of this contract shall be April 20, 1994, to May 20, 1994.

Respectfully,

Mary Nee,
Director.

Emergency Repairs

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award an emergency contract to N.E.L. Corporation whose address is 1 Farm Lane, Georgetown, MA 01833, for emergency repairs to the Summer Street Bridge over Fort Point Channel. This contract is necessary because the Massachusetts Highway Department directed us to immediately implement critically needed repairs as the bridge is showing signs of severe deterioration and therefore is a public hazard.

This contract is exempt from the public advertising requirements of G. L. c. 30b, because it is a contract for emergency repairs to a public work that is being awarded under G. L. c. 30, section 39M. I have received approval from the Department of Capital Planning and Operations for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under G. L. c. 149, section 44J to have the matter deemed an emergency. (see att.)

Under this contract N.E.L. Corp. will undertake immediate repairs to correct the dangerous condition as described below:

1. Outbound roadway, 2 floor stringers between floor beams No. 6 and No. 7 that support roadway traffic are in critical deficient condition and need immediate attention.
2. Inbound roadway, 4 locations need shim plates under floor stringers.

Due to the serious hazard this condition presents for safe travel by the public, it must be secured and made safe as soon as possible. Given the emergency nature and need for quick repair, I contacted contractors who I deemed to have special expertise in this type of work.

I have selected N.E.L. Corporation to perform the needed work because of the bids submitted and my confidence that they can quickly complete the repairs as expected.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $12,872.80, an amount which I have determined to be a reasonable cost for the work to be performed.

All work shall be completed as soon as possible and no later than 14 calendar days after commencement of operation.

Very truly yours,

Joseph F. Casazza,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Emergency Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to The BSC Group, a Massachusetts corporation with offices at 425 Summer Street, Boston, MA 02210, to provide Engineering Services relative to the planned rehabilitation of Various Streets in the City of Boston. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B as it is a contract for design services.

Under this contract, The BSC Group will prepare project improvement reports, perform street survey, prepare engineering plans and cost estimates, and prepare construction documents for improvements to be constructed. It is anticipated that these improvements will include, among other things, streets, sidewalks, street lighting, surface drainage, traffic control systems, street traffic and directional signs. The BSC Group will also provide technical and engineering advice and assistance to the Boston Public Works Department.

Following extensive review of proposals submitted to this office in response to a public advertisement, I have determined that The BSC Group is uniquely qualified to perform these services. The BSC Group has demonstrated that it has solid experience and expertise required for the successful performance of this work, and can complete the work within the time allocated by this Department, and at a reasonable cost.

Compensation under this contract will not exceed $465,207, an amount which I have determined to be a reasonable cost for the work to be performed. The term of this contract will be for 24 months commencing on April 4, 1994, and ending on April 4, 1996.

In view of the technical and professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that further public advertising would serve no purpose in this instance.

Very truly yours,

Joseph F. Casazza,
Commissioner of Public Works.

RAYMOND L. FLYNN

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

ALBERT L. O'NEIL
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 84

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1992

NO. 40

STATEMENT OF BOSTON MAYOR RAYMOND L. FLYNN

*Immediate Past President
United States Conference of Mayors to the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee
Washington, D.C.
September 22, 1992*

It is time to begin rebuilding a crumbling nation — whose bridges, roadways, mass transit and sewer systems are at risk. But, more importantly, it is time to rebuild the American community — by putting family breadwinners back to work, bringing home a steady paycheck, and moving up the ladder in a growing economy.

That is why, on behalf of the United States Conference of Mayors, I am pleased to endorse Senator Biden's Infrastructure Growth and Employment Act of 1992. It is a fitting compliment to Senator Moynihan's Interstate Surface Transportation Act of 1991, which was the first pro-urban transportation bill in many decades, and begins the long needed task of putting America back to work.

Over the past two months, as a surrogate for Governor Bill Clinton, I have traveled to many American communities that are in the midst of an economic nightmare — places like Flint, Michigan; McKeesport, Pennsylvania; and Wheeling, West Virginia. In those cities, I spoke with proud people who, for the first time in their lives, had no job to go to and few prospects ahead. I traveled past steel mills that were closed and small businesses that were shuttered. And everywhere I went, people asked, "Who in Washington is on our side?"

I was in Pennsylvania the same week that the Japanese government announced that they would be spending $86 billion to prepare their infrastructure for the economic challenges of the 21st century. People in Pittsburgh and Scranton and Wilkes Barre knew what that meant — it meant that Japan would stay many steps ahead of our country economically. And they were convinced that if something didn't change, times were going to get tougher and tougher for their families and particularly for their children.

I also see the pain of unemployment in my own city and state. The national recession continues to take a disproportionate toll on New England. Massachusetts has an 8.3% unemployment rate, with more turmoil ahead due to layoffs in the high tech industry and in defense. Our construction industry and workers continue to struggle, still waiting for the Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel project to swing into action and for our banks to start lending again. And if it weren't for the growth of the biomedical and institutional sectors in Boston, spurred by our city's $1 billion capital plan, there would be virtually no positive signs of economic hope.

Senators, at the beginning of this year, as President of the Mayors' Conference, I testified before the Senate Budget Committee about the impact of our national recession on local governments. At that time, Senators Jim Sasser and Paul Sarbanes challenged us to come forward with a list of infrastructure projects that were ready to go to construction, but had been delayed by budget cuts.

We accept that challenge — within 48 hours, we had received surveys from about 300 cities, and by the end of that week, we had compiled data from 504 cities. These cities submitted to us 7,252 projects which, with $12.8 billion in new funding could create over one million jobs, about half of them immediately.

Boston submitted $277 million in projects which would put over 3,000 people to work with a $98.7 million federal contribution. So we'll do our share, if you'll be our partner. The same is true in larger cities like New York City, whose projects could put 34,340 New Yorkers to work, and smaller cities like Wilmington, Delaware, which with $43 million in federal funds can put 887 people to work. So this is a national prescription for national economic health.

The projects we received were diverse — some are basic infrastructure repairs that communities didn't have the capacity to fully fund; some are projects that would set the stage for dynamic economic development; others would deal with new federal mandates, such as the Safe Drinking Water Act.

And these projects are just the tip of the iceberg. There is much more that needs to be done at home to make America strong again economically. We need an American economic "buildup" of the same importance and magnitude as the military buildups of previous decades. We need a high speed rail system, environmental technology, telecommunications networks and expanded ports, if we are to create and retain the jobs of the future.

Statement of Mayor . . .

I see today's hearing as the first hearing of 1993, a chance for this committee to have the first major piece of economic recovery legislation in the next Congress. Obviously, if Governor Clinton is successful, he will be looking to this committee for quick action on a "Rebuild America" program. But in any case, it is clear now that doing nothing economics will, in fact, do nothing to spur our economy. Even our conservative governor in Massachusetts now belatedly realizes that public investment and public capital can help turn around a dead economy. The current occupant of the White House seems to be the lone holdout.

Mr. Chairman, let me submit to this committee for the record, a copy of our "Ready To Go" surveys and the seven point economic recovery plan put forward by both Democratic and Republican members of the United States Conference of Mayors. Our plan also calls for providing capital to small businesses, increasing housing and community development resources, and training both young people and older workers for the jobs of the future. It is a "Jobs" plan for America, senators, and I urge you to continue your work on Senator Biden's legislation, as well as other bills for economic recovery, so that we may begin the American Economic Renaissance in 1993.

OUR BOSTON

Each week the City Record will publish the background of Boston's forty-six mayors. ### 6th Mayor SAMUEL T. ARMSTRONG 1836

Samuel Turell Armstrong was born in Dorchester, April 29, 1784, the son of Captain John Armstrong. He learned the trade of a printer, and began business as printer and publisher with Joshua Belcher. One of their earliest productions was a literary work called The Emerald. After dissolution of his partnership with Belcher he set up shop in Charlestown, and there published the first number of the Panoplist, a monthly magazine relating to religious topics and missionary work.

In 1811 he moved to Boston, and opened, at 50 Cornhill, a store and publishing house, which became the mart of the religious literature for the orthodox churches. He took into the firm Uriel Crocker and Osmyn Brewster, his apprentices, and though the partnership was later dissolved, Armstrong was connected with the firm till his death. One of his publications in 1820 was Scott's Family Bible, in six royal octavo volumes, one of the earliest instances of stereotyping on a large scale in the United States.

He was captain of the "Warren Phalanx" in Charlestown during the War of 1812, twice a representative of Boston in the legislature, once senator from Suffolk, lieutenant governor of Massachusetts for two terms under Governor Levi Lincoln and Governor John Davis, and in 1835 he was acting governor, Governor Davis having gone to the senate. The principal events in Armstrong's administration were the erection of the gloomy iron fence that originally enclosed four sides of the Common, the extension of the mall through the burial ground on Boylston Street, and the completion of the courthouse in Court Square. He was a member of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, and president in 1822 and 1829; and in 1815 he became a member of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, and contributed generously to its foundation. His wife was Abigail Walker, the daughter of the Honorable Timothy Walker of Charlestown. Mayor Armstrong died on March 26, 1850.

WHY I TOOK THE PLUNGE IN BOSTON HARBOR

By Tom Malcolm

Since I make my living working for the agency that is responsible for the Boston Harbor Project, I thought it was only right that I should don my swimsuit and plunge into Boston Harbor for the Jantzen swim for Save the Harbor/Save the Bay. The swim was a one-mile race from Carson Beach to the L Street Recreation Center in South Boston over the Labor Day weekend.

"You're crazy," people told me.

"Are you going to get a tetanus shot?" a friend queried.

"Do you also do bungee jumping?" a reporter asked me.

"No," I answered, "but I don't think they're comparable activities. I'm not worried about swimming in Boston Harbor."

But, truth be told, if I wasn't worried, I did have some trepidation about swimming in Boston Harbor. Would it really be clean enough?

Happily, I can report that it was, and I think my fellow swimmers would agree. Boston Harbor is not yet pristine, and as an urban estuary badly degraded by decades of pollution it will never be entirely free of pollution. But all of the data we have on Boston Harbor, plus the experiences of the 55 swimmers who competed in the race, confirm that Boston Harbor is indeed getting cleaner and on most days is fine for swimming.

I've swum in cleaner water, to be sure, but I've also swum in water where there was more visible pollution, and at beaches (at my hometown of Long Branch, New Jersey) that were posted as frequently as Boston Harbor beaches were this summer. Beaches along Boston Harbor were closed only eight times this summer, compared to 44 times in 1989.

The water in Boston Harbor is cold by most people's standards, and I couldn't see the bottom while swimming. But the water is no longer littered with the floatable debris called scum (condoms, tampon applicators, oil and grease).

The overall appearance and clarity of the water, while not great, is much improved over past years. I swallowed several mouthfuls of seawater and did not find it nauseating.

For the record, I finished 36th, with a time of 23 minutes, 20 seconds. The winning time, posted by Bill Paine, 32, of Boston, was 16 minutes, 18 seconds. Judy Goffi, 32, of Somerville, was the first woman to cross the finish line, with a time of 19 minutes, 5 seconds.

The improved water quality is largely the result of the work the MWRA has done to control the pollution of Boston Harbor. Last December, the MWRA stopped the daily dumping of 400,000 gallons of sewage sludge to Boston Harbor. Two years earlier, the MWRA stopped discharging 10,000 gallons of scum to the harbor daily. The amount of toxic chemicals discharged to the harbor has decreased nearly eight-fold from more than 5,000 pounds per day in the 1970s to less than 700 pounds per day in 1992.

The MWRA has made more than $100 million in capital improvements to the region's two existing sewage treatment plants at Deer Island and Nut Island. These plants now treat more sewage more effectively, resulting in fewer discharges of untreated sewage to the harbor through sewer overflows. The improvements made to date are modest compared to what the MWRA will accomplish through the end of the decade, including building the nation's second-largest sewage treatment plant at Deer Island as part of the Boston Harbor Project.

The water quality of Boston Harbor should improve steadily as we continue to reduce the amount of pollution entering the harbor. I hope to swim in an even cleaner Boston Harbor during the second annual swim for Boston Harbor. My only concern for next year is shaving seven minutes off my time so that I finish first, not 36th!

SENIORS! A SAFER NEIGHBORHOOD IS UP TO YOU!

Seniors! A safer neighborhood is up to you! That is the message of a new video presented by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Neighborhood Justice Network. The 15-minute video educates older adults about crime and violence prevention and community organizing. It stars television personality Clifton Davis and Bostonians involved in the prevention of crime and violence against seniors, including older adults, teens, community organizers, police, a building manager, and social service agency professionals.

David H. Mulligan, commissioner, Massachusetts Department of Public Health, said, "We are proud to present this film as a special initiative of the Office of Violence Prevention. This is part of a continuing effort of the Department to improve the well being of the public by preventing crime and violence."

Diane Watson, Boston Commissioner on Affairs of the Elderly, stated, "Crime and violence takes a heavy toll on our most vulnerable citizens. The Boston Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is proud of its involvement in the Senior Crime and Violence Prevention Project from which this film was developed and looks forward to a continuing partnership with the Department of Public Health and the Neighborhood Justice Network."

Marisa Jones, Executive Director of the Neighborhood Justice Network, said "The Neighborhood Justice Network is excited about the opportunity this film will offer to broadcast the message of the importance of building community efforts to make neighborhoods safer for both older and younger residents. The Senior Crime and Violence Prevention Project has been an important cornerstone of our work and we anticipate continuing successes in this and other joint endeavors."

The video was produced by Emmy Award winner Richard Getz of Richard Getz Productions, Inc., in cooperation with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. The video was produced as part of the Senior Crime and Violence Prevention Project, which is co-sponsored by the Neighborhood Justice Network and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Boston Commission on Affairs of the Elderly.

CITY OF BOSTON CODE AND ORDINANCES BOOK

CITY CLERK

The City Clerk's office is now offering for sale the City of Boston Code, Volume I Ordinances, with supplements through 1990, at one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125.00) per copy.

The new Code contains several new features designed to make it easier to read.

- a. A new numbering system provides chapters on a topical basis.
- b. Subsection headings have been inserted for clarity and ease.
- c. Each page has been numbered, and the numeration corresponds with the chapter designation. For example, Chapter V starts on page 501 and allows for 100 pages to be used in that chapter.
- d. Each chapter starts a new page, on the right side of the Code to allow for supplementation and growth of the prior chapter.

Additional supplements will be provided at a reasonable price on an annual basis.

The updated Code should prove to be a valuable aid to attorneys practicing in Boston. Copies may be obtained at this office, Boston City Hall, Room 601, with a payment by check, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount of one hundred twenty five dollars.

Sincerely,
PATRICK F. McDONOUGH,
City Clerk.

“ITALY REVISTED” IN PHOTOS AT BPL

“Italy Revisted,” an exhibition of recent photographs by Joseph Hodgson, retired academic dean of the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, will be on display in the Boston Room of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square from October 5 through October 31.

Mr. Hodgson’s fascination with Italy began in 1944 when he was stationed in Southern Italy with the U.S. Air Force during World War II.

Following the war he attended and graduated from Tufts University and the School of the Museum School of Fine Arts. He then became the first director of Education at the just opened DeCordova Museum in Lincoln and concurrently was named to the faculty of the Museum School, an association he maintained for the next 42 years before retiring as academic dean in 1987.

Originally trained and active as a printmaker, Dean Hodgson first became interested in photography in 1973 when he began to travel extensively throughout Europe, North Africa, and the Middle East.

The current exhibition, which is free and open to the public, focuses on his most recent trip to Rome, Florence, and Venice in September, 1991. Exhibit hours are: Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

$5 MILLION IN LOW-INTEREST HOME IMPROVEMENT LOANS ANNOUNCED BY EOCD, MHFA

Half of Funds Targeted to Elderly/ Disabled Borrowers

The Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA), in cooperation with the Executive Office of Communities and Development (EOCD), has announced that a new round of funds is available through its Home Improvement Loan Program (HILP). Up to 400 families are expected to benefit from the $5 million in new funding.

“HILP is an important resource for low- and moderate-income families whose homes are in need of repairs or improvements,” said EOCD Secretary Mary L. Padula. “The program also is a significant tool in the larger effort to revitalize and stabilize our older neighborhoods.”

HILP loans are available at the fixed interest rate of 5%. The MHFA has reserved half of its HILP funds for elderly homeowners and for households to make homes accessible to a disabled family member. Interested homeowners should contact local rehabilitation agencies designated by the MHFA, which will assist with completing loan applications, arranging property inspections and hiring contractors.

Under HILP, the minimum loan amount (which may be waived if the primary purpose is for weatherization or accessibility-related improvements) is $2,500 and the maximum is $15,000. Loan terms range from six months to 15 years and are adjusted to accommodate the borrower’s monthly expenses and overall debt service. Past HILP projects have included the replacement of a roof, plumbing and electrical system, as well as the installation of an outdoor elevator to make a home accessible to a disabled resident.

“HILP is a program that homeowners — particularly our senior and disabled citizens — can trust for financing to maintain and upgrade their homes,” said Marvin Siflinger, MHFA Executive Director. “We have fixed-rate loans at five percent and local agencies that will guide borrowers through every phase of the home improvement process.”

A brochure providing program guidelines and a complete list of participating agencies can be obtained by contacting MHFA’s Office of Single Family Programs at 617/451-2766. Also available is information concerning MHFA’s Qualified Rehabilitation Program (for loans for major home improvements in excess of $15,000) and the Get the Lead Out Program (for loans for lead paint abatement).

Built on 3.5 acres of formerly vacant land, the 38 units of housing scattered along Alexander, Oleander and Magnolia Streets are being constructed under the Boston Cooperative Initiative (BCI) sponsored by PFD, the Metropolitan Boston Housing Partnership (MBHP) and five area community development corporations. ## PARKS DEPARTMENT IMPROVES PLAYLOT EQUIPMENT

In a city-wide effort to maintain the many Boston parks and playgrounds renovated over the past five years, the Boston Parks and Recreation Department has launched a program to update and restore children's playlot equipment in various parks throughout the city. "Consistent maintenance, safety and ensuring the city's 110 playlots stay in optimum condition are the goals of the playlot initiative," explained Parks Commissioner Patrick S. Harrington.

The program has started with replacing and updating $10,000 worth of playlot equipment such as railings, slides and bridges, followed by an additional $30,000 in spare parts installed by spring 1994, according to Parks Department Director of Planning Justine Liff. Park partners and neighborhood residents will be encouraged to get involved in the initiative later this fall with a city-wide PLAYLOT CLEANUP program.

II. HIGH COMMENDATION

On July 18, 1993, at 0345 hours, incident #25890, companies responded to Box 2311 (2 alarms) for a fire in a five-story brick building at 469 Commonwealth Avenue, District 5.

Fire Fighter William O'Sullivan of Ladder Company 26 ascended the aerial to the roof and commenced ventilation. Within moments, an occupant trapped by intense heat and smoke appeared at a top-floor window, calling for assistance. Fire Fighter O'Sullivan had Ladder 26's aerial re-positioned to the fifth floor where he removed the occupant down the aerial to safety. Simultaneously, members of Ladder Company 15 were ordered to attempt an interior rescue. Fire Fighter O'Sullivan returned via the aerial to the roof and continued ventilation.

Fire Lieutenant Robert J. Crawford, Fire Fighters Michael T. Pass and Richard K. Callow of Ladder Company 15 proceeded to the fifth floor encountering extreme heat and a heavy smoke condition. Upon receiving notification of the rescued occupant, they vented the upper floor and started down the stairway. The increasing heat and smoke conditions forced them back to the fifth floor. Unable to locate another exit, and their air supply nearly exhausted, they proceeded onto the rear fire escape which was engulfed in heat and smoke.

Upon hearing calls for assistance from the members of Ladder Company 15, Fire Fighter O'Sullivan proceeded to the edge of the roof. Unable to see them, he removed his mask and passed it down through the smoke. He radioed a request for a ladder to the rear. With all members' air supply nearly exhausted and because of the hazardous situation, including obstacles in raising a ladder at the rear, he laid prone on the roof with his upper torso over the edge, reached with his hand through the smoke and was able to pull each member from the top rail of the fire escape.

Because of his actions in rescuing the occupant, assisting and removing fellow members from a precarious position, therefore averting serious injury while at great personal risk, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter William O'Sullivan of Ladder Company 26 and refers his case to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

who should be available and ready to either show the visitors around the station and to answer the questions regarding the department or to have a suitable person assigned to this duty. Handouts will be distributed prior to October 3, 1993, so that they may be given to the public when they visit the firehouses.

The officer in charge of quarters shall see that the Fire Prevention Week plywood signs issued to all stations is displayed during this week. It is the responsibility of company officers to see to it that these signs are kept in good condition from year to year. Signs should be displayed from Sunday to Saturday. Signs shall be checked daily by the officer in charge of quarters to assure that they are firmly affixed to the building in a proper manner.

District Fire Chiefs are directed to take an active interest in Fire Prevention Programs in the following manner:

By making arrangements with the various plants and industrial enterprises within the district to hold fire drills during the week, by grading these drills as good, fair, or poor and making a report of same to the Fire Prevention Division, indicating the name of the enterprise, the date of the drill and the grade. Same should be forwarded promptly. Each concern should be requested to acknowledge participation in Fire Prevention Week activities via written correspondence. These drills should be conducted by a company officer after arrangements are made. At plants where there are special or company fire brigades, particular attention should be given to assignments and/or response procedures. It is requested that the name of the company officer conducting the drill be furnished. It is anticipated that not less than three drills be conducted in each district.

Company officers will contact school officials in the schools in their sub-district and make arrangements to hold the required fire exit drills during Fire Prevention Week. The fire exit drill shall be so arranged that it will be held prior to the end of the school day.

The District Fire Chief should compile a list of fraternal, social, civic and professional organizations within the district and convey to them the willingness of the Fire Department to provide company officers for the purpose of lecturing on fire prevention at any time. District Fire Chiefs should make a concerted effort to bring the activities of the department before these organizations and arrange for lectures to be given. The name of any organization so participating should be reported to the Fire Prevention Division, specifically if the organization can be urged to forward on their own stationery a notation of the event, it would be to the greater advantage of the Fire Department.

Firefighters are to pay special attention to the observance of fire hazards and to the duty of observing and locating fire hazards along the route followed by them in their coming to and going from daily work. All buildings being erected, demolished or significantly remodeled require permits, as do storage and use of flammable gases. Notify your District Chief and/or Fire Prevention Division at extension 3620. Dilapidated buildings, rubbish accumulation and other hazards should be reported in accordance with abatement procedure as outlined in S.O.P. 25. ### I. FIRE PREVENTION WEEK vention work and to have an interest in this subject since they are public employees engaged in this field. Firefighters, therefore, during Fire Prevention Week, should have this subject uppermost in their minds and they should not pass a fire hazard at any time without making a note of it for reference to the Fire Prevention Division. In short, every uniformed man in the Fire Department is a fire prevention inspector at all times.

Company commanders, on receipt of the Fire Prevention posters, will post these items in a suitable location at the front of each fire station where they will be visible to the public. They will remain posted through October 9, 1993.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND TO HONOR MARY O. SHANNON

Mary O. Shannon, Director of the Boston Art Commission, died on September 21 after suffering a stroke in her office at the Office of Cultural Affairs late on Thursday, September 15th. Since her untimely death, City employees have expressed their desire to pay tribute to Mary's memory. To facilitate these wishes and those of many friends and acquaintances, the Mary O. Shannon Scholarship Fund has been established at The St. Botolph Club Foundation, 199 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, MA 02116. This fund will make an annual award in the field of public art and sculpture.

Since 1978, Mary directed the five-member Boston Art Commission and in that role, she oversaw one of the largest collections of public art in the United States. It was Mary Shannon's vision that led to the creation of the Adopt-A-Statue program — designed to provide opportunities for corporations and individuals to donate funds — "adopt" — works of public art throughout the city. The success of Mary's implementation of the Adopt-A-Statue program is exemplified in the fact that the program has been copied in cities around the world.

When the news of Shannon's death began to circulate throughout City Hall and around the city itself, the Office of Cultural Affairs was inundated with calls from literally hundreds of people, all of whom were completely stunned by the suddenness of Mary's passing. Mary worked in three City Hall administrations — Kevin H. White, Raymond L. Flynn and Thomas M. Menino. In a statement released by Mayor Menino, he noted that "her contributions to the life of the city will live on for future generations. I have lost a good friend, and the city has lost a person who epitomized the best in public service. Mary had a special talent that brought together people from all backgrounds in appreciating and creating public art that enhanced the lives of residents from every walk of life."

Bruce Rossley, Commissioner of the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs, described Mary Shannon as "a one-person show who believed strongly in public art. She was the most unassuming person in the world; she took her work seriously — but never herself." Shannon had an uncanny ability to bridge the gap between art and politics. According to Rossley, "a good example of her ability to do this, was the siting of the sculpture 'The Judge' at the Roxbury Courthouse." Shannon guided Piano Craft Guild artist Vusumuzi Maduna through the entire process. "A lot of times artists will be totally intimidated by the bureaucratic process, and Mary demystified the bureaucracy as well as the art."

An outgoing woman with a dry sense of humor, Mary was an avid collector of penguins and frequently prevailed upon friends to bring back penguin keepsakes from their trips.

A Memorial Service for Mary Shannon will be held at Memorial Church, Harvard Yard on Tuesday, October 18 at 3:30 p.m.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH ACCESS PROJECT

Statement of Mayor
Thomas M. Menino,
October 4, 1994

It is estimated that children from families without health insurance see doctors less than half as often as children with insurance. When uninsured children arrive at the hospital, they are usually much sicker than they should be and the whole experience is more traumatic for the child and more costly to the system. Even worse, when simple treatments are missed, not received or delayed for common illnesses like earaches or asthma, it can be deadly.

The Children's Access Health Project is an outreach effort to, first, make sure that children get the health services they need when they need them. Second, the project is to encourage all parents to take advantage of the health insurance benefits that are already available to children through existing insurance plans.

Children's Health Access . . .

Boston City Hospital, Neighborhood Health Centers, and Boston's private pediatric clinics will all provide health care to children without insurance. But for kids to remain healthy from birth through adulthood, they need comprehensive, consistent, health benefits. Working with Health Care For All, the City of Boston will reach out to parents to make sure that kids get the health benefits they need and deserve.

As part of our outreach, the City of Boston will provide information and help to enroll parents through the Mayor's Health Line, the Boston Public Schools, Community Centers, Boston Housing Authority Developments, Healthy Boston Coalitions, the health centers and hospital clinics.

The Mayor's Health Line is an especially important tool in our outreach efforts. In July and August alone, the Mayor's Health Line received over 500 calls about children who needed health insurance coverage. According to Health Care For All, approximately 8 percent of the children in Boston lack health insurance. That means anywhere from 8 to 10,000 children are at serious risk.

The Mayor's Health Line provides a hot-line in a number of languages for parents to call. The Mayor's Health Line has also conducted outreach through the schools, health clinics and neighborhood festivals, and has helped to train school nurses in how to enroll children in the state's Children's Medical Security Plan.

There are a number of free or low-cost health insurance plans for children, and they are outlined in the pamphlet, "Finding the Health Care Coverage Your Child Needs." But the most comprehensive plan out there for children up to the age of 13 is the state financed Children's Medical Security Plan.

Today, we are beginning an effort to bring all of Boston's children under the umbrella of care that already exists. But we must remain ever vigilant that plans like this continue to meet the needs of Boston's families so that children can get quality care from the medical provider or health center of their choice.

I want to commend health centers like South Boston, Whittier Street, and Uphams Corner, who are already taking an active role in outreach. I'd also like to highlight the work of the Joseph Smith Health Center and the Allston-Brighton Healthy Boston Coalition Lincs Program for enrolling over 100 families in the Children's Medical Security Plan.

I also want to extend a very special thanks to Rob Restucia and Health Care For All, for the superb outreach work they have done throughout the city, and for the continuing advocacy work they have done with state agencies and private insurers on behalf of all health care consumers.

Finally, I want to thank Ann McGuire, Chief of Health and Human Services; Superintendent Harrison-Jones; Commissioner Larry Dwyer; Susan Dale of the Mayor's Health Line; Evelyn Reisenberg of Community Centers; Ted Landsmark, Director of the Healthy Boston Initiative; The Boston Housing Authority; and all of our friends at Boston's Neighborhood Health Centers.

CALUMET QUINTET
"DISCOVERY CONCERT SERIES"

The Calumet Quintet, a Boston-based concert ensemble consisting of string quartet and double bass, has announced its 1994-1995 schedule of "Discovery Concerts" to be performed in the Rabb Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square beginning October 20.

The free concert series, which was initiated last year, highlights unknown or rarely performed musical gems which have been "discovered" in the Music Department's special collections. Among the works being featured this year will be Arthur Foote's Night Piece for Flute and Strings, Joseph Mayseder's Third String Quartet in D Major, Betsy Warren's Quintet (world premiere of a work written for the Calumet Quintet), Thomas Oboe Lee's Apple Strudel, Camille Saint-Saens' Wedding Cake, and works by Mikhail Glinka and Karl Goldmark.

The initial concert on October 20 at 2 p.m. will be presented as part of the Never Too Late Group's fall program schedule and will feature guest artist Peggy Friedland on the flute. Subsequent concerts will be performed at 2:30 p.m. and will feature guest artists, in order, Patricia McCarty (viola), Virginia Eskin (piano), and D'Anna Fortunato (mezzo-soprano) on January 22, March 19, and May 21, 1995.

Now in its eighth year, the group is the only full-time bass string quintet in America and one of the few such bass quintets in existence. Cofounded by Richard Melde and Arnold Friedman, the group regularly performs the traditional chamber works of Bach, Mozart, and Dvorak. In addition to Melde on the double bass and Friedman on the violincello, members of this year's quintet include Zoia Bologovsky and Rohan Gregory on violins, and Scott Woolweaver on the viola.

The performances are free and open to the public. For more information please contact the Boston Public Library Music Department at 536-5400, Ext. 285.

A Chippendale Chair from a Maker's Point of View

Will Neptune, cabinetmaker and instructor, North Bennet Street School
Sunday, December 4, at 2 p.m.

Mabel Louise Riley Seminar Room

In making fine furniture, a cabinetmaker has two sets of concerns. Often these are not apparent to a casual viewer, but once known, they can enhance one's appreciation of the finished piece. When making a chair, a cabinetmaker aims both to create a finished object with a coherent visual form and to work consistently, efficiently, and quickly. The orderly sequence of steps by which a carved chair is made reveals how the cabinetmaker breaks an intricate design down into component parts, correlating them with his tools and techniques. How small carved details relate to the underlying form reflects both the unified design of a fine piece and the process through which it is created. This talk will acquaint visitors with a visual vocabulary that will allow them to read a chair's form and appreciate the relationship between its structure and its fine detail. In conjunction with "The Taste for Luxury: English Furniture, Silver, and Ceramics, 1690-1790". Made possible by the Lowell Institute.

From South Africa to Broadway: The Journey of The Song of Jacob Zulu

Tug Yourgrau, playwright
Sunday, December 11, at 3 p.m.
Remis Auditorium

Tug Yourgrau, with the help of audio and video tapes, recounts the making of his play, The Song of Jacob Zulu, which ran on Broadway in 1993 and received six Tony nominations, including Best Play and Best Score. Time Magazine chose it as one of the Best Ten Plays in 1993. Yourgrau wrote the score with Ladysmith Black Mambazo, the South African cappella group, who performed in the play as a Greek chorus. The play was inspired by the actual story of a black South African teenager, and Yourgrau explores the intensely collaborative nature of the play's creation. It was truly a multicultural process, involving black and white Americans and black South Africans. Made possible by the Lowell Institute.

V. HIGH COMMENDATION

On June 23, 1994, at 0256 hours, Ladder Company 29 responded to a building fire at 8 Greendale Road, District 12. Upon arrival, Fire Fighter Robert Cox of Ladder Company 29 was informed that a child was trapped on the second floor. Heavy fire engulfed the entire third floor and had dropped to the second floor which had a heavy smoke condition.

Fire Fighter Cox began his search at the front of the apartment on the second floor, proceeded down the hallway to a rear bedroom where he found an eight-year-old child in a top bunk with fire just around her. He carried the child through the heavy smoke, down the stairs to safety.

Because this rescue was performed under great personal risk before the placing of hose and ventilation, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Robert Cox of Ladder Company 29 and refers his case to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

VI. COMMENDATIONS

1. The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Erasto Mercado of Ladder Company 24, for administering C.P.R. to a man in complete cardiac arrest at 704 Centre Street, District 9, on September 11, 1994, while off duty, and makes this commendation a part of his personnel folder.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

September 30, 1994.

General Order No. 36

I. FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week will be observed in the City of Boston from October 9 to October 15, 1994, inclusive.

During Fire Prevention Week, company officers and all members shall review the smoke detector laws so that people visiting the fire houses can get the correct answers to smoke detector laws.

Fire stations shall be open to the public between the hours of 1200 and 1700 hours for inspection of the premises and for the conveyance of information concerning the fire department functions and fire prevention matters. When citizens come to a station during Fire Prevention Week, the member on house patrol shall summon the commanding officer who should be available to show the visitors around the station and to answer the questions regarding the department, or to have a suitable person assigned to this duty. Handouts will be distributed prior to October 9, 1994, so that they may be given to the public when they visit the firehouses.

The officer in charge of quarters shall see that the Fire Prevention Week plywood sign issued to all stations is displayed during this week. It is the responsibility of company officers to see to it that these signs are kept in good condition from year to year. Signs should be displayed from Sunday to Saturday. Signs shall be checked daily by the officer in charge of quarters to assure that they are firmly affixed to the building in a proper manner.

District Fire Chiefs are directed to take an active interest in Fire Prevention Programs in the following manner:

By making arrangements with the various plants and industrial enterprises within the district to hold fire fire drills during the week, by grading these drills as good, fair, or poor and making a report of same to the Fire Prevention Division, indicating the name of the enterprise, the date of the drill and the grade. Same should be forwarded promptly. Each concern should be requested to acknowledge participation in Fire Prevention Week activities via written correspondence. These drills should be conducted by a company officer after arrangements are made. At plants where there are special or company fire brigades, particular attention should be given to assignments and/or response procedures. It is requested that the name of the company officer conducting the drill be furnished. It is anticipated that not less than three drills be conducted in each district.

Company officers will contact school officials in the schools in their sub-district and make arrangements to hold the required fire exit drill during Fire Prevention Week. The fire exit drill shall be arranged that it will be held prior to the end of the school day.

The District Fire Chief should compile a list of fraternal, social, civic and professional organizations within the district and convey to them the willingness of the fire department to provide company officers for the purpose of lecturing on fire prevention at any time. District Fire Chief should make a concerted effort to bring the activities of the department before these organizations and arrange for lectures to be given. The name of any organization so participating should be reported to the Fire Prevention Division, specifically if the organization can be urged to forward on their own stationery a notation of the event, it would be to the greater advantage of the Fire Department.

Firefighters are to pay special attention to the observance of fire hazards and to the duty of observing and locating fire hazards along the route followed by them in their coming to and going from daily work. All buildings being erected, demolished or significantly remodeled require permits, as do storage and use of flammable gases. Notify your District Chief and/or Fire Prevention Division at extension 3620. Dilapidated buildings, rubbish accumulation and other hazards should be reported in accordance with abatement procedures as outlined in S.O. P. 25. The public expects uniformed members of the Fire Department to know something about fire prevention work and to have an interest in this subject since they are public employees engaged in this field. Firefighters, therefore, during Fire Prevention Week, should have this subject uppermost in their minds and they should not pass a fire hazard at any time without making a note of it for reference to the Fire Prevention Division. In short, every uniformed man in the fire department is a fire prevention inspector at all times.

Company commanders, on receipt of the Fire Prevention posters, will post these items in a suitable location at the front of each fire station where they will be visible to the public. They will remain posted through October 15, 1994.

A list of all fire prevention activities and their locations will be forthcoming.

MAYOR UNVEILS CITY OF BOSTON-FANNIE MAE $1.5 BILLION HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on October 10, at Fallon Field in Roslindale, unveiled "HouseBoston," a $1.5 billion initiative between the City of Boston and Fannie Mae to increase homeownership opportunities for individuals and families in Boston. HouseBoston will provide $1.5 billion in affordable financing for 20,000 moderate-, middle- and low-income Boston families over the next five years.

Mayor Menino said, "HouseBoston will reach out to all of Boston's neighborhoods to provide moderate-, middle- and low-income residents with the chance to make the dream of homeownership a reality. This partnership with Fannie Mae will help strengthen Boston's communities and the quality of life for residents through homeownership."

Fannie Mae Chairman and Chief Executive Officer James A. Johnson added, "HouseBoston, one of the largest single commitments that Fannie Mae has ever made to serve the housing needs of a single city, was crafted to address the very specific and unique housing needs of this city."

Senator Edward M. Kennedy stated, "This historic agreement, nothing less than the largest and most comprehensive effort yet undertaken to provide affordable housing for Boston's families, is the direct result of hard work and long negotiations between the City and Fannie Mae."

HouseBoston will use new and existing programs to promote homeownership of single- and multi-family homes, as well as of condominiums, and will assist in the rehabilitation or refinancing of existing properties. HouseBoston also includes outreach and homebuyer education programs to help renters become homeowners.

Through HouseBoston, new mortgage loans were developed specifically to meet Boston's housing needs. Dubbed "The Boston Mortgage," the loans are available for homebuyers in Boston and feature low downpayments for one-, two- or three-family homes or condominiums. Boston Mortgage products include:

to a borrower with a household income of up to $61,560.

• Boston Mortgage Refinancing Options: A current owner with little or no equity on a Fannie Mae-held mortgage may be eligible for refinancing through his or her current mortgage leader.

• Enhanced Condominium Purchase Options: On a pilot basis, in condominium projects with owner-occupancy rates of as low as 25 percent, a borrower may buy a condominium using any of the Boston Mortgage loans.

HouseBoston will aggressively conduct outreach and education efforts to help renters become homeowners. Fannie Mae will open a permanent "Partnership Office" in Boston to work directly with local government, lenders and housing groups to increase homeownership opportunities in Boston. The Boston office will be one of only seven such offices nationwide. In addition, beginning October 24, Fannie Mae advertised through local media its consumer hotlines for potential buyers to obtain free information on how to qualify for a mortgage. The hotline numbers are 1-800-688-HOME and, for Spanish-speaking residents, 1-800-SU-CASA-9.

For additional information on HouseBoston, potential buyers may contact Fannie Mae at 1-800-7FANNIE or the City of Boston's HOMEBASE at (617) 635-3582.

Fannie Mae (Federal National Mortgage Association), a private, shareholder-owned company, is the nation's largest source of home mortgage funds. HouseBoston represents one of the largest commitments Fannie Mae has ever made to a single city.

• FannieNeighbors: A homebuyer, regardless of income, may buy a one- or two-family home or condominium as a principal residence with as little as 5 percent down. 10 percent is required for a three-family home.

• Boston Mortgage 3/2 Option: A homebuyer with a household income of up to $61,560 may purchase a one- or two-family home or condominium with 3 percent down from the buyer and an additional 2 percent from the City of Boston or other sources.

• Boston Mortgage 5/5 Option: A homebuyer with a household income of up to $61,560 may purchase a three-family home as a principal residence with 5 percent down from the buyer and an additional 5 percent from the City or other sources.

• Boston Mortgage Purchase-Rehab Option: A homeowner or homebuyer, regardless of income, may renovate or purchase and rehabilitate a single- or two-family home with as little as 5 percent down. 10 percent is required for a three-family home. The owner or buyer may include up to 50 percent of the value of the property after renovations (30 percent is traditional) as the rehabilitation costs in the mortgage. In addition, the City will provide a rehabilitation grant or loan of up to $5,000

FANNIE MAE ANNOUNCEMENT

*Statement of Mayor
Thomas M. Menino
October 10, 1994*

Today marks an important moment for Boston and its residents. Today, Fannie Mae and the City of Boston have the opportunity to not only provide affordable homeownership opportunities for individuals and families, but also to improve the neighborhoods and the diverse communities of Boston. So, it is my pleasure to welcome all of you here today.

About a year ago, I met with the Chairman of Fannie Mae, Jim Johnson, and told him about my vision for the City of Boston. I outlined a plan that strives for affordable access for our residents in purchasing homes. At that time, I expressed all the benefits that come from promoting homeownership, not only for the City of Boston, but also for Boston residents and their families.

Now, a year later, after that initial discussion with Jim Johnson, and several other meetings with local non-profits, community leaders, Marisa and her staff, the city's Public Facilities Department, and members of the Massachusetts Congressional Delegation, we have the opportunity to launch a program that will increase homeownership and rental opportunities for all Boston residents.

As Mayor, I often speak about the importance of partnerships to build neighborhoods, strengthen communities, and to improve the quality of life for Boston residents. Well, the partnership that has developed between the City of Boston and Fannie Mae is a great example of how that works. Through our joint efforts, the 1.5-billion-dollar HouseBoston Program will reach out to all neighborhoods in the city providing home buyer education, and a variety of mortgage loans and initiatives designed to increase homeownership opportunities in the city over the next five years.

My administration is committed to ensuring that everyone regardless of economic status has access to affordable housing. We know that there are many families that pay rent because the idea of purchasing a home seems like a dream. With this program, we can provide moderate, middle, and low income residents with the chance to make a dream come true. We also know that homeownership helps to stabilize neighborhoods, and brings additional revenue to our city.

The HouseBoston agreement is an innovative and creative plan that gives our city its greatest opportunity ever to improve the housing available to Boston citizens. We look forward to working with Fannie Mae, local mortgage lenders, and community leaders on the challenging task ahead of us.

I want to thank Fannie Mae, its Chairman Jim Johnson, and all of the people who have dedicated their time and effort to this milestone program. I would especially like to thank Senator Kennedy, a man who has been on the forefront of addressing affordable housing legislation for all residents. Your commitment and dedication to the residents of Boston are much appreciated.

"OUT-OF-SCHOOL" ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN Mayor Holds Strategy Session

Mayor Thomas M. Menino held the first meeting on October 12 of educators, parents, and officials who will be working together in the next year to explore options for "out-of-school" activities for Boston children.

Last summer, Boston was selected as one of five sites in the country to participate in the Making the Most of Out-of-School Time (MOST) Initiative Planning Year. MOST is a national initiative of the DeWitt Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund. Working groups in the next year will analyze current programs, update information, and recommend strategies for increased participation in youth activities by government, private industry, educational, and cultural institutions.

The Mayor told the group gathered at the Parkman House, "Focusing on how children spend their time out of school is a top priority of my administration. It should be obvious that what a child does during all hours of the day contributes to the child's future. Our goal is to find ways to encourage community based organizations, museums, cultural organizations, and schools to work together to provide programs which will give every elementary and middle school child options with before and after school time."

More than two dozen groups were represented at the strategy session, including, Boston Community Centers, Greater Boston YMCA, Children's Museum, Freedom House, City Year, Greater Boston Association for Retarded Citizens, Northeastern University's Education Department, Massachusetts Department of Education, State Office of Children, Boston Public Schools, and the Boston Housing Authority.

Parents United For Child Care organized the meeting and facilitated the proposal development process. Mayor Menino is Honorary Chair of the Initiative Planning Year in Boston.

Boston's MOST Planning Year Strategies and Activities

This summer, Boston was selected one of five sites from across the country to participate in the Making the Most of Out-of-School Time (MOST) Initiative Planning Year. MOST is a national initiative of the Witt Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund.

Parent United for Child Care (P.U.C.C.) facilitated the proposal development process by building on the membership of its Boston School-Age Child Care Project (BSACCP) Advisory Council. More than sixty school-age care stakeholders, including providers, trainers, City Year, Boston Public Schools staff, street workers, parents, and others participated in the process. Focus groups were held on youth development, on needs assessment, and on training and work force development.

Planning year activities and the development of an Implementation Plan will provide an opportunity to enhance the school-age program delivery system in Boston by expanding available care, developing career avenues and education opportunities for workers, and broadening participation of the public and private business, educational, and cultural institutions in the city in BSACCP.

MOST Planning Year activities are designed around two primary planning goals: the ability of current and new stakeholders concerned about Boston's children and youth to look at the continuum of needs and services currently available; and, planning activities which lead to citywide and community-based implementation strategies. The plan for out-of-school time formulated through these activities will have as its overall goal the development of a variety of appropriate activities and innovative program models which can well serve any Boston child, at any age and regardless of income.

Planning Year activities will include:

1. The formation of working groups to share information for action and to conduct analysis of and initiate planning on the key aspects of the issue.

2. Update information about supply of, demand for, and quality of existing programs in Boston.
3. A Community Stakeholders Conference to maximize input to Boston's action plan. Working group reports and interim plans will be presented in such a way as to promote shared strategies and coordination.

Throughout the planning year, collaborating institutions and individuals will oversee the planning efforts as members of the Boston School-Age Child Care Project Advisory Board. In this role, they will also become familiar with the ongoing grant making, training, and network building work of BSACCP. This year, these activities include increasing BSACCP grants and training to expand support for programs serving older children, children with special needs, and programs serving particular neighborhoods and populations. The practical experience gained through BSACCP activities provides valuable input to the MOST planning initiative.

Proposed Structure for MOST Planning Initiative

Here is a description of three possible working groups, the questions they would take up, and some concrete projects they could address for the Implementation Plan:

- Creating a System of Programs that Works for Boston Children and Youth How can we expand and strengthen the system of programs available to children in their out-of-school time? What do parents (and children) want for children of different backgrounds? at different ages? What programming is most successful with what age groups, communities, time frames, and facilities? How can we use partnerships with cultural institutions, institutions of higher ed, and others to increase supply and enhance program content? How can we promote the utilization of Assessing School-Age Quality (ASQ), a tool developed by The Wellesley School-Age Child Care Project, to strengthen program quality and parent involvement? How can strong networks of programs support ongoing program development?

Possible outcomes:

- schedule ongoing training opportunities in the use of Assessing School-Age Quality (ASQ)
- review of utilization of municipal offerings to better coordinate services and address gaps in service
- creation of neighborhood based networks of providers and parents to provide support and coordinate training and enrichment opportunities
- model partnerships between museums, schools, community level organizations, program providers, higher ed, and others to create new programs

- Training and Workforce Development - Quality staff are critical to quality school-age care. There is currently no systematic, widespread method for preparing SACC staff before they begin to work in the field. How can recruitment and pre-service training be strengthened? How can in-service training opportunities be expanded and made more accessible? What opportunities are there for staffing programs in collaboration with youth leadership organizations? The work of this group will include investigating the feasibility of implementing a curriculum for SACC and youth workers with the Child Care Careers Institute Higher Education Consortium that would lead to a degree or certificate awarded by a college or university. The Wellesley School Age Child Care Project is developing such a curriculum framework as part of their work as national coordinator of the MOST initiative.

Possible outcomes:

- process for and commitment to defining what courses a certificate program for youth work or school age child care would include
- draft of a career ladder or lattice for workers in this field

- development of and institutional commitment to training and certification pilot programs at individual institutions or through a collaboration of institutions like the Higher Education Consortium of the Child Care Careers Institute
- design of a model for bringing into partnership community service organizations like City Year and programs for children around staffing and youth leadership development

• Improving Access to Programs

- Boston families need more information to help them find, access and evaluate programs, and more resources going toward making programs affordable. How can we plan for the information to be centralized and made available to parents? How can we identify and secure funding for programs? How can we educate Boston families about making program choices and assessing program quality?

Possible outcomes:

- development of a funding stream to keep programs affordable
- improved access to buildings and transportation to access programs.
- creation of a database of out-of-school program options with access for families at public libraries, schools, ATMs, and/or community agencies.

In one of her finest performances in years, Sophia Loren plays Rosa, a woman caught in her husband's web of jealousy and love. Full of charming domestic humor and affection, this film is far more reflective and serene than Wertmüller's best known films (Seven Beauties and Swept Away). Based on the Eduardo DeFilippo's popular play of the 1950s.

This highly acclaimed film is a gripping drama based on reports sexual abuse that occurred at a Newundland orphanage during the 1970s. Part One centers on the relationship between the young, dynamic, and deeply disturbed superintendent and his unwilling favorite, 13-year-old Kevin. Reports of abuse led to a police investigation, only to end in an appalling cover-up by church and state. Part Two, set 15 years later, follows the reopening of the investigation, forcing all involved to come to grips with past events.

Lonesome by Paul Fejos (1928, 75 minutes). A young worker and telephone operator meet by chance, and go to an amusement park, where they are separated by the crowds.
 Both grieve at the thought of having lost their first love until fate brings them together again. Lonesome was rare for its time period in that it showed ordinary people in natural settings and a cityscape teeming with life — a film of sentiment, humor, and poetic charm.

Friday, December 2, at 8:15 p.m.

Metropolis by Fritz Lang (1926, 137 minutes). Another screening and performance of The Alloy Orchestra's most popular original score, for Fritz Lang's classic German Expres-sionist drama of a future society of subterranean workers rising up against an industrial overlord.

Saturday, December 3, at 1:30 p.m.

The Lost World by Harry O. Hoyt (1925, 50 minutes), preceded by Trip to the Moon by George Melies

(France, 1902, 8 minutes). Long before there was Jurassic Park, filmmakers were fascinated with depicting prehistory. Using trick photography and puppet animation by early special effects wizard Willis O'Brien, the film shows savage battles between brontosauri, pterodactyls, and tyrannosauri as scientists venture through a strange land.

Week of Abruzzo Cinema

The eight films in this festival all have connections with Abruzzo, an members, students, seniors; $40 general admission. Double feature: $9, $10.

Thursday, December 8, at 10:30 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Condominium by Felice Farina (Italy, Condominio, 1991, 100 minutes). In a effort to make light of the often funny and tragic interchanges between people on a daily basis, director Felice Farina invites us to observe the activity in a 400-unit apartment complex in Maliana, one of the

 Rome.

Thursday, December 8, at 5:45 p.m.

Pianist Bob Winter accompanies the classic epic Cabiria by Giovanni Pastrone (Italy, 1914, 122 minutes, silent). The first film to cost over a million dollars, Cabiria recounts the bitter conflict between the Carthaginians and the Romans in the third century B.C. Tragic complications arise when love and politics conflict during the Second Punic War.

Friday, December 9, at 5:45 p.m.

Christmas Gift by Pupi Avati (Re-golo Di Natale, Italy, 1983, 101 minutes). From the director of The Story of Boys and Girls comes this subversive drama of four old friends reunited on Christmas Eve for a game of poker. Avati's creation becomes increasingly truthful and disturbing as he progressively strips these desperate men of their trite

ring Michele Placido and Antonella Murgia (Italy, 1980, 130 minutes). A stirring adaptation of the 1933 book by Ignazio Silone, Fontamara traces the life of Berardo Viola, a peasant from the village of Marsica, and his compelling struggle against the oppression of the Italian church and state.

Saturday, December 10, at 1:15 p.m.

Newlyweds by Pupi Avati (Sposi, Italy, 1988, 95 minutes). This fascinating film traces the lives of five different couples, the decisions they must make, and the uncertainties they must confront before they get married.

Saturday, December 10, at 3:15 p.m.

We'll Talk about It on Monday by Luciano Odorisio (Ne Parliamo Lunedì, Italy, 1989, 95 minutes). Nico, a hotel manager, arranges for his wife, Alma, to make love to a local radio disk-jockey, Marcello, who she has been fantasizing about. This over the top tale of sexual experimentation and spousal deceit becomes more strange and enthralling when Marcello and Alma make arrangements of their own.

Wednesday, December 14, at 5:45 p.m.

Men and Wolves by Giuseppe De Santis (1956, 107 minutes, silent). This rarely shown classic is set in the town of Vischio, where a prize of twenty thousand lire is offered to whomever can kill a wolf. Giovanni, a veteran hunter who is in town with his wife Teresa, competes for the prize against the youthful and predatory Riccio, a man who seems to prey on the women of the town as much as on the wolves.

Wednesday, December 14, at 8 p.m.

Grandmother decides that she and her husband must move in with one of their children.

New Films from Hong Kong

Treasure Hunt by Jeffrey Lau (1994, 105 minutes). In this mixed genre action, comedy drama, Chow Yun-Fat is an American-born Chinese working for the CIA. He is assigned to go to China to bring back a woman. But once there, he falls in love with the woman and discovers she has special powers.

Friday, December 30, at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Saturday, December 31, at 2 p.m.

Green Snake by Tsui Hark (1994, 100 minutes). From the maker of the Chinese Ghost Story series comes this visually extraordinary romantic fantasy. Joey Wong and Maggie Cheung star as two beautiful and seductive sister snakes, one white, the other green, who have trained for hundreds of years to be able to become humans. Based on a well known Chinese story, the film mixes lighthearted comedy with full-scale melodramatic tragedy.

MAYOR MENINO ANNOUNCES RESULTS OF B.R.A. STUDY

Challenging the state legislature and the Governor to find a way to get the facility built, Mayor Thomas M. Menino unveiled the results of a seven-month-long survey conducted by the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) on whether or not, and where, Boston's new exposition center and stadium should be located. Mayor Menino supported the BRA's recommendation to build a stand alone, exposition facility on C Street's industrial area.

"As attractive as the concept of a megaplex may be, the research presented by the BRA clearly indicates that it would not be advisable for Boston and the Commonwealth on a number of different levels," Mayor Menino said. The major reasons for the BRA recommending an exposition facility only include:

Site size — a megaplex would require 77 contiguous acres, leaving South Bay as the only alternative. The BRA rejected this isolated site for an exposition center because of its limited access to downtown visitor sites.

Compatibility — BRA analysis indicates that combining the two uses would likely result in insurmountable scheduling conflicts. Boston's prime season for conventions and trade shows occurs in the fall during the height of the football season. A mixed-use facility would mean that during football season, a third of the exposition space would be unavailable, reducing the contiguous space from 600,000 square feet to 400,000 square feet.

Parking — attendees of exposition events mostly come from outside the region, usually by air, and create modest parking needs: 3,000 spaces for a facility with 600,000 square feet of exhibition space. A 70,000-seat stadium requires 10,000-15,000 parking spaces — the equivalent of 5 to 7 Government Center parking garages.

According to Marisa Lago, BRA Director, "Why do we recommend the C Street industrial area? It's close to the downtown and other visitor sites. It has excellent transportation access for conventioners including highways through the Seaport Access Highway, mass transit options at South Station and the South Boston Transitway when it is completed, as well as access to the water shuttle to Logan Airport. It enhances the Menino administration's vision of the future — the redevelopment of Boston's waterfront — by fueling ancillary activity, such as hotels, restaurants and retail shops that bring pedestrian activity to the waterfront. As important is the minimal impact it will have on the South Boston neighborhood."

The study surveyed 12 sites, both for use as an exposition center and for use as a football stadium. An initial screening was conducted to eliminate sites that were simply too small or too remote or that had limited access.

After the initial screening, five sites remained for study as possible exposition center development:

- Back Bay/Hynes
- C Street Industrial Area
- Massachusetts Avenue/Melnea Cass Boulevard
- Northern Avenue
- South Bay

Two sites, Massachusetts Avenue/Melnea Cass and South Bay were recommended for further study as potential stadium locations.

Lago indicated that the benefit of a new exposition center in Boston is clear: jobs. The proposed development of the C Street industrial area site includes a four-year construction period with more than 2,200 workers. In the first year of operation, the facility would employ 463 people on-site and 3,049 off-site. In addition, the facility would generate the need for more than 1,626 new hotel rooms throughout the region in its first year.

The BRA study suggests that the state build a new exposition center that provides a maximum 600,000 square feet of contiguous exposition space. This would translate into a building of about 1.2 million square feet. As of 1992, Boston ranked 42nd in the country in size of publicly financed exhibition facilities; a new 600,000-square-foot exposition center would boost the city's ranking to eleventh.

10th ANNUAL HENRY L. SHATTUCK AWARDS

*Statement of
Mayor Thomas M. Menino,
October 18, 1994.*

In my years as a city councillor and now as mayor, I have always believed and stated that Boston is fortunate for the quality and commitment of its public employees. It is unfortunate but true that too often, when we hear about public workers, it's in the context of a negative story.

The fact is, the overwhelming majority of our employees are hard working and caring. Every day they are out there keeping the streets clean, maintaining our parks, working to create economic opportunity, protecting our homes and our families, staying after school to work with kids, and going out of their way to give comfort to the poor and the sick. In short, they go the extra mile to put a more human face on government.

As mayor then, it gives me special pride to be here tonight to give special recognition to eight of our most outstanding public servants.

For ten years, Boston's Municipal Research Bureau has sponsored the Henry L. Shattuck Public Service Award. In my opinion, it is one of the most prestigious awards a public servant can hope to achieve.

The Municipal Research Bureau has built its reputation on the tough but fair standards it sets for city government in general, and city workers and managers in particular. It is nothing short of inspiring then that each year, eight employees rise so far above the rest that they are recognized inside and outside of government — by their own peers and by the people they serve — for the outstanding job they do.

And to each of this year's winners, Mark Campbell; Karen Connor; Gertrude Fisher; Gladys Gaines; Kimberly Kalinowski; Barbara Locurto; Paul McMann; and Andrew Puleo; I want to thank you on behalf of the people of Boston for your hard work, dedication, and high standard of excellence.

RECYCLING EXPANDS IN BOSTON

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, on October 20, announced the expansion of the City of Boston's recycling program.

The Mayor said, "Our presence here at the Allston/Brighton drop-off site symbolizes Boston's transition from drop-off recycling, which only about 5 to 10 percent of residents participate in, to curbside recycling where we expect to see 65 to 75 percent participation or better. We are able to launch this expansion because my Administration committed increased money to the recycling budget. The money is well spent since recycling is an easy and effective way to make a positive difference in the quality of life in the City."

Citywide "blue box" multi-material curbside recycling collection will begin November 14. 140,000 recycling bins, "blue boxes," will be delivered to residents in the next three weeks.

Paper materials to be collected curbside will include newspapers, magazines, corrugated cardboard, brown kraft bags, and telephone books. These items should be flattened and placed in paper bags or bundled and tied with a string. "Blue box" materials can include clear, green, and brown glass bottles and jars, steel, "tin", and aluminum cans, aluminum foil and plates, empty aerosol cans, and plastic bottles which are marked with a "1" or a "2" on the bottom.

Residents will be receiving information about the recycling program along with "blue boxes." The information will be available in several languages, including Spanish, Haitian Creole, French, Chinese, Vietnamese, and Cambodian.

Materials picked up curbside will be transported to Prines Recycling in Charlestown, which has a three-year contract to process Boston's recyclables. The company will sort what is collected and then ship the materials to other businesses which will make the materials into new industrial and/or consumer products.

Speaking to reporters about the expansion of recycling at the Allston drop-off recycling center, the Mayor said, "In my campaign for Mayor, I told the people of Boston that my administration would make caring for the urban environment a priority. It's a commitment I have kept. As a former regular volunteer at the Roslindale drop-off center, I share the enthusiasm and excitement of residents and recycling activists for full curbside recycling in our city."

Mayor Menino told reporters that in addition to expanded recycling, the Administration was scheduled to start the first-ever citywide collection of leaves and grass clippings for composting. Residents are asked to take leaves and yard waste to the street for pickup starting October 29 for four consecutive Saturdays. Yard waste should be placed in paper compost bags, open barrels, or clear plastic garbage bags.

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

C. 1748-94.
May 19, 1994.

Professional Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Reverend Joseph E. Washington, the former Director of the Office of Minority and Women Business Enterprise, to conduct a comprehensive study of Minority and Women Business Enterprise across the nation. This is an employment contract with an individual and is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B. This contract is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

As the former Director, Reverend Washington is particularly well qualified to undertake this task. He is knowledgeable, well attuned to the responsibilities of the Office, and sensitive to the national and local political issues that face Boston and MWBE's across the country. Reverend Washington's prior experience will enable him to create a study specifically tailored to Boston's needs. Under the terms of the contract, Reverend Washington will review Disparity Studies conducted in the other major cities, examine communities that have adopted Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Programs, study the related court cases that have resulted from challenges to Minority and Women Business Enterprise Programs, assess the implications of these decisions and major trends in the area, compile monthly reports detailing his findings, and prepare a final report which will synthesize this information and outline a series of recommendations for improving the success of the Minority and Women Business Enterprise Program in the City of Boston.

The term of this contract is the period commencing on June 1, 1994, and ending November 30, 1994. Total compensation under this contract shall not exceed $35,000, with $5,835 paid in Fiscal Year 1994 and $29,165 in Fiscal Year 1995. Payments will be made on a monthly basis on receipt of status reports as are more specifically described in the contract. In addition, Reverend Washington will be authorized a maximum of $1,000 for necessary expenses incurred in carrying out this study.

Because of the specific professional nature of the services to be performed, the specialized experience and expertise of Reverend Washington, and the reasonable cost of these services, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Christopher A. Fox,
Deputy Chief Operating Officer.

C. 9102-95.
June 2, 1994.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award an employment contract to Daniel S.J. Wilson, an individual located at 4625 Briarcliff Road, Baltimore, Maryland, 21229. Mr. Wilson will continue to fill the position of Director of the City's Washington Office. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B as is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Mr. Wilson will report to the Director of Intergovernmental Relations, coordinate the City's Washington activities, including legislative monitoring, and federal agency outreach, and work with national organizations representing cities to advance city agenda. Mr. Wilson is uniquely qualified to do this work because of his expertise in dealing with major cities and their relationship with the federal government. Mr. Wilson has represented both the governor and the City of New York. He was also in private practice with DSJW Associates, where he worked as a private consultant focusing on transportation, infrastructure and economic development issues.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $62,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995, at a rate of $39 per hour.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. Mr. Wilson is currently under a contract agreement with this department that will expire on June 30, 1994.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Ciolek,
Chief Operating Officer.

Budget Management

C. 1268-95.
June 28, 1994.

Student Intern

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Andrea Lynn Anglada, an individual, located at 14 Waldo Avenue, Apt. 1R, Somerville, MA 02143, to provide student intern services from Harvard School of Government. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B as a contract of employment and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract Ms. Anglada will assist this office with the development, organization, and implementation of an in-depth review of performance measures in the City. Ms. Anglada is uniquely qualified to do this work because of her demonstration of excellent knowledge of City government, analytical techniques, writing, and organizational skills.

I have determined after reasonable investigation that Ms. Anglada is especially well qualified to provide these services.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $4,200. Payment shall be made at the rate of $12 per hour, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, to September 9, 1994.

This contract is being processed late due to the time required to recruit a candidate to meet the needs of this position, and for the receipt, completion and return of the required documents.

Very truly yours,

Neil Gordon,
Director.

Health Benefits and Insurance

C. 1741-95.
June 13, 1994.

Insurance

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In accordance with Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 32B, Section 11D, the City of Boston is required to purchase Accidental Death Insurance for eligible policemen and firefighters, on terms deemed to be in the best interest of the City and its employees. (NOTE: Group Insurance Contracts are exempt from the requirements of the Uniform Procurement Act, Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 30B).

This coverage provides a death benefit amount of nearly two times the policeman's/firefighter's annual salary, paid to his/her beneficiary, for loss of life due to bodily injury caused by an accident in the line of duty. The death benefit amount is determined by the insurance schedule contained in M.G.L. Chapter 32B, Section 11A.

An employee is considered eligible for this coverage if he/she is employed by the City of Boston as an active full-time policeman or firefighter on a permanent basis and is under age 70.

Employee participation in this plan is on a voluntary basis. However, to ensure that each eligible person is contacted, he/she is required to submit a signed enrollment card either electing or rejecting the coverage.

In FY '93 the Health Benefit and Insurance Division received bids from seven (7) insurance companies interested in providing this coverage to the city. They were as follows:

Insurance Company.	Monthly Rate Per $1,000/Coverage
AIG Life Insurance Co.	.03c
Commercial Life Insurance Co.	.042c
International Accident Facilities	.0465c
Life Insurance Co. of North America	.0375c
ITT Hartford Insurance Group	.14c
Home Insurance Company	.035c
Reliance Standard Life Insurance Co.	.04c

The contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, AIG Life Insurance Company, 101 Federal Street, Boston, MA 02110.

The contract amounts for the past three fiscal years with AIG Life are as follows:

FY '92 - $96,000
FY '93 - $96,000
FY '94 - $96,000

Your Honor's permission is requested to approve the award of a contract with AIG Life Insurance Company for Accidental Death Insurance for the period of July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995, in an amount not to exceed $105,000 from appropriation code 011-140-0142-HR03-0490.

Respectfully,

Irene Carrington,
Director.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT

C. 1207-95.

Professional Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a sole source procurement contract to Jack Kardon, an individual, located at 402 VFW Parkway West Roxbury, MA 02132, for professional services to the Assessing Department.

Under the terms of the contract, Jack Kardon will provide instructions on an ongoing basis regarding streamlining the Assessing Department filing procedures. In addition, the Contractor will coordinate all interdepartmental requests for information retained by the Assessing Department on its procedures, including but not limited to valuations, abatement programs, and clause exemptions.

Mr. Kardon is uniquely qualified to perform these services because of his seventeen years of experience with the City of Boston Assessing Department. The Contractor was the Associate Commissioner of Assessing from 1971 to 1984, and has the expertise to quickly and accurately inform the taxpayer of the various programs the City of Boston has to offer. Mr Kardon also has the ability to solve complex problems that arise from motor excise tax bills.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $9,990. The Contractor shall be paid at the rate of $20 per hour, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995.

Because of the sole source of the services to be procured, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

BOSTON CAN SHARE FOOD DRIVE KICK-OFF CELEBRATION

Statement of Mayor Thomas M. Menino, October 24, 1994

Each year, Boston businesses, residents and employees have come together to make this drive a success. I want to thank all of you for your support of the 1994 Boston Can Share Food Drive. Your generous contributions of food will make a concrete difference in the lives of hungry families and individuals during the upcoming holiday season.

The 1993 Boston Can Share Food Drive was the most successful ever. With your help, and a generous donation by Bush Beans of 45,000 pounds of beans and vegetables, we collected over 155,000 pounds of nutritious food, over double the amount collected the previous year. It will be difficult for us to match this incredible accomplishment, but we must. Thousands of hungry men and women in the Boston area are counting on us.

Since my election as Mayor of Boston, I have worked to direct city resources toward helping hungry people in our community. This past summer, I directed $105,000 in grants to over 80 food pantries, soup kitchens, and shelters in Boston, to help them get through a difficult season.

We also created 20 open area sites for the summer breakfast and lunch program, so that children would be able to continue to get nutritious meals while they were out of school.

Previously, a child would only be able to get meals if he or she was in a specific summer activity program.

In addition, we converted three city farmstands into farmer's markets, so that more city residents would get farm-fresh produce at competitive prices.

With the loss of 400,000 jobs in Massachusetts since 1989, hunger is a problem not only for Boston, but for the suburbs and rural parts of Massachusetts as well. And, although it appears we are in the early stages of an economic rebound, layoffs continue, and the creation of new jobs remains slow.

A comprehensive study of childhood hunger in Massachusetts found

CITY TO PURCHASE BUNKER GEAR FOR FIREFIGHTERS

Mayor Thomas M. Menino announced, on October 23, the funding of 3,000 sets of bunker gear for the city's firefighters. The purchase of the bunker gear at a cost of $1,625,000 will ensure that Boston firefighters have the latest in personal safety clothing.

"Our firefighters face a variety of hazards in responding to over 47,000 incidents each year. This city is committed to making sure that they have every advantage to deal with situations that range from intense building fires to chemical spills," said Mayor Menino.

Bunker gear consists of a coat, pants, and a pair of boots. The coats and pants are made of a three-component assembly of an outer that hunger is a reality for 195,000 children under 12 in Massachusetts — one in four. And, more than 600,000 people in Massachusetts face hunger each day.

Hunger is invisible. Many people may be surprised to learn that the family next door might have to make the choice of "to eat or to heat." That is why we must all do our best to help each other out.

I am happy to announce the kick-off of the 1994 Boston Can Share Food Drive, and would like to thank all of the participating businesses and organizations for your generous support. Let's make this year's Can Share Food Drive the most successful ever.

shell, a thermal liner, and a moisture barrier. The outer shell provides protection against flame impingement. The thermal liner together with the outer shell provide for thermal protection, and the moisture barrier allows water vapor to escape from within the coats and pants yet keeps water out.

A rate of $8 per inch of 12 lines (set solid) has been established for such advertisements as under the law must be printed in the City Record. Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by 5:00 p.m., Wednesday of each week to insure its publication in the following Monday's issue.

PLEASE NOTE: That the deadline of 5:00 p.m., Wednesday of each week is ten days in advance of publication.

"I would like to thank Mayor Menino for acting so quickly on my request to provide bunker gear to all Boston firefighters," said Fire Commissioner Martin E. Pierce, Jr.

The bunker gear the city is purchasing was chosen as a result of a year long wear test conducted by firefighters in the field.

"What we have tried to accomplish was to develop a set of protective clothing which not only offers a firefighter a high degree of protection from heat and flame, but to also eliminate some of the weight and bulkiness of the gear used today," said equipment, safety, and research officer Captain Hugh Duffy.

Each firefighter will receive two sets of bunker gear at a cost of over $500 for each set. This bunker gear can be easily maintained by using just a washer and dryer. A big advantage for firefighters is that it allows greater mobility for the tasks that firefighters face such as climbing ladders and stairways, confined space rescues, carrying equipment, vehicle extractions, and E.M.S. calls.

"We have always tried to provide Boston firefighters with the best equipment available to do their job. From new apparatus to the latest in air masks and P.A.S.S. devices, this new advancement into bunker gear will continue the tradition of making sure the men and women of our department have the tools necessary to answer each call," said Fire Commissioner Pierce.

MAYOR APPOINTS WORKERS' COMP MANAGER

Mayor Thomas M. Menino is pleased to announce the appointment of Patty Morey Walker to Manager of the Workers' Compensation Department at Boston City Hall. Ms. Morey Walker, a resident of Jamaica Plain for the past four years, has been employed by the Boston Public Schools as Coordinator of Workers' Compensation.

Ms. Morey Walker received her Bachelor's degree from Springfield College and her Master's degree from Boston University. She worked in the private sector before her employment with the BPS.

Introducing preventative/risk management programs as well as significantly reducing Workers' Comp expenditures has been the hallmark of her tenure with the BPS. A unique program combines a process of ergonomic assessments of job sites with a teacher/students program at the McKinley School, where products to assist in ergonomically correct worksites are constructed. Ms. Morey Walker also has great familiarity with the Americans with Disabilities Act and has introduced projects to address the ADA in improving hiring practices.

The goals of preventing unnecessary accidents through worker training and safer work sites, reducing costs through aggressive yet supportive case management and cracking down on fraudulent claims will be Ms. Morey Walker's focus in this position. She hopes to work closely with all City Departments to reach these goals.

Ms. Morey Walker is active in a number of community activities including starting a "girl's group" for JP youth, at the Agassiz Community Center.

MAYOR REAPPOINTS ALAN SCHWARTZ TO LANDMARKS COMMISSION

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has reappointed Alan Schwartz as a Mayoral At-Large Member of the Boston Landmarks Commission. Schwartz is one of two at-large members on the nine-member Commission.

Schwartz has served on several historic preservation boards, including that of the National Trust for Historic Preservation. In addition, he helped establish as landmarks the Curley House and the Vilna Shul. Schwartz currently serves as the Chairman of the Boston Landmarks Commission.

MAYOR MOVES MURAG
FORWARD

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has directed the Department of Public Facilities to provide the financing necessary to complete the remediation work at the MURAG site and allow for the construction of the Martha Elliot Health Center and Purity Supreme Supermarket to go forward. (The Mayor made this decision rather than wait for the state to decide on a course of action.)

Mayor Menino said, "This is a vital project to the community that we want to see move forward. My administration is serious about making this project happen. I want to make sure progress on this project continues to provide the community with a convenient supermarket and affordable health care."

The Mayor's directive will allow for the property to be cleaned and the hazardous material extracted from this site to be treated. For years, tenants left contaminating agents on the parcel. During the early stages of the project, work crews found contamination to be far greater than tests indicated. The cost of solving the problem ran the project over the budget, but the Mayor's action allows the project to move forward.

HAUNTED HOUSE AT CITY HALL

On Monday, October 31, City Hall was transformed into a Haunted Hall, open to the public from 12 noon until 8 p.m. This was a fun introduction for many of the city's children to City Hall which featured twenty-foot puppets, 150lb. giant pumpkins, a Hansel and Gretel oven and much much more. Programming during the day included story telling, face painting, theater workshops and inter-active games. There were fruit and baby pumpkins for the children to take home and Mayor Menino made a surprise appearance during the day's activities.

This event served a number of purposes being of both educational value and fun for the children and also offering them an unusual and safe venue to visit on Halloween night. The first ever Haunted Hall in City Hall Lobby was part of Mayor Menino's continuing efforts to make his administration more user friendly and to make City Hall a more attractive place for city residents to visit.

This event was produced by Mayor Menino's Office of Special Events and Tourism in cooperation with Ed Williams and Creating it Through Productions, The Aquarium, Boston Children's Theater, Riverside Theater Company and the Haymarket Men's Pushcart Association.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

COMMUNITY CENTERS

C. 1346-95.
June 30, 1994.

Tenant Empowerment

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to the Committee for Boston Public Housing, Inc., a non-profit corporation located at 100 Terrace Street, Suite B, Roxbury, MA 02120, for tenant empowerment, education, employment and training and daycare services. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, the Committee for Boston Public Housing, Inc., (hereinafter referred to as the Committee) will continue to work with public tenant task forces in eleven neighborhood family developments in the areas of tenant empowerment and service delivery advocacy.

Activities will include:

1. Developing and maintaining child care resources with parent involvement, including the Washington-Beech Community Daycare Center and early childhood care and education programs at Orient Heights, Faneuil, Franklin Hill, Orchard Park, Gallivan, and Whittier Street. This is and will continue to be the single most important task on the project's agenda, and it will continue to command the largest portion of staff time and involvement at the local and central office levels.

2. Improving tenants' access to and involvement with social and community services through increased collaboration with public and voluntary agencies. The project will continue to help tenants foster working relationships with agencies close to their developments, and with larger institutions which can provide resources for their developments. It will also continue to generate increased collaboration among agencies and institutions so that they can better understand and respond to children and family needs in public housing.
3. Securing adequate program space as a prerequisite to program development including continued work on renovation of city-owned recreation centers at Gallivan and Archdale; redevelopment planning at Orient Heights and Cathedral; and negotiating space use arrangements with public and/or private agencies located in and adjacent to Orchard Park.

These activities are a continuation of the Committee's efforts to enhance the quality of life of public housing tenants in Boston that have been supported by grants awarded by the Bernard van Leer Foundation, the Boston Foundation, the City of Boston, and the Massachusetts Department of Social Services, among other funding sources.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $115,000 which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of the contract shall be August 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995.

The Committee was established through a consortium of tenant associations, government agencies, and human service organizations to assure that the needs of public housing tenants living in Boston were addressed. Since the Committee is receiving funds for other private and public sources as well for this same purpose, and the City's contribution is viewed as a required "cash match" in order to secure these funds, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

Evelyn Riesenberg,
Executive Director.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

C. 1705-95.
May 2, 1994.

Labor Relations

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to James B. Cox, Esquire, from the firm of Mahoney, Hawkes and Goldings, 75 Park Plaza, Boston, MA 02116.

Under the terms of the contract, James Cox will represent the Boston Fire Department in various labor relations matters as referred to him by the Office of the Fire Commissioner/Chief of the Boston Fire Department. The contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $50,000 an amount I have determined to be reasonable for the work performed. Payment for services associated with this contract shall be charged to appropriation 011-221-0221-0290. The hourly rate shall be $125.

The term of the contract shall be from July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995. Contract Number is 1705-95.

James B. Cox has had a contract with the City of Boston Labor Relations Department for seven years. In that the work performed was primarily with the Boston Fire Department, it was recommended that this department contract directly with Mr. Cox.

Mr. Cox is uniquely qualified to perform this service due to his past experience in all aspects of labor relations.

Respectfully,

Martin E. Pierce, Jr.,
Commissioner/Chief.

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

C. 91-94.

Software Maintenance

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Medical Information Technology, Inc., (Meditech) a corporation, located at 1 Meditech Circle, Westwood, MA 02090. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract, Meditech will provide software maintenance for the Meditech Laboratory Information System, a proprietary computer software program used for the laboratory information system at Boston City Hospital. This contract is necessary to maintain quality patient care. All laboratory test results are entered into the system and physicians reference this system constantly for laboratory test results on their patients. The maintenance fee for this contract will be $50,000. An additional $15,000 will be added for repairs after hours.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $65,000 which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1994.

Therefore because Meditech is the only vendor who can maintain this system, and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable no benefit would inure to the City by public advertising for bids.

Documents were sent to the vendor on June 23, 1993, and were not returned until the end of September, 1993. Also, negotiations between Meditech and our legal department over the terms and conditions were not complete until the end of April. Therefore this award is being processed late.

Very truly yours,

Lawrence Dwyer,
Commissioner.

System Upgrade

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I request your Honor's permission to award a contract, without advertising, to Intelus Co poration, 9210 Corporate Blvd., Rockville, MD 20850, to upgrade the Intelus Chart Flo 2000 computer system located in the Medical Records Department at Boston City Hospital. This contract is exempt from G.L. c.30B and is being awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

The Chart Flo Central 2000 System is a chart tracking, deficiency management, productivity measurement software. With the implementation of an appointment scheduling computer system in the Ambulatory Care Center the Intelus System must be upgraded to interact with the scheduling system. The upgrade consists of a DEC station 5000, Model 260 with accessories, at $22,092; a Chart Flo 2000 Base Station System and Application Software at $17,791; a Chart Flo 200 Correspondence Control at $12,000 and a conversion fee of $1,000. Intelus is offering a discount of $2,792 on the upgrade, for a final charge of $50,091, a cost I deem to be reasonable.

The term of this contract shall be June 15, 1994, through December 31, 1994.

Because Intelus Corporation's Chart Flo Central 2000 System is proprietary software, only Intelus Corporation can perform the upgrade to the system presently in place in the Medical Records Department. Therefore no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are therefore subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St.4, ss. 4 and 8.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

C. 841-94.
May 26, 1994.

Blood Culture System

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Difco Laboratories, 920 Henry Street, P.O. Box 331058, Detroit, Michigan 48232, for the provision of an Automated Blood Culture System with reagents to Boston City Hospital. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract, Difco Laboratories will provide Boston City Hospital with an ESP 384 Blood Culture System and an ESP 128 Blood Culture System which includes the computer hardware. The Hospital will receive equipment through a reagent rental process.

Over the period of five (5) years, Boston City Hospital will purchase fifty (50) cases of ESP 80A Aerobic Broth at $30,852.50/yr. and 50 cases of 80N Anaerobic Broth at $30,852.50/yr. for each of the five years. The individual bottle price will be $3.01. The equipment has a one year warranty and a maintenance contract for the second year will be purchased for $7,800. The Hospital may purchase the equipment, at its option, for $1 upon the successful completion of the contract. There is a cap of 4 percent on any increase of reagent prices or service maintenance cost, for each of the following years.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $374,579. The term of this contract shall be March 1, 1994, through February 28, 1999.

At a recent conference of Boston teaching hospitals a study by two university centers on the detection of bacteremia was presented. All three systems currently on the market were evaluated and both studies concluded that the process used by the ESP System was superior. The ESP System machines use a unique method of detection not found in either of the other available systems.

In view of the above, and because the cost, in my opinion is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Although the legal documents were sent to the vendor on February 7, 1994, all the documents were not received from the vendor until May 24, 1994, therefore this contract is being processed late.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St. 4, ss. and 8.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence Dwyer,
Commissioner.

Cardiac Pacemakers

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract, without advertising, to Ventritex, Inc., 709E Evelyn Ave., Sunnyvale, CA 94086, for the purchase of Cardiac Pacemakers. This contract is exempt from G.L. c.30B and being processed under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract, Ventritex, Inc., will provide the Department of Health and Hospitals with Bi-phasic Wave Form devices to be implanted for the management of cardiac rhythm.

Ventritex is the only company who manufactures this sophisticated device. Bi-phasic devices contain higher levels of energy which is for use in those instances where a patient is suspected to be at risk of a rhythm disorder which could result in death.

The term of this contract shall be June 25, 1994, through June 30, 1995, at a cost not to exceed $100,000.

In view of the above, and because the cost, in my opinion is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids at this time.

The above contract amount is an approximate figure based on estimated volumes. In accordance with Article 3.2 of the City's Purchasing Contract General Conditions, the vendor shall furnish at the price or prices specified such additional quantities of goods, not to exceed 25 percent of the quantities specified, upon receipt of my written request.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St. 4, ss. 4 and 8.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence Dwyer,
Commissioner.

Equipment Repair

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Siemens Medical Systems, Inc., 186 Wood Avenue, Iselin, New Jersey 08830, for preventive maintenance and repair of Siemens medical equipment. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract, Siemens Medical Systems, Inc., will provide the four (4) preventive maintenance sessions and repair, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., to include parts, labor, travel and glassware for the following equipment:

- (1)Siemens remote 90/90 sierography D3 R&F w/100cm camera. 50-s polydros generator w/tube.
- (1)Siemens Sireskop 5/R&F w/100cm camera w/overhead tube.
- (2)Siemens Pantoskop 5/R&F w/100cm camera and Tomography w/overhead tube.
- (1)Siemens Multix UH w/polyhos 50 w/to-

(1)Siemens Siremobil 4H C-Arm unit.

The cost for preventive maintenance is $346,000. An additional $100,000 will be set aside to pay for repairs. The evening and Saturday rate of $128/hr. and Sunday and holiday rate of $192/hr. will not exceed the CPI rate during the term of the contract.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $446,000.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1996.

Therefore, because Siemens Medical Systems, Inc., is the manufacturer with personnel specially trained to perform preventive maintenance and repairs of the above equipment, and as the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

This contract encompasses more than one fiscal year and the City's financial obligations are subject to the availability of an appropriation in accordance with the requirements of City of Boston Code, St. 4, ss. 4 and 8.

Radioactive Waste

Dear Mayor:

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to ADCO Services, Inc., a corporation, located at 17650 Duvan Drive, Tinley Park, Illinois 60477, to remove radioactive waste from Boston City Hospital. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c.30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract ADCO Services, Inc., will remove RAD dry waste from Boston City Hospital upon request. The current cost is $59.96 per cu. ft. subject to any increase initiated by the disposal site. In addition, there is a State of South Carolina surcharge of $110 per cu. ft. of RAD dry waste if less than 200 pounds per 55-gallon drum. An additional amount of $170/50 lbs. will be added to any amount over 200 lbs/55-gallon drum. This cost is also subject to increase by the State of South Carolina. The Department will be notified by ADCO 30 days in advance of any increase.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $15,000 which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, because ADCO Services is listed on the Department's Nuclear Regulatory Commission federal license, NRC #20-00275-08 and will take responsibility for certain waste upon removal while other companies do not, and also because as charges are only accrued upon removal with free delivery, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Lawrence Dwyer,
Commissioner.

I request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Shepard N. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. Chapter 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under this contract Mr. Cohen will assist in the oversight of the hospital's major contract with the Trustees of Boston University for physicians' services. Other activities will include direct involvement with the hospital's Graduate Medical Education Committee, with accreditation visits, with long-range planning for education programs, with evaluation of residency programs and with the credentialing of house staff. Mr. Cohen is especially qualified to perform these services as he has ten years of direct, intense and successful experience as an administrator of Graduate Medical Education programs and of teaching hospital-medical school affiliations. This area is highly specialized.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $8,400. Services are to be provided four (4) hours per week at a cost of $40 per hour.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995.

In view of Shepard Cohen's expertise, the nature of the specialized services to be performed and the reasonable cost of these services, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

Laboratory Tests

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request Your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Brigham & Women's Hospital, a corporation located at 75 Francis Street, Boston, MA 02115, for various outside laboratory tests. Platelet Antibodies	$336
Direct Platelet Antibody	$189
Indirect Platelet Antibody	$147
Rubella Titer	$ 79

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $60,000 which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract is July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995.

The IgG subtypes are ordered exclusively on pediatric patients with certain immunodeficiency disorders. These children have been tested repeatedly to monitor their disease and their response to therapy. Brigham & Women's Hospital has extensive experience in this area of testing and has followed these children for years. Brigham & Women's Hospital is the only vendor in the area that performs the remaining tests on a stat basis.

Therefore in view of the above and because the cost, in my opinion, is reasonable, no benefit would inure to the City by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,

Lawrence A. Dwyer,
Commissioner.

VIII. COMMENDATIONS

2. The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Michael Higgins Ladder Company 24, who, on October 4, 1994, while off duty, assisted a driver of an automobile on fire and extinguished the flames, thus mitigating further damage, and makes this commendation a part of his personnel folder.

3. The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Fighter Roberto Ortiz of Ladder Company 2, for rendering first aid to a shooting victim, while off duty, on October 20, 1994 at 149 Bennington Street, before the arrival of apparatus, and makes this commendation a part of his personnel folder.

IX. HIGH COMMENDATION

On March 27, 1994, at approximately 0400 hours, Engine Company 2 and Ladder Company 19 returned to quarters from a false alarm. Upon reaching reaching the second floor hallway of the firehouse, Captain Joseph I. Holland of Engine Company 2 was confronted by two individuals who had entered the firehouse during the absence of the companies. One of the individuals put two handguns to Captain Holland's head and began making irrational demands including bringing certain on duty members to the second floor location. At this point he removed the guns momentarily and Captain Holland seized the man's wrists and pinned him against the wall. In doing so, the man's jacket opened revealing two more handguns in his waistline. While keeping a vigilant eye on the second person, Captain Holland continued to restrain the armed man, saying he would release him if he calmed down. The second individual at this time walked down the stairs and out of the firehouse.

After agreeing to calm down, Captain Holland released his grip and the armed man again pointed the gun to the Captain's head, demanding that he call the Mayor. Captain Holland called the Fire Alarm Office pretending to be talking to the Mayor's Office. The irrational behavior escalated to where he again demanded certain members be brought to him. Captain Holland refused to do so. After an extended period of time the armed man asked about the Mayor's response and being infuriated fired a shot at Captain Holland missing his head by inches. He then threw a gun at the Captain, hitting him on the knee. The gun landed on the floor between Captain Holland's legs.

He then demanded Captain Holland pick it up. The Captain refused, telling him he did not use or approve of guns. After another extended period of time the armed man sat on the floor in a corner and continuing to point the guns at Captain Holland, told him to leave and close the door behind him. Captain Holland, at this time, walked out of the room and, after ordering all members out of the building, exited the firehouse.

Because of his composure during this volatile incident, Fire Captain Holland most certainly prevented the injury or death to all members working on that tour of duty.

Because of his life saving actions, under extreme personal risk, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Captain Joseph I. Holland of Engine Company 2 and refers his case to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Consultant Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to John Flanagan, an individual, located at 715 Bennington Street, East Boston, MA 02128, for provision of contracted Payroll and Personnel Consultant Services. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B because it is an employment contract and is therefore awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Mr. Flanagan will be responsible for providing support in all MIS payroll and personnel transactions and will oversee various projects relative to DP Services.

I have determined after reasonable investigation that Mr. Flanagan is uniquely qualified to do this work because of his prior role as MIS DP Services Director. In addition he has many years of experience and possesses an unmatched knowledge of the City's payroll and personnel procedures and it is in this capacity he will provide the City with unequaled expertise at a substantial saving to the City.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $25,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be August 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995. This contract will be charged to appropriation code 011-

140-0149-MI01-0290 with an initial encumbrance of $20,000.

Because of Mr. Flanagan's unique knowledge of this system and cost estimates which more than double the rate to be paid to Mr. Flanagan ($36.19) per hour, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,

Allen K. Stern,
Chief Information Officer.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Julie M. Brown, an individual, located at 34 Lawrence Street, Boston, MA 02116, for provision of contracted Mapping and Geographic Consultant Services on the GIS/Intergraph Mapping System. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B because it is an employment contract and is therefore awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Ms. Brown will be responsible for providing support for City-wide Intergraph users, the operations of the System Hardware (VAX workstation and UNIX microstation based), Intergraph IGDS and Fortran interface programming, problem resolution, operator training, troubleshooting, project digitization and map design.

I have determined after reasonable investigation that Ms. Brown is uniquely qualified to do this work because of her experience with Vax-based Intergraph systems and IGDS programming and operations. For the past 6 years she has provided this service for MIS at a substantial savings to the City.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $50,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be August 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995. This contract will be charged to appropriation code 011-140-0149-MI05-0290 with an initial encumbrance of $40,000.

Because of Ms. Brown's unique knowledge of this system and cost estimates which more than double the rate to be paid to Ms. Brown ($28) per hour, I believe public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Lease of 1010 Mass. Ave.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award an emergency contract pursuant to G.L.C. 30B, Section 8, for the lease of 1010 Massachusetts Avenue, 3rd floor, deemed necessary and convenient, by me, to be used as office and operations space by the Parks and Recreation Department.

The Parks and Recreation Department is currently in the process of re-negotiating rental space. However, this process became delayed during the first part of this year due to an unanticipated transition process that required many hours of staff time. This transition process resulted in the delay on the part of the department to expedite a new lease agreement. This emergency contract will allow the necessary time period needed to perform this function.

The demised premises consists of 28,181 square feet at 1010 Massachusetts Avenue, Third Floor, Boston, MA 02118. The lessor is 1010 Massachusetts Avenue Trust, c/o of the Niles Company, Inc.

The term of the lease extension is April 1, 1994, through September 30, 1994. The $14.50 square-foot rent, which is the same rent as in the lease we have been operating under and which I consider extremely reasonable for rental office and operations space, shall cost the Department $204,000 for the six-month period. The monthly lease payment is $34,052. The total cost of the lease shall not exceed $204,000 (April 1, 1994, through September 30, 1994), which will be charged to the Parks and Recreation Department budget.

Since the Parks and Recreation Department has occupied this space since May 1, 1989, and has determined its location to be satisfactory and convenient for various Parks and Recreation constituencies, it is my judgment that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. It is my opinion that the best interests of the City would be served by awarding this contract to 1010 Massachusetts Avenue Trust, c/o the Niles Company, Inc., Agent - First Mutual of Boston, 303 Congress Street, Boston, MA 02210. I respectfully request that your Honor's approval of this emergency extension of the lease.

Sincerely,

Patrick S. Harrington,
Commissioner.

Youth Employment Program

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with inviting proposals and to award a contract to the Boys and Girls Club of Boston, Inc., 50 Congress Street, Boston, MA 02109, to provide financial management and administrative support services for a Youth-At-Risk Program for the period beginning July 1, 1994, through October 15, 1994. This is a grant to a non-profit organization and this contract is exempt from the provision of G.L. c.30B.

The City of Boston proposes to operate a Youth Employment Program for the ages 14 through 20 years old during the months of July and August. The goal will be to reach as many individuals in the high crime, high poverty neighborhoods as possible. The program will employ youngsters in both professional settings as well as local human service providers and to give a wide range of employment opportunities. In addition, a cleanup component will be expanded to clean various areas throughout the City of Boston that are presently beyond the capacity of the present municipal staffs.

The E.D.I.C. Office of Boston intends to contract with the state who will then contract with the Parks and Recreation Department to oversee financial obligations and the operations of the program. The Parks and Recreation Department will contract with The Boys and Girls Club of Boston, Inc. for financial administration of the program. In order to reach the broadest range of participants as possible, the Private Industry Council and Action for Boston Community Development will participate by assisting in employment at various locations.

The objective of the program will be to provide a positive work environment to young adults that will help build self esteem and hopefully lead to permanent full-time employment. At the very least, we believe the program will provide relief for the many hard pressed families in the Commonwealth and will lessen the tensions that presently exist in so many of our communities by providing some kind of income to the families.

The contractual arrangement between the Boys and Girls Club of Boston and the Parks and Recreation Department would insure the fiscal administration of the Youth-At-Risk Program in an efficient and cost effective manner, while permitting the Parks and Recreation Department to not only monitor the performance of the contract, but also manage and supervise the Youth-At-Risk Program.

Under the terms of the contract, the Boys and Girls, Club of Boston, Inc., will provide financial management services and administrative support services, i.e. payrolls, supplies, materials and administration necessary to operate the Youth-At-Risk Program. In so doing they would maintain all books, records, accounts and other financial data necessary for the administration of the program. The Parks and Recreation Department will reimburse the contractor for approved disbursement made by the contractor on behalf of the Parks and Recreation Department.

The contractor will be paid an administrative fee which is a percentage of the total contract amount ($2,375,000), which in turn represents the amount budgeted for administration of the Youth-At-Risk Employment Program. This percentage (3.89% or $88,928.19 which is calculated by  $$2,375,000.00 \times 3.89\% = $88,928.19$ ) will be subtracted from the total contract price and will represent the total amount paid directly to the contractor for services rendered under the contract.

In view of the efficiency and expertise of the Boys and Girls Club of Boston, Inc. in financial management and administrative support matters, public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Patrick S. Harrington,
Commissioner.

Autobody Repairs

Dear Mayor Menino:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Victory Ford, Inc., a corporation, located at 1776 Washington Street, Stoughton, Massachusetts 02072.

In response to an advertisement published in the City Record on June 28 and July 5, 1993, and the Goods and Services Bulletin on June 21, 1993, for autobody repair services, the department's Contract Unit opened and read on July 14, 1993, five qualified bids for services in which Victory Ford, Inc. submitted the lowest responsible and responsive bid. Victory Ford, Inc. was awarded the contract which was executed by your Honor on August 27, 1993.

In accordance with the terms and conditions of the FY94 contract, the contract is subject to renewal for one additional year at the sole discretion of the Official. The Department would like at this time to exercise its option to renew given the vendor's excellent work performance in FY94. The renewal of this contract shall enable the department to secure the same unit prices as bid in FY94 which are reasonable compared to industry standards. I have determined that the renewal of this contract is the most expeditious and advantageous manner in which to proceed as it will guarantee the department both a quality work performance and reasonable prices.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed the original contract price of $399,250. All unit prices, terms and conditions shall conform to the contract specifications as bid on July 14, 1993. The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995. Given that this award exercises the department's option to renew as originally advertised and that Victory Ford, Inc. won the contract award based on the lowest responsive bid, I feel that further advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully
Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

Emergency Work

RE: Emergency Underground Storage Tank Removal and Replacement at Station D-4, 7 Warren Avenue, South End, Project No. 6021.

Dear Mayor Menino:

The above referenced building is owned by the Police Department of the City of Boston ("BPD"). On November 13, 1993, the Public Facilities Department of the City of Boston ("BPD") was notified by the Police Department that an underground storage tank was ruptured due to an explosion. The explosion caused the release of approximately 1,500 gallons of gasoline into the ground and sewer system. This emergency was a danger to the public and to the users of the area.

The Commonwealth's Department of Environmental Protection ("DEP") and the Boston Fire Department ("BFD") ordered immediate clean-up and tank removal. The DEP and BFD summoned Clean Harbors, Inc., to conduct the clean-up. On November 15, 1993, PFD was advised by the BPD that the tank replacement was imperative for their daily operations and it was experiencing considerable down time because BPD vehicles had to be fueled at other facilities, thereby posing a significant risk to the health and safety of the district.

The DEP which has overseen the clean-up, removal and replacement to date, had a number of requirements concerning the design and installation of the new tank. These requirements resulted in delays in the construction and installation of the new tank. This contract is for the interim emergency response, prior to the tank replacement.

Under the direction of the DEP, Green Environmental, Inc., formulated and implemented an emergency response plan. Green Environmental, Inc., drilled and installed recovery wells for the purpose of extracting gasoline and other contaminants from ground water and soil. They were also responsible for the monitoring and maintenance of said recovery system during the ongoing emergency response, as well as monitoring of sewer and other sub-surface utilities.

Green Environmental, Inc., was responsible for the formulation and implementation of a health and safety plan.

Pursuant to the authority of M.G.L. C.30, s.39M, on November 15, 1993, the following contractor, normally engaged in this type of service was called to view and bid on this work. The result is as follows:

Green Environmental, Inc., $58,652.29.
Green Environmental, Inc., is the lowest eligible and responsible bid, by a contractor who could perform the work immediately. Upon receiving the above bid, PFD had an independent consultant evaluate the cost, and it was found reasonable for the scope of the activity.

This contract is procured pursuant to and in accordance with M.G.L. C.30B. Your Honor's written permission is requested to award this work to Green Environmental, Inc., with offices at 216 Ricciuti Drive, Quincy, MA 02169, in an amount not to exceed $58,652.29, which I have determined to be reasonable for this work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be November 15, 1993, to January 31, 1994.

The submission of this request for approval has been delayed due to the time required of the vendor to submit appropriate contract documents.

Respectfully,
Joseph Lewin,
Acting Director.

Human Services

Dear Mayor Menino:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on May 26, 1994, I respectfully request Your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertisement and award a contract to the Economic Development Industrial Corporation of Boston, with offices at 43 Hawkins Street, Boston, MA 02114. Under the terms of this contract, the contractor will administer $3,965,000 of Community Development Block Grant funds for various human service activities and monitor all applicable Federal Construction contracts for compliance with Federal Labor Standards Regulations. This contract is exempt from M.G.L. C. 30B as it is a grant agreement with another governmental agency.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $845,000, which I have determined to be reasonable for this work to be performed.

be reasonable for the services to be performed. The term of this contract shall be from July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995. Funds for this contract shall come from those received under the Community Development Block Grant program.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive program and proposal review, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I, therefore, request permission to dispense with inviting sealed bids in the City Record, pursuant to authority granted under the City of Boston Code, St. 4 s. 5.

Respectfully,

Joseph Lewin,
Acting Director.

Engineering Services

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Greenman-Pedersen, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation with offices at 160 North Washington Street, Room 101, Boston Massachusetts 02114, to provide Engineering Services relative to the reconstruction of Massachusetts Avenue in the City of Boston. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L.c. 30B because it is a contract for design/engineering services.

Under this contract, Greenman-Pedersen, Inc., will prepare project improvement reports, perform street survey, prepare engineering plans and cost estimates, and prepare construction documents. The improvements to be constructed may include, among other things, streets, sidewalks, street lighting, surface drainage, traffic control systems, street traffic and directional signs. Greenman-Pedersen, Inc., will also provide technical and engineering advice and assistance to the Boston Public Works Department.

Following extensive review of proposals submitted to this office in response to a Public Request for Proposals, I have determined that Greenman-Pedersen, Inc., is uniquely qualified to perform these services as they have demonstrated that they have solid experience and expertise required for the successful performance of this work, and can complete the work within the time allocated by this Department, and at a reasonable cost.

Compensation under this contract will not exceed $581,223.63, an amount which I have determined to be a reasonable cost for the work to be performed. The term of this contract will be for Thirty (30) months commencing on April 18, 1994, and ending on October 18, 1996. This letter was detained due to an administrative delay.

In view of the technical and professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that further public advertising would serve no purpose in this instance.

Very truly yours,

Joseph F. Casazza,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Gym Rental

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Emmanuel College, a non-profit corporation, located at 400 The Fenway, Boston, MA 02115, for rental of gymnasium facilities for use by the Another Course to College Program. This contract is being awarded under G.L. 30B, s16 (e) (2).

Under the terms of the lease contract, Emmanuel College will rent their gymnasium facility to the Boston Public Schools for Another Course to College for seventy-five hours during the school year for physical education, athletic practices and games.

At present, Another Course to College is located at the Boston Architectural Center, 320 Newbury Street, Boston, MA. The building does not have a gymnasium. Emmanuel College maintains a fine facility which is well suited to fulfill the physical education requirement of Another Course to College. Because of the constraints of the type facility and the time it is to be used, it is not feasible to solicit alternative vendors.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $3,000. The hourly rate is $40. I have determined that the cost is reasonable. The term of the contract shall be from November 1, 1993, through May 25, 1994.

Because of the unique quality of this particular need, the proximity of the school to Emmanuel College, and the reasonable cost, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. This determination has been published in the Central Register.

Submission of this letter has been delayed because the contract which was sent to Emmanuel College in September 1993 was not returned until January 1994. Several of the forms necessary for contract approval were not included. The missing forms were received at various dates, the last being on April 28, 1994.

Sincerely,

Lois Harrison-Jones, Ed.D.,
Superintendent.

The following was received:
City of Boston
Office of the Mayor
March 4, 1994.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith for your approval a Home Rule Petition that prohibits the possession of firearms by minors in the City of Boston.

As you may recall, your Honorable Body passed such a prohibition on October 6, 1993, and I immediately approved it. Since that time, on January 14, 1994, the Governor signed the measure into law as Chapter 491 of the Acts of 1993.

I am advised that although the Petition that was forwarded to the General Court by the City Clerk's Office was legally correct, a number of clerical errors occurred at the State House after its submission to the state legislature.

The accompanying Petition is designed to correct the technical legal flaws in the Chapter 491 of the Acts of 1993.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this Home Rule Petition at its earliest possible convenience.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under Clause (1) of Section eight of Article two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows, except for clerical or editorial errors.

ORDER ACCEPTING PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER 481 OF ACTS OF 1993 (DOCKET NO. 0360)

Coun. MODICA offered the following:

Whereas, Chapter 481 of the Acts of 1993 enables municipalities, upon acceptance of its provisions, to allow holders of wine and malt beverage licenses to sell and serve cordials; and

Whereas, Inclusion of the sale of cordials with a wine and malt beverage license would require a hearing before the Boston Licensing Board with input from neighbors and other concerned parties; and

Whereas, It has come to the attention of Roslindale residents that the Department of Mental Health intends to house chronically ill patients at 229 Poplar Street without giving them notification of their plans, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Clerk send a copy of this resolution to the Commissioner of the Department of Mental Health informing her that the Boston City Council finds the process for housing chronically mentally ill patients in the city unacceptable, and be it further

Resolved, That the Commissioner of the Department of Mental Health, be and hereby is, requested to meet with the appropriate committee of the City Council to discuss the community process used to select a residential home and to examine ways the Department will keep neighborhoods more informed of all developments in the future.

The resolution and the amendment were referred to the Committee on City and Neighborhood Services.

COMMITTEE ON ENVIRONMENT AND HISTORIC PRESERVATION TO HOLD HEARING RE FEASIBILITY OF ESTABLISHING AND IMPLEMENTING ADOPT-A-STREET OR ADOPT-A-BLOCK PROGRAM (DOCKET NO. 0363)

Coun. IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston would benefit from a greenspace and public area beautification program involving a public and private partnership, linking the City of Boston and neighborhood businesses; and

Whereas, There are a number of greenspaces, streets, roads and sidewalks throughout the City that would prosper from the preservation and maintenance by the many concerned residents, businesses and civic groups willing to enlist in such a program and adopt a greenspace, street, road or sidewalk; and

Whereas, The benefits of such a program would far outweigh any costs incurred by the city, as participants in the program are responsible for general maintenance including, seeding, planting, mowing, weeding, watering, raking, sweeping and cleaning the designated area. Participants in the program would then have a sign placed on their designated area, recognizing their maintenance efforts; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Environment and Historic Preservation hold a hearing to discuss the feasibility of establishing and implementing an Adopt-A-Street or Adopt-A-Block program.

Referred to the Committee on Environment and Historic Preservation.

VISITOR TO COUNCIL

Coun. IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, The Spring season is approaching which will result in an increase use of water due to planting, the watering of lawns and the filling of pools, etc.; and

Whereas, Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) water rates have skyrocketed placing a heavy burden on Boston residents; and

Whereas, It is unclear whether ratepayers are being charged for sewage costs even when the water they are using is in fact being discharged into the ground rather than going through sewage treatment processes; and

Whereas, It is the role of the Committee on the Environment to involve itself in the relationship between the Boston Water & Sewer Commission and the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on the Environment and Historic Preservation hold a hearing to address the feasibility of the Boston Water & Sewer Commission installing a second meter solely for the outdoor use of water, and if so, the costs that would be incurred by said installation of second meter; be it further Ordered, That this hearing address the methods of divising costs with respect to water charges and sewer charges.

Referred to the Committee on Environment and Historic Preservation.

ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW TO AMEND CITY CHARTER RE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT (DOCKET NO. 0365)

Section 1. Section 5 of Chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended is hereby further amended by striking from the last sentence thereof the words "the School Committee or School Department, or the Board of Commissioners of school buildings or the superintendent of construction, or the board of trustees of the teacher's retirement fund or the board of trustees of the permanent school pension fund, or".

Section 2. This Act shall take effect upon passage.

Referred to the Committee on Education and School Matters.

Whereas, Auto insurance rates within the City of Boston are highest in East Boston, Charlestown, Roxbury and Dorchester; and

Whereas, Boston's auto insurance rates are substantially higher than any other contiguous suburb of Boston; and

Whereas, Residents of the City of Boston are compelled to relocate and seek other alternatives as a result of extreme costs of auto insurance rates; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Boston City Council's Committee on Government Operations hold a hearing to address premium auto insurance rates in the City of Boston and invite the City of Boston Corporate Counsel, the State Insurance Commissioner, a representative from Professional Insurance Agent of New England, a representative from Auto Insurance Rating Bureau (AIB), a representative from Commonwealth Auto Reinsurance, the Registrar of the Registry of Motor Vehicles and the Parking Clerk of the City of Boston to testify.

VOL. 86      MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1994      NO. 47

MAYOR UNVEILS CITYWIDE "MAIN STREETS" INITIATIVE

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and the National Trust for Historic Preservation have announced the creation of the first city-wide "Main Streets" program in the United States. Main Streets will provide the financial and technical resources to competitively selected Boston neighborhoods.

Mayor Menino said "Boston's neighborhoods are what set this city apart from every other city in the country. The uniqueness of our neighborhoods is sustained by our local business districts. In 1984, as a city councillor, I worked hard to bring Main Streets to my home district. Now, a decade later, I'm very excited that Boston is the first city in the country to implement the Main Streets initiative city-wide. We look forward to working with the National Trust for Historic Preservation to preserve not only our business districts, but also the very character of our neighborhoods."

"Main Streets" will bring downtown revitalization to as many as 20 business districts across the city. It will help improve the appearance, marketability and business strategy of business districts by maintaining the area's character.

Neighborhood groups interested in the "Main Streets" program should submit a written application this winter. Each neighborhood selected as a Main Street partner will have to hire a full-time director and will receive financial assistance from the city. The Mayor will also appoint a Main Street Service Council to provide advice and assistance to participating neighborhoods.

The program, started and administered by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, was originally brought to Roslindale ten years ago by then City Councillor Menino. Through community organization, partnerships are developed among a broad range of public and private groups. The plan strengthens existing businesses, finds new uses for commercial buildings and improves real estate.

asked the city's Elderly Commission to reach out to senior citizens to let them know that they have rights and that they should take advantage of these rights should anyone try to take advantage of them.

Yesterday's vote on Question 9 in Boston sent a clear message that people

THANK YOU VOTERS

*Statement of Boston Mayor
Thomas M. Menino,
November 9, 1994.*

I want to thank the people of Boston and Massachusetts for reelecting Senator Ted Kennedy by an overwhelming margin. At a time when other national Democrats were falling by the wayside, Senator Kennedy stood up for what he believes and backed it up with a solid record of accomplishment. People know that Senator Kennedy is on their side in Washington and yesterday's vote reflects that.

I congratulate our District Attorney, Ralph Martin, who waged a tremendous campaign, bringing together the neighborhoods of Boston with a serious platform for curbing the spread of crime in our city. I look forward to continuing our work together for safe and secure communities.

City and state voters also expressed their satisfaction with the work of both Democrats and Republicans in the State House. I also congratulate them and hope they will work with our city to continue our economic and fiscal recovery.

RENT CONTROL BALLOT QUESTION

*Mayor Menino
Reacts To Voting Results*

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has taken steps in light of the voting results on Question 9.

- A hotline has been set up to answer questions about rent control (635-2982)
- The Mayor has filed a home rule petition with the Boston City Council to continue Boston's current policy.

Statement of Mayor Thomas M. Menino on the status of Boston's housing protection laws, November 9, 1994.

I want every senior citizen and every renter in Boston to know that the current protections that they have from eviction, from large rent increases and from condominium protection are still in effect. I have directed the Boston Rent Equity Board to open an information hotline for tenants and landlords — that number is 635-2982. I have also in our city do not want to see older residents, working families and those in need put in jeopardy. In fact, many of the "Yes" votes on this question were directed at Cambridge's far different system. Now, we must work with those who represent us in the City Council and the State Legislature to continue the protections that the people of Boston want to have in place.

Therefore, I am filing a Home Rule Petition with the Boston City Council to continue Boston's current housing system. I know that they will join me in acting to protect Bostonians in need. From there, we will ask the support of the State Legislature and Governor Weld. It is our hope that protections will be in place well before the new year so that our senior citizens and families can have a safe and secure holiday season.

Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by 5:00 p.m., Wednesday of each week to insure its publication in the following Monday's issue.

PLEASE NOTE: That the deadline of 5:00 p.m., Wednesday of each week is ten days in advance of publication.

THANK YOU . . .

On Ballot Question 9, the Tenant Protection Referendum, it is clear that the people of Boston have stepped forward to say that senior citizens, working families and the needy should have protection against unfair rent increases, evictions, and condominium conversions. In fact, many voters who cast their ballots in favor of Question 9 noted that they were objecting to Cambridge's stricter system, not Boston's current law.

Therefore, my administration will be working to carry out the will of the people of Boston to protect our seniors and families. To that end, I will be filing home rule legislation with the Boston City Council. Also, I have established a phone number for tenant and landlord information on the status of the current law — that number is 635-2982.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising, based on the following communications:

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

LO 4265-94.
May 16, 1994.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Emmanuel College, a non-profit corporation, located at 400 the Fenway, Boston, MA 02115, for rental of their gymnasium to provide physical education classes for the students of Snowden International High School. This contract is being awarded under G.L. 30B, s16 (e) (2).

Under the terms of the lease contract, Emmanuel College will rent their gymnasium to the Boston Public Schools for use by Snowden International High School for one hundred hours during the school year for physical education, practices, and games.

Snowden International High School does not have a gymnasium. Emmanuel College maintains a fine facility which is well suited to fulfill the physical education requirement for Snowden students. Because of the constraints of the type facility and the time it is to be used, it is not feasible to solicit alternative vendors.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $4,000. The hourly rate is $40. I have determined that the cost is reasonable. The term of the contract shall be from October 4, 1993, through May 20, 1994.

Because of the unique quality of this particular need, the proximity of the school to Emmanuel College, and the reasonable cost, I have determined that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. This determination has been published in the Central Register.

Submission of this letter has been delayed because the contract which was sent to Emmanuel College in September 1993 was not returned until January 1994 after a scheduling problem was resolved by reducing the number of hours of gym use. Several of the forms necessary for contract approval were not included. The missing forms were received at various dates, the last being on April 28, 1994.

Sincerely,
Lois Harrison-Jones, Ed.D.,
Superintendent.

Liability Insurance

C. 4662-95.
June 29, 1994.

Dear Mayor,

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract without public advertising for the provision of motor vehicle liability insurance for the school bus fleet consisting of in excess of six hundred vehicles, to Willis Corroon Corporation, 5 North Park Drive, Hunt Valley, MD 21030, for the period July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995, at a cost not to exceed $2,625,300. This contract is exempt from G.L. c. 30B and is awarded pursuant to the Boston City Charter.

After public advertising in the City Record in April and May of 1993, the lowest responsive and responsible bid received for vehicle liability insurance for FY94 was $3,519,042. The Transportation Task Force, which includes representatives from the Boston Public Schools, the Transportation Department of the City of Boston, the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, the Boston Finance Commission, and the Boston Municipal Research Bureau (see attached), considered the bids and concluded that the high cost of the lowest bid, which represented a $1.2 million increase from FY92, was unacceptable and directed our insurance advisor, J. H. Albert, Inc., to conduct an informal bid process in order to attract more favorable proposals. The net result of that process resulted in a saving of $554,847 from the lowest formal bid received in June of 1993.

When considering the process to be used to procure insurance coverage for FY95, the Task Force concluded that, based upon the favorable results of the process employed for the final FY94 coverage, a similar process should be employed. Specifications were developed requesting that an independent insurance advisor be prepared to conduct a process that would, in the first instance include the negotiations of renewal terms with the current insurance broker, Willis Corroon of Maryland. In the event these negotiations did not produce favorable terms an additional informal bid process would then be employed. The contract to provide these advisor services was approved by the Mayor and awarded to J. H. Albert International Insurance Advisors.

On May 9, 1994, J. H. Albert, Inc. submitted a report on the results of its negotiations with Willis Corroon (see attached). The Transportation Task Force considered the recommendations of J. H. Albert and, with the support of the City Budget Office and Corporation Counsel, accepted the proposal of Willis Corroon to provide the first layer of $500,000 of liability coverage at a cost of $2,422,200 along with excess physical damage coverage at a cost of $10,000. Additionally, the primary insurance carrier, Coregis, is offering a dividend plan which supplements the program. This dividend plan permits an offset of up to ten percent (10%) of the premium cost for a good loss experience. This opportunity of combining the FY94 losses with FY95 losses is only available through the utilization of the FY94 carrier.

The Willis Corroon proposal included excess liability coverage in the amount of $500,000 at a premium cost of $200,000. The Task Force did not accept that proposal for excess liability coverage and directed the advisor to attempt to obtain a lower premium for this coverage. On June 23, 1994, J. H. Albert, Inc. provided a report on the results of its efforts to reduce the excess liability premium (attached). The Transportation Task Force met on June 28, 1994, and concluded that the reduced premium of $192,500 now being offered for this coverage should be accepted. The premium offered represents a reduction of $7,500 from the original proposal.

The total cost of the insurance coverage requested for FY95 in the amount of $2,625,300 is $338,895 less than the FY94 cost. Obtaining adequate insurance coverage for our bus fleet at a reasonable cost is a complex, time-consuming process. The efforts of the Transportation Task Force and other City agencies in the process is appreciated. I am satisfied and pleased that we were able to achieve these favorable results.

Due to the urgent need to have insurance coverage effective as of July 1, 1994, and because advertised bidding has not provided favorable results, it is my opinion that public advertising for this insurance would not have obtained prices more favorable than those obtained through this process.

Because of the technical and specialized nature of this contract, the continuing escalation of insurance costs, and the favorable price negotiated, I respectfully request your permission to award the contract for liability insurance for the School Department's school bus fleet without advertising to Willis Corroon Corporation at a cost not to exceed $2,625,300 for the period July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995.

This contract is being submitted late because of the contracting process and the need to obtain contract signatures.

Very truly yours,
Lois Harrison-Jones,
Superintendent.

Now, every week is "your week" to recycle.

EVERY WEEK RECYCLING PICK-UP

Starting July 1st, recycling collection is EVERY WEEK.

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE AND TRANS-
IBILITY OF REESTABLISHING EAST
BOSTON FERRY AND OTHER FERRY SERVICES IN BOSTON HARBOR (DOCKET
NO. 0413)

Couns. MODICA and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, East Boston is currently impacted by its location next to an international airport, the Sumner and Callahan Tunnels and a soon to be opened Third Harbor Tunnel as well as major arterial highway routes and

Whereas, The East Boston ferry served to carry passengers between East Boston and the North End for 82 years between 1870 and 1952; and

Whereas, The reestablishment of affordable and efficient ferry services between East Boston and the North End would mitigate the transportation impacts associated with the construction of the Central Artery and the Third Harbor Tunnel and other Massport related projects; and

Whereas, The Logan Shuttle from Bird Island Flats to Rowe's Wharf serves primarily airport travelers and its eight dollar fare does not provide a viable alternative for local East Boston residents; and

Whereas, The Boston Harbor Cruise Line "Navy Yard Water Shuttle" from Long Wharf to the Charlestown Navy Yard has carried over 1,000,000 passengers since its commencement in 1988, attaining its highest ridership in 1993, transporting 214,000 passengers, all at a cost to users of one dollar per trip thereby demonstrating that the demand for affordable and efficient ferry services is an appealing mass transit alternative; and

Whereas, Other ferry service which operates between Boston Harbor and the South Shore has been well utilized for 10 years; and

Whereas, A comprehensive ferry system in Boston Harbor can serve to mitigate the air, traffic, and noise impacts associated with, not only additional automobiles on our local streets, but also with the ten-year-long Big Dig; therefore, be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Commerce and Transportation convene a public hearing to obtain input from the general public and from experts in the field of water transit and transportation in general, including Central Artery personnel, to determine the feasibility of reestablishing the East Boston Ferry and other ferry service in Boston Harbor.

URGING EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF TRANSPORTATION AND CONSTRUCTION TO WITHDRAW ITS ENVIRONMENTAL NOTIFICATION FORM FOR ELECTRIC BUS SYSTEM AND SUBMIT IN ITS PLACE THE ENF FOR THE LIGHT RAIL VEHICLE SYSTEM DEVELOPED BY THE WASHINGTON STREET CORRIDOR COALITION (DOCKET NO. 0414)

Couns. NUCCI, IANNELLA, O'NEIL, MODICA, and SAUNDERS offered the following:

Whereas, The 1973 Memorandum of Agreement between the MBTA, various government agencies including the city, and the Southwest Corridor Coalition, that replacement service for the Washington Street Corridor be "equal to or better than" the old Orange Line, and

Whereas, The elevated Orange Line ceased service on April 30, 1987, and

Whereas, No adequate replacement service has been provided on the Washington Street Corridor, and

Whereas, The Washington Street Corridor and the adjacent neighborhoods are currently the only neighborhoods in the city without some form of rail service, and

Whereas, Deployment of light rail service will spark an economic revitalization in these neighborhoods that have suffered disinvestment, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, urges the Executive Office of Transportation and Construction of the Commonwealth to withdraw its Environment Notification Form for an electric bus system and to submit in its place the Environment Notification Form for the light rail vehicle system developed by the Washington Street Corridor Coalition, and be it further Resolved, That the MBTA implement and deploy this light rail vehicle service system without delay.

COMMITTEE ON PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT TO HOLD HEARING TO ENSURE ADEQUATE MEASURES ARE TAKING PLACE TO SECURE EMPOWERMENT ZONE STATUS AND SUBSEQUENT GRANTS THAT ACCOMPANY SAID STATUS (DOCKET NO 0415)

Couns. IANNELLA, FEENEY, HENNIGAN, MODICA, NUCCI, and O'NEIL offered the following:

Whereas, There is currently a national competition amongst cities to win empowerment zone status which could result in 94 million dollars in social services grants and tax incentives for employers and employees within the empowerment zone; and

Whereas, Boston, with its well developed public-private partnerships and habitability, possesses a unique opportunity to revive the City's empowerment Zone, instilling public confidence in federal anti-poverty programs; and

Whereas, A lack of commitment to securing empowerment zone status would be a devastating blow to the fiscal stability of Boston's deserving neighborhoods, which links the economic futures of Roxbury and South Boston, from Newmarket Square and Fort

Point to Blue Hill Avenue; and

Whereas, The second place status of smaller "enterprise communities" will only result in less than three million dollars in social service funds, with no employee wage credits; therefore be it

Ordered, That the Planning and Development Committee hold a hearing to ensure that adequate measures are taking place to secure empowerment zone status and the subsequent grants that accompany said status, and to express our desire to work cooperatively with the Administration.

Whereas, It is imperative that steps be taken to ensure that Boston's public schools are seen as safe environments for learning and that students caught carrying weapons are not returned to the classroom; therefore be it ever selected for renovation. This spring, the Curley House celebrates its eightieth anniversary.

CITY'S CURLEY HOUSE SELECTED FOR RENOVATION BY JUNIOR LEAGUE

The James Michael Curley House, 350 The Jamaica way, is significant as the primary residence, for 41 years, of James Michael Curley, one of the most legendary figures in 20th century Massachusetts politics. Curley built the house on the Jamaica way in 1915, during his first mayoral term, and lived there until 1956, the year after his last mayoral campaign. For seven decades, the Curley house has been a symbol of the evolving social, cultural and political presence of 19th century immigrants and their descendants.

James Michael Curley

Curley's parents emigrated from County Galway, Ireland to Boston in the 1860s. James Michael Curley was born on November 24, 1874, in a wooden tenement at 28 Northampton Street, Lower Roxbury. Throughout his childhood, Curley lived in the vicinity of Boston City Hospital, first at 5 Fellows Court and then at 81 East Lenox Street. Curley's father, Michael, died when the boy was ten. Exhibiting his industrious nature at an early age, Curley took his first job as an errand boy for an apothecary shop, working before and after school.

Upon graduating from grammar school at age 16, Curley took a job at the New England Piano Company Factory. After the work began to take a toll on his health, Curley resumed work at the apothecary, clerking and collecting bills. Curley kept this position for 8 years, and during this period attended night school for Mayor Thomas M. Menino and Jean Ellis, President of the Junior League of Eastern Massachusetts, have announced that the City's James Michael Curley House has been selected by the Junior League as the site for their "25th Anniversary Junior League House Tour." Leading decorators will each renovate one room of the fourteen-room Curley House and open the rooms to the public in May for tours. Proceeds from these house tours will be contributed to the Junior League's community programs.

Mayor Menino said, "This is a great opportunity for the City and the Junior League to showcase one of Boston's lesser known treasures and to open its historic doors to our citizens and the Greater Boston community."

Located in Boston's Jamaica Plain community, the Curley House is an asset of the City's George Robert White Fund and is currently used as the headquarters for the Mayor's Youth Council, a group of eighteen Boston teens, one from every neighborhood of the city, who work to educate and exchange information with their peers on opportunities available to Boston's youth.

Susan Stonich, chair of "ShowHouse 25," added, "My father is from Dorchester, so I grew up hearing stories from him about James Michael Curley. I'm especially proud to be part of this partnership with the city. "ShowHouse 25" will enable all of Boston's residents to enjoy the Curley House, an idea certainly in keeping with the values of James Michael Curley."

The City and the Junior League will work with a committee of representatives from the Jamaica Pond Association and other neighborhood organizations throughout the process. The Curley House is the first public building and only the second site in Boston that the Junior League has two years. Curley got his first taste of politics in the 1890s, when he was asked to campaign in Ward 17 for Owen Galvin, a candidate for Mayor. Although Galvin lost, Curley was undaunted and decided to run for Common Council from Ward 17. His first campaign was unsuccessful, but in 1900, Curley was elected to the Council.

Curley's political ambitions grew and, in 1901, during his second term on the Common Council, Curley gained control of the Ward 17 Democratic Committee. Also in 1901, Curley and his brother John established the Tammany Club of Roxbury, modeled after the political organization he had seen in New York. He was elected to two terms to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1902-1903 and to the Board of Aldermen for five consecutive terms from 1904 to 1909. It was in 1904 that Curley took a civil service exam for a friend, and was sentenced to sixty days at the Charles Street Jail. This may be the first of the Curley legends, as he was re-elected as alderman while he was serving the term in jail.

In 1906, Curley married Mary Emilda Herlihy; they moved to an apartment at 114 Mount Pleasant Avenue, Roxbury. Between 1907 and 1923, Mary Curley gave birth to nine children; only two of who would outlive their father.

The structure of the city government changed in 1910, when the new city charter went into effect. At that time Curley was elected to the City Council for a term until 1911. Curley was elected to his first and second terms as Representative to Congress from 1911 to 1914. Many Republican politicians unsuccessfully tried to block his seat because of his 1904 jail term.

It is said that Curley's favorite political post was Mayor of Boston. Curley was elected Mayor in 1913, 1921, 1929 and 1945. He was defeated in 1917, 1937, 1941, 1949 and 1951.

In his first term as Mayor, Curley succeeded in cutting municipal expenditures. It was at this time that Curley befriended George Robert White and appointed him as the Chairman of the Statistics Department. Upon his death in 1922, White bequeathed to the City of Boston the income from a three million dollar trust. During his second term, commencing in 1922, Curley established neighborhood health units in the North End, East Boston, Charlestown, South Boston, Dorchester, Roxbury and the West End with the income from the White Fund.

Curley was defeated by Andrew J. Peters in the 1917 Mayoral election. While Curley was not in public office, he was employed as the president of the Hibernia Savings Bank. In order to block Curley in the future, a provision was eliminated from the Boston Charter that allowed the mayor to serve two terms in a row.

During his second term as Mayor, Curley oversaw several public improvement projects in addition to the establishment of the neighborhood health units. Curley secured an eight million dollar bond issue from the state for improvements to the Boston City Hospital. Improvements to the public transit system were made including the alteration of the Maverick Station transit tunnel and the extension of the Dorchester line to Mattapan and Milton.

Mayor Curley was the first mayor of Boston to organize a municipally sponsored historic survey and study of the city's historic sites. The impetus for this idea came from the Sons of the Revolution Tablet Committee established in 1891. On June 5, 1924, "sensing the need of comprehensive public action in marking these historic landmarks,"* Mayor Curley created a commission known as the Commission for Marking Historical Sites. The function of the Commission was to mark the most significant events and places associated with Boston's history, with an appropriate tablet or memorial. Fifty-four markers were erected between 1924-35, identifying people and events significant to Boston's history, education, religion, art, architecture, and science.

Unable to succeed himself as Mayor, Curley made an unsuccessful bid for governor in 1924; he was defeated by Alvan T. Fuller. In 1929 he ran, and was elected, for his third term as Mayor of Boston. During this term, the Sumner Tunnel was built at a cost of ten million dollars, and the Prado, or Paul Revere Mall, was created adjacent to Old North Church, using income from the George Robert White Fund. Curley's first wife, Mary, died in 1930.

In the 1932 presidential election, Curley campaigned ardently for Franklin D. Roosevelt. For his efforts, Curley hoped for an appointment as the Ambassador to Ireland or Italy. When Roosevelt offered Curley the position of Ambassador to Poland, Curley refused.

In 1934, Curley made his first successful run for Governor of Massachusetts. He defeated his Republican opponent, Lt. Gov. Gaspar Bacon, by over 100,000 votes. In 1936, Curley was married to Gertrude M.

ennis, who brought to the family two sons from a previous marriage. The year 1936, however, marked the beginning of a string of defeats for Curley. That year, he ran for the U.S. Senate and was beaten soundly by Henry Cabot Lodge.

In 1938 Curley ran for a second term as Governor but was defeated by Republican Speaker Leverett Saltonstall. In 1940 Curley hoped to gain his fourth term as Mayor of Boston, but he was defeated by Maurice J. Tobin, an early protege.

In 1941, a Federal Grand Jury indicted Curley for his connection with the Engineers Group Inc., an enterprise which claimed to assist clients in securing government housing projects contracts and general war contracts. Curley was asked to be the organization's president by James G. Miller, who was later sentenced to a five-year prison term. Curley claimed that his association with the organization lasted only 3 months, and he never received any money for his association. The first indictment was set aside on technical grounds, but Curley was given a second indictment in 1944. He was convicted in 1946, and in 1947, received a sentence for 6 to 18 months at the Federal Corrections Institute in Danbury, Connecticut. Curley served only five months in prison; his sentence was commuted by President Truman.

While waiting for the outcome of the second indictment, Curley ran successfully for his third and fourth terms as U.S. Congressman. He was elected to Congress in 1942 and 1944. Of great consolation to Curley was his election as Mayor of Boston for the fourth term in 1945. While the indictment was still pending, Curley defeated John Kerrigan by a record margin and was a majority mayor for the first time.

Curley was sent to Danbury in the middle of his mayoral term. A special meeting of the state legislature was called to deal with the Boston emergency. It was determined that City Clerk John B. Hynes would be temporary Mayor, and that Curley would receive his salary and could resume office upon his release from Danbury.

In 1948, at age 74, Curley left elected office for the last time. In the following years, 1949, 1951 and 1955. He was defeated for Mayor three times by John B. Hynes. Between 1950 and 1957, Curley served as National Committeeman to the Democratic State Committee.

Throughout Curley's political career, his house on the Jamaica way served as a meeting place for both international guests and local constituents. Many celebrities, politicians and other well known figures visited the Curleys at their home. Those visitors included Eleanor Roosevelt, Sophie Tucker, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, Chiang Kai-Shek and the Vienna Boys Choir. The Curley library often served as the greeting area for these guests. It was also in the library that Mayor Curley greeted constituents, listened to their complaints, and tried to address their concerns. This room and its uses were important both to Curley personally and to his political career.

In addition to many political setbacks, Curley suffered numerous personal tragedies throughout his life, particularly the death of seven of his children. In 1922, twins John and Joseph Curley died shortly after birth. Curley's second daughter, Dorthea, died at age 15 in 1925. In 1931, the oldest son, James Jr., died at age 24, while a student at Harvard Law School. In 1945, Curley's second son, Paul, died at age 32 while a student at Boston University Law School. In 1950, Curley's oldest daughter Mary and third son Leo, died within an hour of one another. Curley was survived by two sons, George and Francis Xavier.

Curley's fame increased when he appeared as the protagonist in the best-selling fictional novel by Edwin O'Connor, The Last Hurrah. The protagonist of the novel, Frank Skeffington, was clearly modeled after Curley. Although Curley professed to be upset by the fictional portrayal, he was pleased with the ending of the novel. On his deathbed, Skeffington overhears a character in the novel state that he, Skeffington, would live his life differently if he had a second chance; Skeffington mutters: "like Hell I would." In 1957, Curley published his autobiography, I'd Do It Again.

Curley died on November 12, 1958, eight days short of his 84th birthday. Curley was in 33 campaigns during his public career which lasted over 50 years. He served four terms as Mayor, four as a U.S. Congressman and one as Governor of Massachusetts.

James Michael Curley and Mary, his first wife, had their Jamaica way house built while they were living in a small cottage on Mt. Pleasant Avenue in Roxbury. Building Department records state that the building's architect was Joseph P. McGinnis. Curley, in his autobiography, states that the builder was Thomas O'Connor.

Clearly the structure's most visible characteristic was the exterior detail, which infuriated the rest of the exclusive Brahmin neighborhood. As Joseph Dinneen explains in The Purple Shamrock:

Architecturally, (the house) was perfectly in keeping with its surroundings until white shutters were affixed. Upon each was a cut-out shamrock that seemed to symbolize thumbs to multiple noses with fingers extending in all directions. Curley's opinion of Boston's bluebloods had been well advertised. (Dinneen, p. 122)

The significantly detailed entry and main hallways blend well with the adjoining main staircase and dining room which were bought from the estate of Henry H. Rogers in Fairhaven, Massachusetts. Rogers, Chief Executive Officer of Standard Oil, built an 85-room summer estate in the Colonial Revival style in 1895. Rogers was a great benefactor to the town of Fairhaven, donating the Town Hall, Library, Grammar School, a Unitarian Church and Parish House. Each of these buildings, like the mansion, were designed by Boston architect Charles Brigham.

In 1915, six years after Rogers' death, his heirs put the enormous estate, which included six buildings, up for auction. Many of the building's interior features were sold. Several of the smaller structures on the property, such as the laundry building, were moved and reused for houses. What was not sold was demolished, and the site was divided into house lots. In his autobiography, Curley reminisces about the items he bought from the Rogers Estate:

I shall never forget buying the beautiful tile fireplace. When the contractor removed it I asked him how much he wanted for it. He told me to make him an offer. . . . It was a real bargain. At the auction I also got the tongs and other fireplace equipment, which I thought were brass, but which turned out to be gold-plated! (p. 128)

The oval-shaped, hand carved mahogany-paneled dining room, with its marble Grecian columns, is forty feet long and has a fourteen-foot ceiling. Its chandelier, with delicately carved Irish Waterford glass hung on silver chains is flanked on the ceiling by carved moldings. The outstanding feature of the house is the wide, winding staircase which rises two stories without any visible support. (p. 129)

It appears that none of the exterior features of the Rogers Mansion were reused at the Curley House, though many features may have been modeled after Rogers' Colonial Revival Mansion. Curley talks in detail about the interior features taken from the Rogers mansion, but, he paints a confusing picture of the exterior. Curley states in his autobiography:

Although I had no immediate site in mind for a house, I bought part of the Rogers mansion, had it carefully marked and disassembled and brought to Boston, where it was stored until it was reassembled on a pleasant knoll overlooking Jamaica Pond. (p. 128)

Curley came under the great scrutiny of the Finance Commission (established 1909) due to the elaborate nature of the house. Many wondered how a man on a $10,000 salary could afford a $45,000 house on a $15,000 lot. Curley responds in his autobiography:

I told these snoopers that I had acquired the nucleus of the house at an auction at a ridiculously low figure and further informed them that I had made a substantial sum of money on the stock market, thanks to a gentleman named Nathan Eisman, a wool magnate. When they asked where they could find the gentleman I said he was unavailable for further tips, since he had passed on to his heavenly reward. (p. 130)

Curley also explains that the house was called by some critics "the demonstration house," implying that various contractors donated their time and materials in order to impress the Mayor with their skills and wares. (p. 129)

Curley talks at length about leaving the house in I'd Do It Again. He states that in November, 1956, he sold the house to the Society of Oblate Fathers for Missions Among the Poor, to be used as a novitiate. He elaborates on the move, explaining that:

parting was sweet sorrow in many respects, for my wife and I not only moved out of the house with the shamrock shutters on Jamaica way to a nearby Garrison Colonial on Pond Circle, but I also parted with some dear old friends — 1,500 books in my personal library. Many of them are rare, and many others are autographed with personal messages from the authors. I left another thousand volumes of a religious nature for the Oblate Fathers who have already built a magnificent chapel on the third floor of the shamrock house, and turned over many scrapbooks to Holy Cross College for political history studies.

The house on the Jamaica way will always have memories for me. Memories of the children who were born there and of my first wife and my children who died there. Memories of the hundreds of thousands of picturesque characters and distinguished guests, memories of defeats and victories. (p. 353).

The Society of Oblate Fathers for Missions Among the Poor are members of a missionary congregation founded in France in 1816. They came to the United States from Canada to perform missionary work with the non-English speaking northeastern mill workers immigrating to the US. The Oblate Fathers lived in the Curley House for thirty-two years.

In addition to the importance of the structure and its association with James M. Curley, the landscape adds significance to the site. The Massachusetts Association of Olmsted Parks' "Master List of Design Projects in Massachusetts 1866-1950" by Frederick Law Olmsted and the successor firm, the Olmsted Brothers, lists James M. Curley as a client in 1915-16. The list states that drawings and correspondence exist for the Curley property, suggesting, but no confirming, that the Olmsted Brothers did some of the landscape work for the Curley House. The Library of Congress has indicated that work was completed on the yard and garden area, but the details of that work remain unclear and require further research.

Joseph McGinnis, a relatively unknown Boston architect, designed the Curley House in 1914-15. McGinnis practiced architecture in Boston for six years, between 1912-1918. He died in 1918, at the age of 34, from pneumonia which he contracted during the influenza epidemic of that year.

McGinnis was born in Boston and was first educated at the Rice Training School. He graduated from English High School and attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. McGinnis was awarded the Rotch Scholarship for his design for the midway station of the Boston Railroad Tunnel. McGinnis spent one year abroad, during which time he sent back numerous renderings of classical European buildings; these renderings are reprinted in an autobiographical sketch of McGinnis, written by the theatre architect, Clarence Blackall. (American Architect and Building News Vol. CXVII, No. 2315, May 5, 1920).

Upon his return, McGinnis opened an office at 16 Arlington Street, Boston. His six years were extremely productive; Blackall believed he was "one of the brightest young architects in the City." Blackall felt that McGinnis' most prominent work was the Codman Square Theatre. McGinnis designed many buildings for the City of Boston, including an addition to Boston City Hospital, several infirmary buildings at Long Island, an addition to the Boston Public Library, five engine houses, and two schools. Most significant of these designs are the Michelangelo School in the North End and the Readville Engine House on the Neponset River Parkway. McGinnis also designed Catholic churches in East Milton, Cambridge and Wellesley.

On the day that McGinnis died in September, 1918, the city recorded 74 deaths from the epidemic. His wife and child died a short time later. Clarence Blackall concludes that McGinnis, in the space of less than six years had built up a business of high character and had shown himself to be possessed of many of the essential qualities which go to make up the successful architect. His work is characterized throughout by most sincere, conscientious, faithful study. (p. 545)

The James Michael Curley House clearly meets criterion (c) for Landmark designation established by Section 4 of Chapter 772 of the Acts of 1975 as a structure, site or object, man-made or natural, associated significantly with the lives of outstanding historic personages. James Michael Curley, a figure of great political and social significance to the City and Commonwealth, resided at 350 The Jamaicaway for over four decades.

Additionally, the "Jamaica Plain Project Completion Report" published by the Boston Landmarks Commission in June, 1983 recommends that the Curley House be designated a Boston Landmark. The report states that the James Michael Curley House "qualifies as an intact example of a brick Georgian Revival residence, built for James Michael Curley as his home."

Finally, 350 The Jamaicaway is significant as a large, brick, free-standing, Colonial Revival residence, with reused elements from the Henry Rogers mansion in Fairhaven, Massachusetts. Certain rooms in the Curley house are valuable for the study of their style and craftsmanship.

The current assessed value for the total property on parcel 2060 is $901,000. The assessed value for the land is $156,500, and the building is $744,500. The property is tax empty.

The Curley House is owned by the City of Boston. The residence was sold to the City on May 31, 1988 by the Society of Oblate Fathers for Missions Among the Poor. Income from the City's George Robert White Fund, a trust fund that Curley takes full credit for establishing, was used to purchase the property. The property had served as the regional headquarters of the Order for 32 years. Plans for the building's use have been developed by the Mayor's Advisory Committee on the use of the Curley House, and a management and programming plan for the implementation of the Committee's suggestions is being created.

Historical Background:

Roxbury was incorporated in 1846; its boundaries extended from the southwest shore of the Back Bay to the Charles River in Dedham. In 1846, West Roxbury separated from Roxbury and was established as an independent town. The original boundaries of West Roxbury included Jamaica Plain. Jamaica Plain was annexed to Boston in 1874.

Jamaica Plain developed as a secondary settlement center during the late 17th century along the Centre Street axis. A local school was first established in 1676. Further expansion occurred around Jamaica Pond with the establishment of the parish church and burial ground in 1769. In the second half of the 18th century, the scenic qualities of Jamaica Plain led many of Boston's leading citizens, including Governor Francis Bernard and John Hancock to build summer estates there.

In the 17th century, the sparsely settled area was comprised of farmlands which supplied much of Boston's fruit and produce. The First Church in Roxbury was established in 1632. In 1712, a second parish church was established in West Roxbury. The third or middle parish was established in 1769 at Eliot Square, Jamaica Plain on the site of the present Unitarian Church.

In 1795, the Jamaica Plain Aqueduct Company was formed. Its water system which extended from Jamaica Pond to Forest Hills used about 45 miles of pine pipes and was a major source of water supply to Boston until 1845 when lines were laid from Lake Cochituate. In 1834, the Boston and Providence railroad was put through along the western side of the Stony Brook valley. The railroad provided quick and efficient transportation to downtown Boston. As a result, a substantial amount of housing was constructed for the new commuter population.

The second half of the 19th century was a period of rapid change. Eliot Square, Jamaica Plain served as a social and political center for West Roxbury when it was established as an independent town. During the 1870s, streetcar tracks were laid from Roxbury to West Roxbury along Centre and Washington Streets.

A great deal more housing was built to accommodate the additional influx of commuters. Most of the 18th century estates were subdivided, and many new streets were laid out.

Plans for the Boston Park system were first formulated in a report made by the new Board of Park Commissioners in 1876. The Jamaicaaway, Arborway and Jamaica Park were all integral parts of the plan; however, they were not constructed until the mid 1890s due to difficulty in obtaining the necessary land. Jamaica Pond was surrounded by estates and only a small strip along Pond Street was open to the public.

The large estates in the Pondsides area, where the Curley House is located, remained intact during the last decades of the 19th century. Land south of Perkins Street to beyond present day Pershing Street, extending from Centre to the pond, was contained in the Curtis family's farm lands and parcels. Joseph H. Curtis' property extended from the pond across Centre Street almost to the Boston and Providence Railroad tracks. Edward N. Perkins' estate, Pinebank, stands at its original site on the north side of Jamaica Pond. The brick and terra cotta Ruskinian Gothic residence, built in 1870, was designed by John Hubbard Sturgis, a prominent Boston architect.

BOSTON TO RECEIVE $833,123 IN GRANTS FOR PARK EXPANSION

Boston will be the beneficiary of $833,123 in grants as part of a new 14 million Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund initiative to support expansion of urban parks, particularly in underserved neighborhoods.

The Boston Natural Areas Fund (BNAF) will receive $432,823, and the Trust for Public Land (TPL), a national nonprofit land conservation organization, will receive $400,300 for its work in Boston. The grants will be paid over four years. The two groups will work together to develop the 12-mile Neponset River Greenway and the East Boston Greenway.

While no funds will be used to acquire land, the grant to TPL will enable the group to assist public agencies, including the Metropolitan District Commission and the city, with plans to acquire, transfer or develop land for park space.

BNAF will lead efforts to involve community members in the development and design of the projects and the planning of educational and recreational activities that answer their needs. It will establish a youth conservation corps for needed improvements in the greenway, expand environmental education programs, and encourage use of the greenway and new park space.

The grants are part of a package totaling $6.5 million to support park projects in six other cities as well as Boston: Austin; Baltimore; Cleveland; Oakland; Portland, Ore.; and Providence.

Grant recipients were selected based on past work, feasibility of plans to expand park space, community needs, and local commitment to the planned projects.

As part of its overall initiative to improve city parks, the Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund also plans to announce grants to other, larger cities in 1995 and will establish an urban parks institute to promote best practices in park management and programming. The Fund expects to award a total of $14 million in grants over the course of the initiative.

"The aim of our initiative is to increase the quality of urban parks for public use, especially in low- and middle-income neighborhoods that don't have adequate usable park space," George V. Grune, the Fund's chairman, said. "There is ample evidence that parks enrich city living as centers for recreation and cultural activities, and they help foster stronger community spirit."

"The community has been given a new voice and resources to reconnect neighborhoods to waterfronts along the Neponset River and in East Boston," said Mayor Thomas M. Menino. "The combined efforts of the city, state and local businesses can begin to create new parks vital to the quality of life in Boston."

Eugenie Beal, president, BNAF, added, "The extensive constituency building and programming that are critical to creating the new greenways can now be undertaken."

"The initiative, along with a commitment to urban conservation and our partnership with BNAF, will help improve the quality of life on the Neponset River and in East Boston," said Peter Forbes, TPL's New England regional manager.

"Cities are recognizing the importance of using natural resources to enhance their economies and the quality of life for residents and businesses," said Trudy Coxe, secretary, Executive Office of Environmental Affairs. "We welcome the participation of TPL and BNAF and will work to support and encourage the involvement of state agencies in this effort."

The Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund invests in programs to enhance the cultural life of communities and to encourage people to make the arts and culture an active part of their everyday lives. It has supported urban parks for many years because parks are an important element in the cultural life of the communities they serve.

Until the launch of this initiative, the Fund concentrated on park improvements in New York City. In 1992 and 1993 the Fund made grants totaling $600,000 to the Trust for Public Land to assess urban park needs around the country and help the Fund develop its initiative to expand city parks.

TPL, based in San Francisco, was founded in 1972 to acquire and protect land for public use. TPL has protected more than 1,000 sites around the country for parks, trails, greenways, community gardens and historic sites and natural areas, adding more than 800,000 acres to America's treasury of public lands.

Founded in 1977, BNAF works to expand, protect and improve Boston's green space by focusing on protection and preservation of the city's natural lands known as Urban Wilds, and by creating food-producing community gardens from abandoned land.

THE LILA WALLACE- READER'S DIGEST FUND

Urban Parks Initiative

The Urban Parks Initiative announced by the Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund is the only national foundation program dedicated to increasing the quality and quantity of urban parks for public use. The new initiative is dedicated particularly to the development of new park space in underserved neighborhoods.

The Scope of the Initiative

The Fund's Urban Parks Initiative currently is structured in three parts:

1. The grants, which total $6,557,013 over four years, will be used to fund a broad range of park projects in underserved neighborhoods in seven cities: Austin; Baltimore; Boston; Cleveland; Oakland; Portland, Ore.; and Providence.

2. Substantial multi-year challenge grants to organizations in cities with large-scale park systems are expected to be announced in 1995. These grants are expected to total approximately $6 million.

3. An urban parks institute will be established to promote best practices in park management, especially in cities participating in the Fund's initiative.

The Fund expects to award a total of $14 million in grants over the course of the initiative. None of the grant money will be used for land acquisition.

The Need

Historically, parks have been centers for recreation, education, cultural activities and relaxation as well as enclaves of beauty and environmental regeneration. They have contributed to the economic vitality and community spirit of the cities they serve.

But in many cities the multifaceted role of parks has ebbed in recent decades. There isn't enough safe, well designed, well maintained park space to meet community needs, particularly in underserved neighborhoods. That shortage is evident in statistics that measure park space and park budgets in relation to population, and becomes readily apparent during a walk or drive through innercity neighborhoods.

A community may have more vacant lots than park space. Existing park space may have deteriorated as surrounding neighborhoods declined or public funding dwindled because of pressures on municipal finances. Parks may be virtually empty or serve as gathering places for illicit activities.

Roots of the Urban Parks Initiative

The Lila Wallace-Reader's Digest Fund invests in programs to enhance the cultural life of communities and to encourage people to make the arts and culture an active part of their everyday lives. The Fund has supported urban parks for many years because parks are an important element in the cultural life of the communities they serve.

For a number of years the Fund underwrote park improvements in New York City. Over a five-year period beginning in 1987, grants totaling $8.3 million were made, contributing to the revitalization of 5,000 acres of natural woodland in the city's outer boroughs, the opening of the Urban Forest Ecology Center in the Bronx and the restoration of the Harlem Meer in Central Park.

In 1992 the Fund decided to expand efforts to other cities. The Trust for Public Land received $600,000 over two years to assess park needs in 38 cities and help the Fund develop its initiative to expand urban parks. Based on research and study conducted in concert with TPL, the Fund selected cities in which to make its initial grant investments.

Criteria for the Grants

The cities were selected based on several criteria: demonstrated need for parks in underserved neighborhoods, tangible opportunities for park development, the viability of existing development plans, the availability of funding to help acquire land, evidence of community commitment, and the presence of a strong local partner to help implement development plans.

The Fund has constructed the initiative to involve community members in the design of the park projects it will support so that the uses of the new space respond to their needs, and long-term park care is ensured. In each of the participating cities a local organization is responsible for leading efforts to marshal community participation and guiding the development of the project.

In each city, the Trust for Public Land (TPL), a national nonprofit land conservation organization, will work with the local partner to help acquire and develop the parks. The initiative includes ongoing evaluation of results so that adjustments can be made if necessary and the most effective strategies for developing new park space in cities can be refined and shared with others.

The Fund expects to announce additional grants in this program in spring 1995.

 ABANDONED PLAYGROUND

Entire park and adjacent lot also to be completely rehabilitated

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has broken ground at Roslindale's Pagel Playground for a new sportsfloor donated by World Cup Soccer last May. The Mayor personally chose Pagel for the location of sportsfloor. The sportsfloor will compliment plans to improve the entire playground with money from the mayor's capital plan. The Mayor has pushed to improve this abandoned playground since his days as City Councillor.

Mayor Menino stated, "For some time this has been a blight on the neighborhood, but today is another step toward changing that. This playground was turned over to the city by the state in January and now we can develop it to the needs of the community. The entire area, not just the new sportsfloor, will be a better public space. I'd like to thank our state delegation for pushing the legislation through to grant Boston this parcel. Now we finally have the opportunity to improve Pagel for residents and families in this community."

The $65,000 sportsfloor was donated to Boston for being one of the nine World Cup Soccer host cities. Construction of the sportsfloor at Pagel has already begun and will be completed in time for next fall's soccer season.

The Pagel Playground and the abandoned lot adjacent to it will also be completely redeveloped. The plan is currently at the community review stage. Financing for the project is a combination of city and state funds totaling about $850,000. The Mayor allocated money from his capital plan to meet the city's financial commitment to completing the project.

Currently Pagel is a fenced in, asphalt covered lot with overgrowth and a broken swing set.

CITY'S "RED SHIRTS" PROGRAM TO RECEIVE NATIONAL LEAGUE OF CITIES AWARD

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and the Boston Parks and Recreation Department announced that the Boston Youth Cleanup Corps, also known as the "Red Shirts," has won the "1994 James C. Howland Award for Urban Enrichment" in the over 500,000 population category. Sponsored by the National League of Cities (NLC) and the CH2M Hill Company, the five-year-old, $2,000 Howland Award recognizes communities that have enriched the quality of the urban environment through thoughtful, innovative and collaborative planning and implementation of local projects.

Mayor Menino said, "It's great to receive this acknowledgement of the success of the Boston Youth Cleanup Corps. The program helped make this past summer a calm, peaceful one for our youth — something that all of us in the city can be proud of. The Red Shirts program extends hope to our young people, and, therefore, to all of us in the city."

The Boston Youth Cleanup Corps (BYCC), or "Red Shirts," was established to meet the need to employ Boston's young people by helping them improve the quality of life in their communities. Coordinated by the City's Parks and Recreation Department, the BYCC work crews give Boston its annual facelift by clearing away debris, removing weeds, painting benches, and helping in community service projects. This summer, the City hired 2,868 Boston teens — more "Red Shirts" than ever before — who cleaned 3,438 sites throughout Boston and removed 837 tons of trash.

The Howland Award honors James C. Howland, a founding partner of the CH2M Hill Company, one of the largest engineering consulting firms in the country which is committed to the integration of technology with the environment. Mayor Menino accepted the award on December 3 at this year's Congress of Cities in Minneapolis, Minn.

The National League of Cities represents 49 state municipal leagues and more than 17,000 cities and towns and serves as an advocate for its members in Washington, D.C., in the legislative, administrative and judicial processes that affect them.

MARY M. LASSEN NAMED EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE WEIU

The board of trustees at the Women's Educational and Industrial Union (WEIU), a 117-year-old nonprofit organization in Boston announced that Mary M. Lassen has been named as executive director.

MARY M. LASSEN, Executive Director, Women's Education and Industrial Union. (Photo: FayFoto)

A graduate of Radcliffe College, Lassen had previously served as executive director of the Committee for Boston Public Housing (CBPH), Inc., a nonprofit organization which works with public housing tenants. During her nine-year tenure, the organization grew from a $200,000 demonstration project to a $1.3-million permanent operation. She has also worked at other grassroots organizations across the country including the New York Community Action Network (NY C.A.N.), where she served as director.

In making the announcement, D'Arcy Goldman, president of the WEIU board of trustees said, "For several months, the WEIU has conducted a very extensive and thorough search to find the right individual to lead the Union forward. Mary Lassen is that person and with her experience, passion and vision, the WEIU will be an even better organization and will continue to address pressing issues in the community."

Recently, Lassen completed a one-year fellowship at the Mary I. Bunting Institute at Radcliffe College, where she wrote about approaches to leadership development and service delivery in America's public housing communities. Her study, titled, Community-Based Family Support in Public Housing, is scheduled to be published in January, 1995 by the Harvard Family Research Project of Harvard's Graduate School of Education. She has had other work published over the past few years, much of which has focused on women and families in public housing.

In response to her new position, Lassen commented, "The WEIU has such a rich history of tackling the issues faced by Boston women and their families, I am delighted to be selected to lead the Union at a time when women's advocacy and economic empowerment are so essential. As Boston faces the 21st century," she added, "the organization has a critical role to play as a force for change."

Founded in 1877 by one of America's first female physicians to serve the Boston community, the WEIU is credited with establishing many pioneer programs and "firsts" on a national and local level. Among them: opening the nation's first credit union; founding the Massachusetts Legal Aid Society; and establishing the Boston Public School Hot Lunch Program which provided area children with up to 18,000 lunches per day.

Today, they operate three service programs—Career Services, the state's largest free resource library for job hunters; Horizons Transitional Housing, the state's first transitional housing program for homeless and battered women with children; and Home Care and Support Services for the elderly and disabled. In support of these service programs, they also operate a retail store which houses gifts, cards, children's items, needlework and antiques and collectibles.

Commenting on the announcement, Florence Ladd, director of the Mary I. Bunting Institute said, "Mary Lassen has an extraordinary talent for energizing organizations and individuals. Already with her selection, the prospects for Boston are brighter."

United South End Settlements President Frieda Garcia said, "This is an outstanding choice given Mary's skills and prior experience. She is the right person to help the Union address the new issues confronting both women and nonprofit organizations."

In addition to her work, Lassen has served as a consultant to several foundations and nonprofit organizations including the Bernard van Leer Foundation in Holland and Save the Children, U.S.

Her nomination concludes a six-month search process conducted by the Boston-based search firm of Isaacson Miller.

GRANT AWARD ANNOUNCEMENT WITH JANET RENO

Mayor Thomas M. Menino*

Every resident and every family has a right to feel safe and secure in their homes, and on our city's streets. With the necessary public safety resources, Boston can help put an end to the senseless violence and crime that plague our neighborhoods.

That is why today is such an important day, not only for the City of Boston, but also for all of our residents. The Comprehensive Communities Grant that Boston has received from the United States' Justice Department will help join the Boston Police Department and area residents in a partnership for safe and secure neighborhoods.

Boston is extremely proud to have been chosen along with 15 other communities nationwide for this grant. The fact that we received one of the higher funding amounts says something very important about Boston — and the people who live here.

SELECTION OF RARELY SEEN PASTELS BY MONET, RENOIR, MANET AND DEGAS NOW ON VIEW AT THE MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS

Monet's seductive sunsets and the captivating, dream-like dancers by Degas are just a few of the rarely seen pastels now on view at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Twelve pastels by the masters of impressionism will be on view through February 1995 in the Museum's Lower Rotunda.

Because of the potential risk to pastels from prolonged exposure to light, these remarkable works are rarely on view. This is the first opportunity in many years to view the Museum's Impressionist pastels in such a dynamic ensemble.

"Pastels suited these artists' desire to record the sudden impact of visual sensation, the freshness of nature, and the fleeting effects of light," said Eric Zafran, acting Mrs. Russell W. Baker of European Paintings at the MFA. "The transient qualities they sought to convey through their work could be ideally captured through the fragility yet vibrancy of pastels."

The two young lovers in Boating Couple are an example of how Renoir found pastels well-suited to his cheerful and voluptuous figure studies. This softly blended pastel, considered to be from Renoir's best period during the early 1880s, portrays the artist and his future wife on the calming waters of a vibrant lake.

Two very rare and beautifully preserved pastels by Monet are also included in the installation. Because Monet rarely worked with pastels, the Museum is extremely fortunate to have two of his pastel landscapes. "Built up with thick layers of pastels, the sensuous texture of View of the Sea at Sunset has colors, one may feel they are witnessing the same sunset that inspired Monet," said Zafran.

Of all the Impressionists, Degas was the most experimental with pastels. He often combined pastels with water, working it with a wet brush, or using techniques that allowed him to build up many superimposed layers of color. His favorite subject for pastels was undoubtedly the dancer. Four works by Degas in the installation capture fleeting moments and beautifully examine the difficult, sometimes tedious, and always colorful life of young ballerinas.

Manet made exceptional use out of pastels for portraits, capturing the personalities of many of his friends on paper. He could depict not only individual personalities through this medium but was fond of portraying various "Parisian types", the boulevardiere, an elegant stroller of the city's streets, was a favored subject.

Following is a list of objects included in this installation.

- Boating Couple, Renoir, pastel on paper
- Mademoiselle Dieterle (La Merveilleuse), Renoir, pastel over lithograph on paper
- View of the Sea at Sunset, Monet, pastel on paper
- Broad Landscape, Monet, pastel on paper

BOSTON'S HOMELESS TO RECEIVE JOB TRAINING, JOBS

Boston Mayor Thomas M. Menino and John Rosenthal, chairman of the Friends of Boston's Homeless, toured Boston's newest job training initiative for homeless men and women: Serving Ourselves at Long Island Shelter. Joined by shelter guests, staff and supporters, Mayor Menino toured the new kitchen facilities of Serving Ourselves where trainees who are homeless helped to prepare foodstuffs before the traditional Thanksgiving meal at Long Island Shelter.

The City of Boston, in partnership with the Friends of Boston's Homeless, is opening this major innovative job training and employment program to address the specific needs of Boston's homeless men and women. During the Long Island Shelter tour, Mayor Menino discussed the job training and work opportunities with homeless and formerly homeless men and women including Leroy Wiggins and Dennis Ronca, who will work in Serving Ourselves.

"In the Serving Ourselves Program, homeless men and women will work to achieve marketable job skills, permanent employment and permanent housing," said Mayor Menino. "We hope that after training in this program, they will be able to move beyond homelessness, out of the city's emergency shelter system and into independent housing supported by wage-earning jobs."

"This program will provide homeless individuals with the skills, support and most importantly, the self-esteem necessary to re-enter the community as competitive workers," said John Rosenthal of the Friends.

"I'm excited about Serving Ourselves allowing the city to help so many more people each year," said Dennis Ronca, a former guest. "I owe the fact that I made it off the streets to the Long Island Shelter."

The Serving Ourselves Program at Long Island Shelter will train up to 50 homeless individuals annually in basic kitchen work, advanced culinary arts, landscape, building maintenance, inventory control and commercial laundry operations. Upon completing 6 - 12 months of training, they will be hired to provide these services within the city's 700-bed homeless services system. Participants will receive complete health benefits and comprehensive support services to successfully transition into permanent housing and employment.

Boston's Homeless Services was awarded a $2.1 million, five-year grant for this major innovative job training and employment program that addresses the specific needs of Boston's homeless. Boston won the competitive grant from the U. S. Department Housing and Urban Development's McKinney Supportive Housing Program through a unique partnership of the Mayor's Emergency Shelter Commission, Department of Health and Hospitals, and the Friends of Boston's Homeless.

The Serving Ourselves program, working out of the Long Island Shelter campus, will provide all food and laundry services for the City of Boston's Homeless Services. By doing so this unique training program enables participants to give back meaningfully to their community and enhance their own self esteem. Homeless individuals participating in the Serving Ourselves program will also receive referrals to competitive employment positions within the community.

The Serving Ourselves Program assists homeless individuals to develop a work ethic, job skills, team skills, self-esteem, and provide them with resources for permanent employment and housing. The support services the program offers to the city's homeless include: basic and specialized job skills with functional training in reading and math; employment opportunities, transitional housing and permanent housing assistance; and, substance abuse, mental health and health care benefits and services.

The Friends of Boston's Homeless, formerly called the Friends of Long Island Shelter, is a private, non-profit organization dedicated exclusively to developing supportive services and housing programs for homeless persons served by the City of Boston's shelter system. The Friends have provided $100,000 to rehabilitate the kitchen and laundry buildings at the Long Island Shelter campus, and will also provide consulting assistance on the kitchen and laundry operations.

The Long Island Shelter assumes full responsibility for providing food and laundry services for most of the city's 700-bed shelter system. Unused kitchen and laundry facilities available on Long Island will be reopened to provide over 800 meals daily and launder the system's bed linens. Funds from the grant will purchase the needed laundry and kitchen equipment. Currently, food and laundry service is contracted out.

Private support for the Serving Ourselves Program through the Friends of Boston's Homeless includes contributions from A.J. Martini, Inc., The Boston Financial Group, Citizens Bank of Massachusetts, Citizens Energy Corporation, Daniels Printing Company, R.M. Foley Vending Co., GZA Geo Environmental Tech, WEEI-590 Fund, Grazado Velleco Architects, John Hancock Financial Services, Henry Hornblower Fund, Meredith Management Corp., Pannell Kerr Forster,

$50,000 DONATED TO BOSTON LIVING CENTER

Mayor Thomas M. Menino has announced that the City will donate $50,000 to the Boston Living Center's expansion project.

The Mayor made the announcement at the Celebration of Life Thanksgiving Dinner at the Hynes Convention Center. The Mayor said, "The Living Center has grown to the point where its home on Clarendon Street is not big enough to accommodate its activities so it must expand its operations at a new location. The City, despite limited resources, is committed to the Living Center. We want to see it continue to make a difference in people's lives. So today I am announcing that the City will contribute $50,000 for renovations to the new building."

The Boston Living Center is a nonprofit community and resource center for people infected with and affected by HIV. The Center provides a comfortable environment, weekday meals, art studio, classes, holistic services, workshops, and a variety of social and recreational activities for more than one thousand members.

Currently housed at the YWCA on Clarendon, the Boston Living Center is moving to a new location in the future. Arrangements for the new location are still being finalized.

MAYOR CELEBRATES OPENING OF SOUTH END SUPERMARKET

Mayor Thomas M. Menino celebrated the return of an affordable supermarket to Boston's South End at the grand opening of Wollaston Supermarket at 400 Tremont Street, former site of an A&P Supermarket, which closed in January, 1993. The community has been without an affordable market since the A&P's closing. Also celebrating the opening were Frank Miller, owner of Wollaston Market in Quincy, community residents and members of the Castle Square Tenants Organization.

Mayor Menino said, "Over the last two decades, supermarkets all across the country have abandoned urban neighborhoods, leaving residents without affordable food. We've been working to reverse this trend. Today is just one more example of Boston's commitment to bringing jobs and services back to our communities."

The City's Public Facilities Department (PFD) has worked diligently with community leaders from Castle Square, Bay Village, Chinatown and the South End since the A&P's closing to bring a market back to the area. The Mayor lauded the dedication of community leaders: "The most credit for the success of this project goes to the community leaders, the community's Task Force for a Castle Square Supermarket, and the neighborhood residents."

The nearly $1 million supermarket project, which will bring 75 to 100 jobs to the community, is being funded from a variety of public and private sources. PFD has invested $350,000 for the purchase of fixtures and equipment. State Street Bank has invested $236,000 for leasehold improvements. Supervalu, the nation's largest food distribution company, has provided $261,000 in inventory and an accounts payable loan.

The Opening of Wollaston's marks the continuation of Boston's success in bringing supermarkets to the neighborhood, including the 300-employee Super Stop and Shop which opened this past January at the South Bay Center in Dorchester, and America's Food Basket, which opened two years ago in Dorchester's Uphams Corner. Three other supermarkets are in the City's pipeline for Jamaica Plain, Allston-Brighton and East Boston.

CHRISTMAS CRECHE ON DISPLAY AT MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS, BOSTON

Christmas is being celebrated at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, with the annual display of its 18th-century Venetian crèche. The exquisite 25-piece ensemble will be on view in the Cunningham Gallery from Nov. 25, 1994 - Jan. 8, 1995, as part of the Museum's holiday installation.

Surrounded by banks of white poinsettias, the Museum's crèche consists of 25 polychromed terra cotta figures from the Nativity, each standing almost 12 inches in height. Made in northern Italy in the second half of the 18th century, the installation includes figures, figural groups of musicians, shepherds and animals arranged on a pale blue velvet display winding up towards a stable. Mary, Joseph and the Christ Child, surrounding the stable, complete the ensemble. This year the installation will be complimented by four 18th century etchings, each depicting a moment of the Holy Family's journey into Egypt. The etchings are from Picturesque Ideas on the Flight into Egypt, a series of 27 works by Italian artist Giovanni Domenico Tiepolo.

The tradition of the Christmas crèche began in the liturgical dramas of the 12th century in which members of the clergy recreated the story of the Nativity by playing the roles of the central characters. By the early 17th century, these performances evolved into temporary Christmas displays of sculptural groups in elaborate settings installed in both churches and homes. Today displays of the Christmas crèche have become an annual tradition interpreting the Nativity with figures often numbering in the hundreds.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION SERVICE

Professional Services

C. 3476-94.

April 22, 1994.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Comprehensive Rehabilitation Associates, Inc., a corporation located at 312 Union Wharf, Boston, MA 02109, for professional services to be provided in connection with the Utilization Review and Diagnostic Grouping process of the Workers' Compensation Service. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c. 30B, and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, the contractor shall provide medical review professionals to review billing and claims on an as-needed basis, not to exceed five days per week to the Workers' Compensation Service, Boston City Hall, including, but not limited to, services mandated by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Industrial Accident Board, as well as diagnostic coding of claims as per the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Rate Setting Commission guidelines for Worker' Compensation claim processing and payment. In addition, the contractor shall be totally familiar with all other state and local statutes and ordinances regarding Workers' Compensation laws as they apply to the processing of medical claims. The contractor shall provide for an alternate Utilization Review Specialist at the contractor's sole expense in the event it is unable to provide the above services. The alternate selected by the contractor shall be subject to approval by the Workers' Compensation Agent. The contractor shall provide an average of forty-five hours of utilization review and medical file review services each week. The contractor is also required to provide proof of liability insurance and Workers' Compensation coverage for the assigned personnel working on site at Boston City Hall, in a form and amount satisfactory to the Workers' Compensation Agent.

Comprehensive Rehabilitation Associates, Inc. is uniquely qualified to do this work as its personnel have had prior medical experience at various facilities which service similar client population. This experience includes work for Harvard University, US Air and St. Paul Fire & Marine Insurance Co.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $135,000 at the rate of $60 per hour, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. There shall be no travel time allowance for any service which constitutes vocational rehabilitation. Reimbursement for travel time for medical reviews shall not exceed two hours per day on days when the medical review specialist dedicates a full day, seven hours or more, to the City of Boston medical issues. Reimbursement for travel is approved only because it results in a lower rate for services and therefore a lower overall cost for the City of Boston.

This contract is being submitted late due to a series of unusual circumstances culminating in an unprecedented need for medical expertise in the Workers' Compensation Service. Backlogged medical bills required intensive review for speedy resolution and payment. Excessive, ineffective treatments were sharply curtailed as a result of aggressive in-house monitoring. Inappropriate codes were corrected, and claims staff received training and guidance in analyzing medical bills. The unanticipated illnesses of two key staff people at a crucial juncture of the case tracking implementation process necessitated greater than anticipated need for increased medical input from a rehabilitation firm familiar with our caseload. The FY 1995 budget for Workers' Compensation Service contains funding for a Utilization Review Specialist which will obviate the need for outside services of this scope in the future.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Alyson R. Haley,
Workers' Compensation Agent.

C. 3448-95.

June 27, 1994.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Amy Barringer of 357 Malden Street, Medford, MA 02155, for services such as receptionist, data entry, and clerical support for the Workers' Compensation Service. Her duties include but are not limited to responding to inquiries by telephone and in person, answering inquiries or when appropriate referring questions to the proper sources, reviewing and sorting incoming mail, entering medical bills into the risk management computer system and other duties as required.

Amy Barringer has worked previously for the Workers' Compensation Service during the school year and in the summer performing these tasks. Her background and experience are well suited to the needs of this office.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $9,999 and the payments from appropriation code number 011-341-0342-WA01-0630 will be made at the rate of $10 per hour, an amount which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. The term of this contract shall be from July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995.

Because of Miss Barringer's prior experience in performing these services for the city, and her demonstrated competence and capabilities, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Alyson R. Haley,
Agent.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Dr. Laurence DuComb, an individual located at 63 Brettwood Street, Belmont, Massachusetts, for psychiatric services at the Suffolk County Jail. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c. 30B and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Dr. Laurence DuComb will provide psychiatric services to the inmates incarcerated at the jail. The contractor shall be on-call twenty-four-hours per day for consultation and must come to the facility if requested by the jail staff. The alternate selected by the contractor shall be subject to approval by the Sheriff. The contractor shall provide an average of 7 1/2 hours of psychiatric services per week. The contractor is also required to provide proof of malpractice insurance in a form and amount satisfactory to the Sheriff.

Dr. DuComb is uniquely qualified to perform these services as he has had extensive psychiatric experience dealing with individuals in custody and in particular, individuals confined at the Suffolk County Jail.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $32,370 at the rate of $83 per hour, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995.

Dr. Robert Graham's compensation for services provided in the past three years is as follows:

FY92 $30,212
FY93 $30,212
FY94 $32,536

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

Robert C. Rufo,
Sheriff.

Now, every week is "your week" to recycle.

EVERY WEEK RECYCLING PICK-UP

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

MEDALLION REDEDICATED IN DOWNTOWN CROSSING

A medallion bearing the names of individuals who were instrumental in the founding of Downtown Crossing, as well as Mayor Thomas M. Menino and the Downtown Crossing Association, was rededicated on Tuesday, November 29, at 12 noon in between Filene's and Jordan Marsh. Invited speakers included Mayor Thomas M. Menino, former Mayors Collins and White as well as former BRA Director Ed Logue.

The carved granite medallion is part of the $3.5 million Capital Improvements Project to revitalize Downtown Crossing, and replaced a medallion which was installed in 1979 and fell into disrepair. Honoring the "builders of a new Boston," the medallion lists those individuals who were instrumental in the Urban Renewal process for downtown Boston. Those honored are: Lloyd D. Brace, former Mayor John F. Collins, Charles A. Coolidge, Bertram A. Druker, the Arch Street Franciscan Friars, Eli Goldston, Harold D. Hodgkinson, former president and chairman of the board of Filene's, former Mayor John B. Hynes and Monsignor Francis J. Lally, former chairman of the BRA. Also included are Edward J. Logue, former director of the BRA, Edward R. Mitton, former president of Jordan Marsh, Robert M. Morgan, Frank Vorenberg, and Mark C. Wheeler. Many honorees are deceased and their families were present to participate in the ceremony.

The Downtown Crossing Association is a private, nonprofit organization of businesses concerned with the civic, economic and cultural development of Boston's downtown area.

The original medallion that was placed here in 1979 recognized all of the public and private individuals who contributed to the rebuilding of Boston's commercial centers those years ago. Today, we can take pride in this remade medallion because it recognizes those individuals and groups — past and present — who have contributed so much to the success of Downtown Crossing and other parts of the city.

One particular group — the Downtown Crossing Association — is especially worthy of this recognition. Since 1986, this group has injected new life, new energy, and new pride into Downtown Crossing. I look forward to continued cooperation with the Downtown Crossing Association, and I wish you all many more years of growth and prosperity.

DOWNTOWN CROSSING MEDALLION UNVEILING

*Statement of Mayor
Thomas M. Menino,
November 29, 1994*

Downtown Crossing has always held a special place in the hearts of the people of Boston. Over the years, their pride has been reflected in the commitment of Boston's mayors to ensure the success and vitality of Downtown Crossing, and I am proud to continue in that tradition.

Last year, as part of the city's Capital Improvement Plan, my administration committed $2.5 million for improvements to Downtown Crossing — from new streets and sidewalks, to new lights, signage and other street fixtures. The unveiling

MAYOR MENINO'S CHRISTMAS TROLLEY TOUR IN THE NEIGHBORHOODS

Thursday, December 8, 1994, began a holiday kick off on City Hall Plaza. This year, to compliment the regular neighborhood tree lightings, Mayor Menino boarded a blue line trolley, bedecked in fresh greenery with gold and red bows accompanied by an array of costumed characters, special guests, a pair of reindeer and of course, Santa Claus, to travel throughout the city.

Mayor Menino lit the tree on City Hall Plaza, on December 8, where there was entertainment and the opportunity to view the enchanted trolley tour before it set off on its city-wide journey.

Children had the opportunity to meet Mayor Menino and to climb on

GREATER ROXBURY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CORPORATE AND BUSINESS COMMUNITY SERVICE RECOGNITION LUNCHEON

*Statement of Mayor Thomas M.
Menino, November 30, 1994.*

First, I want to thank the Greater Roxbury Chamber of Commerce for inviting me here this afternoon, and for recognizing those individuals who are making tremendous contributions to this community.

As mayor, one of the things that I have tried to do is to establish our city as a place where partnerships are formed among different groups board Santa's sleigh to say hello to both him and his reindeer. Santa distributed candy canes to all of the children and costumed Victorian carolers led the entire community in song. The Trolley Tour was made up of two trolley buses and a sleigh with Santa sitting inside. This entourage pulled into each neighborhood where local children performed. Local businesses in all areas have been very supportive of these events and supplied all attendees with hot chocolate and cookies.

Mayor Menino's Christmas Trolley Tour was extremely festive and encouraged the entire community to come together to celebrate the Christmas season. The events in each individual neighborhood were different as the ethnic flavor of each community were celebrated in both the entertainment and in the spirit of the people.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE . . .

— where we can combine resources and information, and better help our communities. Well, the partnership that has developed among the city, this organization, and this community is a great example how that works.

Since 1991, the members of the G.R.C.C. have been on the forefront of addressing the concerns of this community. Through different events and programs, information sessions, and conferences, you have helped so many Roxbury residents in the area of youth services and business development.

Today, we have the opportunity to honor individuals whose dedication and commitment to this community is a value and an asset to all. I want to congratulate all of the award recipients for their hard work. Believe me, your work is a major contribution to our efforts to help families across the city.

As mayor, I have been working hard to improve the quality of life for Boston residents — by creating jobs and educational opportunities for young people, by making affordable housing available to all residents, by creating economic development not only in the downtown areas, but also in our neighborhood business districts, and by streamlining city government so that residents can get the best in city services.

And let me tell you something — we are making progress. For example, several weeks ago, Boston received a $1.2 million grant for the restoration of the furniture factory in the Dudley Square area. And we plan to work with the merchants of that business district to revitalize that important commercial center.

In addition to that, the Blue Hill Avenue Task Force has been meeting on a regular basis to strategize and plan for the revitalization of this area. We have been meeting with the merchants on Blue Hill Avenue, and we will continue to seek community input on this initiative and on future endeavors.

In the last year, there have been 292 community development projects in Roxbury, which represents a $20 million investment in this neighborhood. Also, there are presently 19 active capital projects in this neighborhood, which represents a $74 million investment.

So you see, my administration is working hard to make Boston more customer friendly, not only for the big developers, but also for the medium and small businesses in our industrial area, and neighborhood business districts. In addition, my administration has created the Office of Business Services to act as a liaison between businesses and city agencies. Services include everything from permitting and street cleaning, to locating working capital, and everything in between.

As mayor, I know how important it is to Boston's economy for the private sector to invest in our city. That is why my administration has been making public investments in our city's streets, sidewalks and utility lines. We want our city to be the best, look the best, and to attract as many private investors as possible. Because the bottom line is — a public-private partnerships has the ability to work magic — and to achieve so much for working families.

As Boston and the rest of the country moves ahead with the new Congress, partnerships are going to be increasingly important to the delivery of services. All of us are going to have to work together to find creative ways to fund the programs that we know are needed not only in Boston, but around America.

A lot of the naysayers in Washington have already made it clear that they intend to bring a new brand of politics to town. But here in Boston, we know — and we will never let Washington forget — that you can't talk about building a new America without including all Americans — from all walks of life, and from different backgrounds.

N.D.S.C. PRESS CONFERENCE ON
H.O.M.E. OPERATING MONEY

*Statement of Mayor
Thomas M. Menino
November 30, 1994*

If we want the City of Boston to be prepared for the 21st century, we need to work hard toward stabilizing our neighborhoods, and to helping our residents and their families.

For many years now, community development corporations from all over the city have helped in the process of making our neighborhoods a better place to live. Because their roles are so important in the every day life of our city, we need their continued support. That is why today is so important — 17 Boston area CDCs will receive needed money for stabilizing our neighborhoods.

The City of Boston has committed $650,000 of federal H.O.M.E. funds to cover some of the operating costs of CDCs. And we are the first major city in the nation to use H.O.M.E. funds in this way. I am very proud that the city could be a major contributor to this initiative.

As mayor, I often speak about the importance of partnerships to strengthen communities, build neighborhoods, and to improve the quality of life for Boston residents and their families. Well, the partnership that has developed among the N.D.S.C., the CDCs, and the public and private sectors is a great example of how that works. With initiatives such as this one, and our work to improve our neighborhood business districts, provide affordable housing for Boston residents, and support the Main Streets Program, the city is working hard to ensure that Boston families get the best that Boston has to offer.

I want to thank all of the corporate partners, and everyone who helped to make this possible, for your role in providing both technical support and financial backing for community development. Your investments to rebuild Boston's neighborhoods are to be applauded. But, your continued involvement and commitment are still necessary to bring about the complete social and economic rejuvenation needed in many communities.

Together, we can enable local CDCs to not only empower and better their neighborhoods, but also to stabilize and strengthen a community.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved the amending of contracts, based on the following information:

LAW DEPARTMENT

Civil Process Services

C. 1852-94
August 9, 1994

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On May 24, 1994, your Honor approved an award of a contract to the Suffolk County Deputy Sheriff, located at 11 Beacon Street, Boston, MA 02108, to serve civil process required by the Law Department's Tax Title Division during the period of July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1994, at a cost not to exceed $3,000.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract to provide the same civil process services previously stated. The cost of this amendment shall not exceed $109, which I have determined to be reasonable. This amendment is late because the total amount needed was not recognized prior to the end of this fiscal year. The contract, as amended, shall not exceed $3,109. The period of performance shall remain the same.

This amendment is necessary because the original contract amount was insufficient to meet the cost of services that have been rendered to date.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be performed and the reasonable cost of the services to be provided, it is my opinion that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,

Albert W. Wallis, Corporation Counsel.

MAYOR'S OFFICE

Policy Advisor

C. 1771-94
August 18, 1994

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On February 28, 1994, you approved an award letter to Mr. Patrick Walker of 115 Chestnut Street, Jamaica Plain, MA 02130, for services as an educational policy advisor to the Mayor. This contract was in the amount of $40,000 and for the period from January 21, 1994, through June 30, 1994.

Due to unforeseen complexities involving the union negotiations with the Boston Public Schools, Mr. Walker was forced to work more hours than initially anticipated. Therefore, I respectfully request your approval to amend this contract by increasing the awarded amount from $40,000 to $44,450. Mr. Walker has submitted detailed reports on the work he performed during this period and is entitled to this compensation.

This amendment is being submitted late due to an administrative oversight compounded by the late submission of the final invoice by the vendor after the year-end fiscal closing process began.

Sincerely,

Alyce J. Lee,
Chief of Staff.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Legal Services

C. 1164 94
May 17, 1994

Dear Mayor Menino:

On April 22, 1994, your Honor approved the award of a contract, without public advertisement for bid, to Timothy F. Cullen, an attorney, located at 36 Covington Street, Boston, MA 02127, for legal services. The term of this contract is February 23, 1994, through April 20, 1994, at a cost not to exceed $8,000. This contract is exempt from the provisions of M.G.L. c.30B under section I(b)(14) and was awarded under the authority of the Boston City Charter.

Your approval is requested to extend the term of the contract and to amend the contract to provide for more hours of legal services in the Office of Administrative Hearings. Mr. Cullen's legal expertise and assistance in labor hearings is needed at this time to ensure a quick review time of internal discipline cases and to maintain a high public confidence in the department's internal disciplinary proceedings. I have determined that this amendment is both urgent and necessary, and I believe that amending this contract, given the depth of Mr. Cullen's expertise, is the most economical and practical manner in which to proceed.

This cost of this amendment, which is effective on April 21, 1994, shall not exceed $1,716, which I have determined to be reasonable. The total cost of this contract, as amended, shall not exceed $9,716. The rate of compensation shall be the rate as originally awarded, $25 per hour. The term of the contract, as amended, shall be extended from April 20, 1994, to June 30, 1994. All other terms and conditions shall remain the same.

Due to the professional nature of the services involved, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. This amendment is being processed late due to late request for additional services from the Office of Administrative Hearings.

Respectfully,

Paul F. Evans,
Police Commissioner.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Professional Services

C. 3743-95
August 22, 1994

Dear Mr. Mayor:

On July 20, 1994, your Honor approved award of a contract without public advertising to Daidra Gorham, an individual located at 9 Hallam Street, Dorchester, MA 02125, for professional services as Personnel and Budget Operations Analyst for the Treasury Department, Payment Coordinator for the City of Boston's Master Installment Sales Program and Administrator of Bankruptcy procedure for the Treasury Department. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B, as it is an employment agreement, and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Your approval is requested to amend this contract to provide for an increase in weekly hours and yearly salary which was not provided for in the terms of the original contract. Ms. Gorham presently works four (4) days, 32 hours per week. Due to an increase in the work volume, especially relating to Bankruptcy filings it is necessary to increase her work schedule to forty (40) hours.

The total amount of this amendment, which is effective on August 26, 1994, shall not exceed $6,676, which I have determined to be reasonable. This contract as amended shall not exceed $37,680, payable at the weekly rate of $741.72.

The period of performance shall remain July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995.

Respectfully yours,

John C. Simmons,

C.3342-95
October 6, 1995

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Cai Ling Wu, 98 Tyler St., Boston, MA 02111, an individual, for part-time Clerical Work. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B because it is an employment contract and is therefore being awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Cai Ling Wu will perform clerical work of moderate difficulty, requiring a moderate degree of decision making, and a general knowledge of the functions of the Purchasing Division. Mrs. Cai Ling Wu is uniquely qualified to do this work because she has experience with the computers currently being used in the Purchasing Division.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $7,850, at an hourly rate of $8.50, which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be from September 26, 1994, through June 30, 1995.

Please excuse the lateness of this letter which is due to an oversight on our part.

Because of the nature of the services to be performed, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Budget Management

Consultant

August 2, 1994

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Mark D. Abrahams, an individual, located at 52 Flanagan Drive, Framingham, MA 01701, to facilitate the reporting of performance data by working with the various City departments, the Cabinet, and the Office of Budget Management. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B as it is a contract for employment and is being awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Mr. Abrahams will serve as the City's consultant to facilitate the reporting of performance data and the agreement among the Department heads, program managers, and Cabinet representatives as to what the objectives of each department are, what is to be measured, what outcome indicators will be used to measure results, and what verifiable data are to support the objective and outcome measure. The results of Mr. Abrahams efforts will help produce the Mayor's Management Information Reporting System (MIRS). Mr. Abrahams, who is a Certified Public Accountant, is uniquely qualified to do this work because he has developed and implemented performance measures, budgets, and reporting systems at the local, state, and federal government levels.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $50,000. Payment shall be made at the rate of $100 per hour, which I consider reasonable based upon Mr. Abrahams experience and the work to be performed. In addition, Mr. Abrahams will be reimbursed for actual out of pocket expenses including travel, postage, telephone, faxes, and report reproduction, as set forth in his proposal. I have determined this to be reasonable for the work performed.

The term of this contract shall be August 2, 1994, to October 15, 1994.

This contract is being processed late due to the time required to recruit a candidate to meet the needs of this position, and for the receipt, completion and return of the required documents.

Very truly yours,
Neil H. Gordon,
Director.

Staff Retreat

C.1270-95
August 15, 1994

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to Jeanette Millard, an individual, located at 89 Kendall Road, Boxborough, MA 01719, to facilitate a full-day staff retreat focused on bringing the Operating Budget staff and the Capital Budgeting staff together. This contract is exempt from the provisions of G.L. c.30B, as it is a contract for job related training and is being awarded under the authority of the City Charter.

Under the terms of the contract, Ms. Millard will serve as a facilitator to address the following issues:

1. Vision and goal setting from the Director for the coming year
2. Examination of organizational "culture" of the two groups being blended
3. Team building exercise for the full group
4. Questions/information from the group to the Director

Ms. Millard is uniquely qualified to do this work because of her demonstrated effectiveness at designing and implementing training programs and addressing team development issues. She has performed similar functions for other governments as well as corporate, educational, and non-profit agencies at the local, national, and international levels. She possesses extensive background knowledge and experience on organizational development and cultural change, which is necessary to make this a productive, useful endeavor that will enable our staff to successfully undertake an important transition in the office's mission, organization, and workload.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $3,000. Payment shall be made at the rate of $750 per day. The scope of services requires one day of interviews, conferring with Director on his role, and follow-up; one day for design; and a full-day retreat. I consider this reasonable based upon Ms. Millard's experience and the work to be performed. In addition, Ms. Millard will be reimbursed for actual out of pocket expenses including travel, materials, telephone, and faxes as set forth in her proposal. I have determined this to be reasonable for the work to be performed.

The term of this contract shall be August 4, 1994, to September 15, 1994.

This contract is being processed late due to the time required to recruit a candidate to meet the needs of this position, and for the receipt, completion and return of the required documents.

Very truly yours,
Neil H. Gordon,
Director.

COMMUNITY CENTERS

Under the terms of the contract, EDIC will provide programmatic and administrative support services in support of the City's Alternative Education Initiative (AEI). This contract is exempt from the provision of G.L. c.30B as it is an agreement between agencies of the City of Boston.

EDIC was selected as the staff of the Jobs and Community Services (JCS) Department, formerly the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services, has provided these services for the previous eight (8) years. EDIC/JCS staff will continue to fund and monitor community-based, non-profit organizations offering programs which target out-of-school youths, in collaboration with Boston Community Centers.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $31,500, payment being made from funds set aside for the Alternative Education Initiative (AEI). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1994, until June 30, 1995. This request has been delayed due to the late determination of funding availability.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, solely to establish a mechanism for payment to EDIC, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Riesenber,
Executive Director.

This firm had previously provided such services to the City in fiscal years 1993 and 1994 through contracts with the City's Law Department.

This contract is exempt from the provisions of General Laws, Chapter 30B, and is awarded under the authority of the City Charter. Under the terms of this contract, Kopelman and Paige, P.C., subject to the general supervision and direction of the Corporation Counsel, will provide legal preparation and representation on behalf of the City of Boston for all assigned medical malpractice cases. The contractor is especially qualified to do this because of extensive experience in the involved issues.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $50,000. The hourly rate for attorneys providing services hereunder shall be $110 which I have determined to be reasonable for the work to be performed. This contract shall also include compensation for appropriate related expenses. The term of this contract shall be from July 1, 1994, to June 30, 1995. The term of this contract shall be July 1, 1994, through June 30, 1995.

Therefore, because the above software is proprietary from Digital Equipment Corporation and the personnel are specially trained to

DISAPPROVING ORDER TO ESTABLISH WITHIN COMMUNITY SCHOOL PROGRAM A COMPONENT PROVIDING REGISTRY FOR TEEN AGED RESIDENTS WILLING TO DO ODD JOBS FOR RESIDENTS REQUESTING ASSISTANCE (DOCKET NO. 0209)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 11, 1994

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I return herewith without my signature and approved, an Order passed by your Honorable Body on March 23, 1994, Docket No. 0209, which purports to establish programming within the Community Centers Division of the Public Facilities Department.

While I applaud the Order's goal of linking students who want odd jobs with City residents who cannot do the jobs themselves, this veto is required for a variety of reasons.

First, Community Centers' action "as an administrator . . . helping students find employment," could establish an agency relationship between the City and students that could result in unwanted legal liability for the City because of actions taken by students.

In addition, the provision that the program "may refuse to register or keep registered any person known to have criminal involvement or who has been reliably reported to fail to perform reasonably and responsibly" is sufficiently vague as to be unenforceable.

Finally, the Order, by attempting to dictate programming for Community Centers, is in violation of the provision of the City Charter which prohibits the City Council and its members from taking part in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the City St. 1948, c452, s 17G.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

ORDER TO DISTRIBUTE FUNDS BEQUEATHED TO CITY BY BENJAMIN FRANKLIN IN TRUST FOR MAINTENANCE, EXTENSION, AND USE OF FRANKLIN INSTITUTE (DOCKET NO. 0497)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 4, 1994

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I am pleased to transmit herewith for your approval an order to distribute the remainder of a trust fund left to the disposition of the City of Boston to the Franklin Foundation in trust for the maintenance, extension and use of the Franklin Institute of Boston.

This fund was originally left to the "Inhabitants of the Town of Boston" by inventor, printer, patriot, ambassador and Boston native Benjamin Franklin upon his death on April 17, 1790.

Some 100 years ago, proceeds of this trust fund were used to establish the Franklin Union, which is now the Franklin Institute of Boston, as a technical school designed to train young people for supervisory positions in industry. The City was authorized to maintain the school by St. 1905, c.488. In 1908, the Franklin Foundation was established to manage the fund and the school while the City retained legal title thereto.

In light of the City's past support of the Institute, of the Institute's contributions to the community during more than a century, and the provisions of the attached order aimed at insuring the Institute's continued presence and support for the youth of this City, it is only fitting that this order be approved.

I therefore urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible so that the great design of Benjamin Franklin may be perpetuated.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor.

Whereas, The Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in The Franklin Foundation v. Attorney General and others, 416 Mass. 83 (1993), determined that the trust created by a codicil to Benjamin Franklin's will terminated on June 30, 1991; and,

Whereas, Said Court has determined that the remainder of said trust funds shall be to the disposition of the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and

Whereas, In 1905 the City was authorized by statute to maintain the Franklin Union, now the Franklin Institute of Boston, as a technical school designed to train young people for supervisory positions in industry, now therefore be it

Ordered, That the portion of the fund bequeathed by Benjamin Franklin to the inhabitants of the town of Boston in trust shall be distributed to the Franklin Foundation established by chapter 569 the acts of 1908, in trust as a permanent endowment, with income only to be used for the maintenance, extension and use of the Franklin Institute, provided, however, as follows:

1. The Franklin Institute shall remain located in the City of Boston.
2. Said income shall be used by said Franklin Institute exclusively for scholarships or other educational programs for the benefit of graduates of Boston Public High Schools who are Boston residents, and.
3. Said Franklin Institute shall report on an annual basis to the Mayor and the City Council of Boston on the manner in which said funds have been used, and
4. Neither the Franklin Foundation nor the Franklin Institute shall assess nor be entitled to any administrative fees in connection with the trust created hereby.

In the event that said funds shall ever cease to be used in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the trust created hereby shall forthwith be deemed terminated and said funds shall revert to the City of Boston.

APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR 1994-95 TAX YEAR (DOCKET NO. 0547)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 13, 1994

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith my proposed Fiscal Year 1995 Operating Budget for the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk. This Budget, in the amount of $1.396 billion, is the City's tenth consecutive balanced budget submission.

This, the first Proposed Budget of my Administration, sets out in dollars and in performance commitments, my priorities and administrative strategies for the next four years. This Budget reflects both what City government should be about, and how it should operate. It also lays out the financial realities under which the City must operate.

The FY95 Budget is based on my service priorities — a safe, clean City in which to live and work, concern for our children, and modest investments to maintain and enhance government's effectiveness. I am recommending funding for three classes of 40 police officers to fully support my commitment to community policing. These classes mean that uniformed strength will increase from 1,920 today to an estimated 2,030 by June of 1995, a nearly six percent increase. It is my plan, based on the current revenue and expenditure outlook, to provide similar numbers of new officer classes for the next several fiscal years.

Keeping up appearances is critical to our efforts to make Boston an attractive place to live and do business. The FY95 Budget directs more resources to street cleaning and repairs, and we will be exploring new ways of providing these services most effectively. This Budget also makes a major new commitment to increase recycling programs in Boston. A 58 percent increase in funding for recycling will expand the number of neighborhoods serviced by "blue boxes" for bottles and cans, and provide more frequent and predictable newspaper collections.

Both libraries and community centers will be open more hours in FY95. Added funding supports opening the Central Library at Copley Square for four hours on Sundays, and provides four more open Saturday hours at four branch libraries. Fourteen Community Centers will now be open for eight hours every Saturday, and will have Friday night hours extended from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. for nine weeks in the summer. These extended hours will provide all Boston residents, and particularly our young people, with added opportunities for learning and recreation.

The Budget makes modest investments in new equipment and technology. There will be new investment in Public Works vehicles, funding for automation of Inspectional Services Department files and management systems, and support for a strategic plan for technological innovation City-wide. We must take advantage of new technologies if we want to provide better service more efficiently.

As important as these proposals for funding specific priorities and programs are, this Budget is also a blueprint for management in my Administration. It lays out both a new organizational structure and a clear set of performance commitments for FY95.

The Budget is organized according to the new Cabinet structure. Presenting total personnel and funds from all sources for each Cabinet area shows for the first time how much resources are devoted to each functional responsibility within City government. In addition, identifying a single person responsible for all the activities in each of these functional areas sets the stage for more coordination between, and streamlining of, old bureaucracies.

In addition to the new structure, this Budget includes several new or reorganized departments. There are new Offices of Civil Rights, Special Events and Tourism, and Cultural Affairs to put added focus on these important functions. The responsibilities of the Public Facilities and Real Property Departments have been realigned to create a new Property Management Department, and to refocus Public Facilities on its fundamental mission of planning and new construction. The MIS Division has been restructured as a Department of Management and Information Services with a new mandate to oversee management reporting and analysis.

Perhaps most important, this FY95 Budget includes more specific, quantified performance goals for each department and for each cabinet. While the new Cabinet structure supports improved performance, the ultimate measure of success is not a new organization chart but more and better services delivered at less cost.

Finally, this Budget reflects the fiscal realities we face. There are always areas in which we would like to do more. But I am firmly committed to keeping Boston on a sound financial footing. Without that foundation, increases in services are short sighted. Thus this Budget husbands reserves and proposes only what we can afford. Further expansion of services will come only if we can provide the basics more efficiently and if we can assume greater responsibility for our revenue options. Gaining this responsibility will be the challenge for the next four years.

My Administration looks forward to working with the City Council as you review this Proposed Budget. I encourage your suggestions as to how to make this review as useful and constructive as possible.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor.

APPROPRIATION ORDER OF $404,960,000 FOR
(DOCKET NO. 0549)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 13, 1994

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith an appropriation order in the amount of $404,960 million for the Boston School Department for FY 95, submitted pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, as amended by Chapter 190 of the Acts of 1982, as further amended by Chapter 701 of the Acts of 1986, Chapter 613 of the Acts of 1987 and Chapter 108 of the Acts of 1991.

The School Department projects an additional $57,464 million. In addition, the City's FY95 Capital Plan outlines $18 million in school investment, a $4.5 million increase over last year's plan.

This appropriation represents a $4.4 million or 1 percent increase after accounting for one-time FY94 expenses and the City's direct appropriation to Community Centers for alternative education programs. In addition, a $4 million reserve for potential growth in student enrollment has been included in the City's budget to offset new costs associated with expanded numbers of students. As soon as additional costs are identified, I will recommend to you a supplemental appropriation from the reserve. Over the last decade the Boston School Department's student enrollment has increased by 7,240 with most of the increase in the last four years.

My commitment to education has never been stronger. I pledge to support and work closely with the School Committee and the Superintendent to bring about improvements in student achievement and maximum efficiency in the use of our resources. As a reflection of my attention to our School Department, the FY95 Proposed Budget includes a section on the Boston Public Schools, presenting expenditure and budget information and specific performance indicators for School Year 1994-1995.

I respectfully request your support of the FY95 appropriation for the Boston School Department

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor.

ORDERED

That pursuant to Chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, as

ORDINANCE TRANSFERRING CERTAIN FUNCTIONS OF THE REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT TO THE PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT AND TRANSFERRING CERTAIN FUNCTIONS OF THE PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT TO THE REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT (DOCKET NO. 0550)

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 13, 1994

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith a proposed order transferring certain functions between the Real Property and Public Facilities Departments. The proposed order also renames the reconfigured Real Property Department as the Property Management Department to better reflect its new responsibilities.

This order consolidates all responsibilities related to maintenance, repair, minor alterations, and protection of municipal buildings within the new Property Management Department. The consolidation of these functions within one department will provide more efficient delivery of basic maintenance services to City buildings.

The order also consolidates responsibility for maintenance and appropriate disposal of property acquired through tax foreclosure within the Public Facilities Department, and transfers to that department responsibility for municipal parking lots that enhance neighborhood business districts. These functions, along with Public Facilities' ongoing responsibility for new construction, are appropriately assigned in a department with a focus on fostering economic development and housing in Boston.

In addition to eliminating a significant overlap in the responsibilities of these two departments, this realignment of responsibilities supports my new cabinet organization and is consistent with departmental budget structure presented in my Proposed FY95 Budget.

I urge your approval of this proposed ordinance.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Menino,
Mayor of Boston.

City of Boston

Passed under suspension of the rules.

SUPPORTING PLAN OF BOSTON PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT FOR PERMA-NENT ERADICATION OF PHRAGMITES
FROM FENWAY (DOCKET NO. 0552)

Coun. KEANE offered the following:

Whereas, The Back Bay Fens and Riverway are plagued with the uncontrolled proliferation of the aggressive giant reed Phragmite, which currently suffocates nearly 7.5 acres of the park, 1.6 acres on land and 5.8 acres in the water;

Whereas, The Phragmites are an invasive species whose density and height has led to the overall degradation of the Fens, strangling more useful wetlands vegetation and reducing the biodiversity of the park and destroying its beauty, and providing a cover for perpetrators of some of the most violent crimes perpetrated in this city by sectioning off and secluding sections of the park from view;

Whereas, In 1993 alone, the Victim Recovery Program of the Fenway Community Health Center documented nearly two dozen violent attacks in and around this area of the Fens, nine of which resulted in extended hospitalizations;

Whereas, It is imperative that the City balance the need to appropriately manage the Fens as an urban park with the need to ensure the safety of the community encompassing, and using, this park;

Whereas, The Boston Department of Parks and Recreation has issued a Notice of Intent Under the Massachusetts Wetland Protection Act, Phragmites Control and Park Restoration Program for the Back Bay Fens and the Riverway, which proposes the use of the herbicide Rodeo for permanent eradication of the Phragmites;

Whereas, The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection approve the use of this herbicide for the purposes proposed by the Parks Department and any claims that the use of this herbicide will result in detrimental long-term health or environmental effects are unfounded;

Whereas, Other proposed long term measures including mechanical removal, flooding, and covering with plastic are either imprudent, infeasible or ineffective and could be environmentally destructive; and

Whereas, The Department's Plan will facilitate restoration of the park, allowing for revegetation of the area with plant species that are both natural to the area and which were part of the original park design; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council supports the Department's proposed Phragmites eradication plan, which, combined with a prudent application plan and an aggressive program to protect the Victory Gardens, will begin the restoration of one of this city's most magnificent resources, the Fens.

Season's Greetings

MAYOR MENINO FILES CITY'S LEGISLATIVE AGENDA

Package Contains "Envirobond", Jobs Fund, Public Safety, Education and Revenue Measures.

Boston Mayor Thomas M. Menino outlined the City of Boston's 1995 state legislative package which was filed at the State House on Wednesday, December 7. Menino said, "This is the first state legislative package that I have put forward since my new Cabinet structure has been implemented. It contains a number of bold new proposals to create jobs, improve our environment and build new regional partnerships. It also deals with fundamental city issues from public safety and education to securing Boston's fair share of revenues. I am proud of this package and look forward to working with the Boston delegation to the State House to secure passage of this agenda." The City's legislative package includes:

- An "Envirobond" proposal which would clean up contaminated industrial sites for economic development, provide capital for environmental industries locating in Boston's proposed empowerment zone, convert the former West Roxbury landfill into recreational and open space, and provide low cost loans for water saving improvements;
- A "Massachusetts Economic Development Fund" to channel potential state revenues from gaming into a job creation fund targeted to major economic revitalization projects from Boston to North Adams;
- A public safety package of legislation that seeks to crack down on firearms in public housing, facilitate the eviction process for problem tenants and enhance the ability of police officers to deal with domestic violence situations;
- Bills providing for city representation on quasi-public agencies such as MassPort and the Mass. Turnpike Authority. The City is also seeking development review authority for all projects initiated in Boston;
- Legislation requiring property owners to provide the City with their full and complete address, and, in the case of out of state owners, to provide the full name and address of an in-state agent, and;
- Tax incentives for companies that donate computers to inner city schools and a tax deduction for water and sewer charges.

In addition, the City intends to file a package of revenue measures including a "Major Events" revenue sharing plan proposed by Mayor Menino which would enable Boston and other cities to benefit from events such as "Sail Boston". Other revenue measures would divert a portion of toll revenues from the Mass. Turnpike to impacted communities, allow for the taxation of businesses on state-owned property, and increase the reimbursement level to the City for state-owned land.

Mayor Menino said, "In this legislative package, we propose no new broad-based taxes. Rather, our focus is on capturing Boston's fair share of revenues — from state authorities, from the lottery, and from revenues dedicated to education. We'll be making our case that an investment in Boston is a good investment for our state."

The mayor also noted his proposal for a "MegaBoston" study commission to examine new venues for regional cooperation. He added, "We need to cast aside the old adversarial relationships and look for new opportunities for cooperation — in purchasing, in economic development and tourism promotion and in reinventing government at the local level. Let's put people in the same room and have them work together on a bold new plan for regional partnerships."

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS FOR ELDER HOUSING IN SOUTH BOSTON

Boston Mayor Thomas M. Menino joins the South Boston community to celebrate the beginning of construction for 50 units of affordable elderly housing on the site of the former Thomas N. Hart School located at 120 H Street.

The $4.2-million project is being funded jointly by the National Council of Senior Citizens (NCSC) and the City of Boston Public Facilities Department (PFD). PFD is investing $250,000 for site enhancements that will be compatible with the architectural character of the neighborhood.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and his wife Angela joined youngsters recently for the annual tree lighting ceremony on the Boston Common. The government of New Brunswick, Canada, donated the forty-foot balsam fir to the children of Boston. That tree and forty others on the Boston Common were lighted during the ceremony.

NEW HEALTH DATA

Health Centers, Hospitals, City and State Forge New Alliance

Mayor Thomas M. Menino, city and state health officials, and the leaders of Boston's community health centers and teaching hospitals have released neighborhood specific health status reports on every Boston neighborhood. The reports are a new and vital resource for Boston's neighborhoods. They are being published just as a alliance in health services emerges that includes health centers, teaching hospitals, city and state health services.

and analysis for health status indicators has been available in such detail for the city's 16 geographic communities. Also, it's the first time in nearly 30 years that health care providers have collaborated so extensively on Boston's neighborhood health issues. Over the next ten weeks, community meetings will take place for every neighborhood of the city, providing residents with the opportunity to share in this information.

"These reports mark a new era of commitment by the health centers, hospitals, and city and state agencies to improve the health and well-being of every Boston resident and the city overall," said Mayor Menino. "For every neighborhood, the Neighborhood Health Status Reports provide a detailed review of community health and will play a key role in our future health efforts. All of us are working together and our common goal is to use these reports in every neighborhood to increase the effectiveness of health services. We will also plan new joint efforts."

Elaine Ullian, president of Boston University Medical Center Hospital, said, "We commend the Mayor for

MENORAH LIGHTING ON BOSTON COMMON

Mayor Thomas M. Menino joined families recently for the lighting of the menorah on the Boston Common. The first candle was lit Sunday, November 27. Joining the Mayor onstage for the lighting were children from Chabad House of Greater Boston and Rabbi Chaim Prus.

his initiative in bringing together the Department of Health and Hospitals, state Department of Public Health, Boston's community health centers and the teaching hospitals to collectively review and address the health status problems at the neighborhood level. The Boston teaching hospitals are committed to this alliance and to working collaboratively with this alliance to address the issues raised by these health status assessment reports." Elaine Ullian is also vice-chair of the Conference of Boston's Teaching Hospitals.

The city's Department of Health and Hospitals has invested several years of research and resources, including the development of new computer software, to produce the Boston Neighborhood Health Status Reports. Extensive neighborhood and census tract data have been incorporated into user-friendly presentations which will be invaluable resources for community-based health and social service providers. The reports include data on birth outcomes, types of illnesses, causes of death, social and economic conditions including income, education, employment, household status and other community demographics, geographic boundaries and community characteristics.

"These reports are the first step in a process to identify, understand and plan for every neighborhood's health care needs," said Ann Maguire, Boston's Chief of Health and Human Services. "Using these reports as a starting point, we will begin this month to meet with residents and community providers in every neighborhood. In addition to recognizing existing resources, we will also address specific needs or gaps in services, particularly for newly identified health concerns."

"In the neighborhood health forums to come, we will be able to combine the information contained in these health reports with the real life experience of the residents of the city," said Massachusetts Public Health Commissioner David Mulligan. "Our efforts to better address the health needs of the neighborhoods of Boston takes a giant leap forward with the coming together of the state and the city, and the health centers and the teaching hospitals of the city. It is our hope that this new perspective and continued cooperation will make Boston a healthier place to live."

"It is fitting that Boston enter 1995 with a renewed commitment to alliances and information exchange that will support both our institutions and our citizens," states James W. Hunt, Jr., executive director of the Massachusetts League of Community Health Centers. "Thirty years ago, this very city was home to the first community health center site, the Geiger-Gibson Community Health Center in Columbia Point. And while we may recall that health status information was gathered then that supported the generation of neighborhood-based centers, the data was not nearly as extensive or important to our work as it is today."

Alonzo Plough, Ph.D., director of public health services at DH&H, said "the data in these reports is critical to receive funding from federal agencies and private foundations as well. Using 1990 census data and 1991 health statistics, we've set up a model that will allow for constant updating and precision information. For instance, 1992 health data will be available for policy makers within one month on a call-in basis. And now that the program is established, we plan to update the reports every two years."

"Having access to data like this," said Edward Grimes, co-chair of the Boston Conference of Community Health Centers, "which clearly show that there continues to be huge gaps in our health care delivery system helps community health centers make the argument that resources in the neighborhoods of this city continue to fall short of need."

Starting July 1st, recycling collection is EVERY WEEK.

EXPANDED RECYCLING PROGRAM

The new recycling program lets you include MAGAZINES, CARDBOARD and BROWN PAPER BAGS. So, now you can put out almost twice as much.

IT'S JUST AS EASY AS EVER

Here's how: save your newspapers, brown bags, corrugated "waffled" cardboard (no cereal or tissue boxes) and magazines in a brown paper bag or tied up with twine. Then put it out, on garbage day, next to your trash, by 7:00am.

Exceptions: If your area has 2 trash pick-up days, you should recycle on the first day, if you have three garbage days, recycle on the middle pick-up day.

BIG BROTHER TELLS LITTLE BROTHER TO STAY OFF STREETS AND FOLLOW HIS DREAMS

By Tony Ferullo

Today, growing up on the streets of Boston, many teenage boys get caught up in the fast lane. They quickly get involved with drugs and violence, all too often resulting in the tragic end to a life just beginning.

With no father living at home and no older brothers to look up to, plus the pressure of caring for his physically challenged mother, Perry Learning could have easily taken a turn down the wrong road.

Instead, this bright and mature 13-year-old walked away from the streets and into the Big Brother Association of Greater Boston, an agency supported by the United Way of Massachusetts Bay.

Once there, Learning was introduced to David Coyne, 27, a thoughtful and enthusiastic individual who has provided Perry with male guidance and friendship for the past year. During that time, Coyne has discovered a way to make a difference, while Learning has found someone he can trust and spend time with.

Both of them are extremely happy, a shining example of the perfect Big Brother/Little Brother match.

"If two people were meant for each other, it's David and Perry," said Penny Harding, a caseworker at the Big Brother Association of Greater Boston. "They get along so well in whatever they do."

When they get together, Coyne, who lives in Brighton, and Learning, who is from South Boston, enjoy various activities including rollerblading, visiting museums and going to the movies. Coyne feels it's important to share new experiences with Learning, and encourages his Little Brother to follow his dreams.

"Perry is a very inquisitive kid," said Coyne, a graduate of Cornell University and an account manager at the Hynes Sales Company in Braintree. "I'm always telling him that it's a big world out there and that he can have whatever part he wants — as long as he's willing to work hard at it."

The Big Brother Association of Greater Boston is one of more than 200 health and human-care agencies

BLOOD DONOR CENTER THANKS CORPORATE SPONSORS

The following Boston corporations are involved with the support and promotion of Boston City Hospital Blood Donor Program. They are Coffee Connection, 6 Dry Dock Avenue, Boston; Dunkin' Donuts, Broadway, South Boston; Bruegger's Bagel, Symphony Hall location, Boston; McDonald's, Tremont Street, Boston.

These corporate donations were used during our "Open House" for thanking our whole blood donor population that is growing and improving with the new donor room and staff. These local businesses showed great community and social awareness toward the importance of donating whole blood and the positive influence it has on City Hospital patients who are in serious need for blood products and rely on the community donor for a chance at life.

If you have any questions about this program, please call Stacie Ver at 534-4236.

supported by the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. These agencies provide a wide range of services to more than 1.7 million people in 81 cities and towns in eastern Massachusetts.

This year, the Big Brother Association of Greater Boston will serve approximately 450 Little Brothers. However, nearly 600 other boys are on a waiting list for as long as two years. Learning considers himself lucky to have Coyne as his Big Brother and role model.

"David is always there for me," said Learning. "He's a real friend, someone I can call and talk with about anything. He's taught me a lot, like how to treat people with respect and not to hang out on the streets. I listen to him because I know he really cares about me."
